GIVEN UP TO DIE.

Was Mr. E. N. Stowell, but Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 8.—When an eminent physician notifies a sick man that his case is hopeless and that he must die, it must be taken for granted, in a pretty bad way.

That was the position of Mr. Ed. N. Stowell, of this city, not long ago. He had suffered all the agonies of Bright's Disease for several years. The ablest physicians had pronounced his case hopeless, and he had begun to "set his house in order," when a friend urged him to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box put new life in him, seven boxes cured him. Now his friends hardly know him for the same man.

Score one more for Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The man with the most profitable pull is he who has a corner on the "dusky diamonds" that people have to burn.

Brother Dickey's Philosophy.

If you wants ter make a man satisfied wid dis worl, des tell 'im dat his time's up en he gwine ter de next. Dey tells us dat in a few years de worl gwine ter dry up; but of some er dese folks what talkin so would dry up de worl would run smoother. I is a great believer in furrin missions, but hit don't do me no good ter see a heathen in a beaver hat en a fur overcoat whilst I profieklin roun in a hick'ry stripe shirt. Some folks want all de gold dat you kin dig fer um; but we'n hit come ter diggin it deysay, dey gits a certificate fum de doctor sayin what dey needs is tes'.

A Satisfaction.

"What are you going to do for amusement today?" "I think," answered the hero, "that I'll go to a dime museum and see the armless phenomenon." "I didn't know you were interested in curiosities of that kind." "I wasn't formerly, but it will be a great satisfaction to meet somebody who I'm dead sure isn't going to shake hands with me."

Thoroughly Equipped.

Lady—You have not been out to service yet, therefore you have no character.

Applicant—No, mum; but I've got three school board certificates.

Lady—Ah, well, that is something. Are they for honesty, cleanliness or—

Applicant—No, please, mum, for literature, geography and free-hand drawing. —Tip-Bits.

A Poet's Melancholy.

Once upon a time a poet, through unfortunate speculations upon the bourse, became exceedingly prosperous and, his head being turned, ate three meals per day right along thereafter.

In consequence he grew in girth until he could not see his lower extremities.

"Alas!" he observed one day to his entourage, "what were sadder than a poet who cannot scan his own feet?"

It would seem indeed that he had already ceased to be a poet and was fast sinking into the mere humorist.—Detroit Journal.

At the Minstrels.

Tambo—Why is Oom Paul like an out of date gun?

Bones—Because the British can't fire him.

Tambo—No.

Bones—Because they didn't know he was loaded.

Tambo—Not right yet.

Bones—Give it up, then. What's the answer?

Tambo—Because he is a smooth Boer. Terrific crash on the bass drum.—Baltimore American.

Poetry and Groceries.

He lives in north Georgia, and he writes poetry, and in a letter inclosing a poem he says:

"I want to sell you this poem. I'm going to keep on writing poems until I get money enough to start a grocery store."

Well, a first class grocery is all a poetical establishment needs to keep it running.—Atlanta Constitution.

Between Friends.

"Yes," said the girl who had just received a legacy, "he has asked me to marry him."

"Dear me!" replied her dearest friend. "Is he so much in need of money as all that?"—Chicago Post.

Distress In Essentials.

"Diamonds have gone up since the South African war opened."

"Goodness! Are they any higher than coal?"—Detroit Free Press.

A Decorative Paradox.

"General White can't expect the Victoria cross."

"No; he's got her cross already."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Third Day Out.

"You ought to be over it by this time," said the seasoned traveler, trying to persuade his friend to come to the table, "and your stomach should be as tough as oak."

"But it isn't," responded the land-lubber, with a feeble effort to smile. "It's sick o' more."—Chicago Tribune.

Meets Them Everywhere.

Tired Treadwell—Dis is a werry small world, after all.

Sauntering Sam—Wot makes you t'ink so?

Tired Treadwell—Hardly a day goes by but what I meet somebody I've panned in some other state.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Welcome Change.

Mrs. Henpeck—I don't see how you could marry again if I should die, for before we were married you used to say there was not another woman in the world like me.

Henpeck—That is just what might induce me to take another wife.—Life.

A Victim of Piles

For 20 Years—A Constant Sufferer From Bleeding and Protruding Piles—Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

In vain did Mrs. Jas. Brown, of Hintonburgh, near Ottawa, search for a cure for piles. In Europe and America she tried every remedy available, but it remained for Dr. Chase's Ointment to effect a cure.

Mrs. Brown writes:—"I have been a constant sufferer from nearly every form of piles for the last twenty years, and during that time both here and in the Old Country have tried most every remedy."

"I am only doing justice to Dr. Chase's Ointment when I say that I believe it to be the best remedy obtainable for bleeding and protruding piles. I strongly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to mothers, or indeed to any person suffering from that dread torment—piles."

Physicians and druggists recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as the one preparation that will never fail to cure piles. It is guaranteed to positively cure piles, whether itching, bleeding, or protruding. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.
