SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. Laurier in a Tight Place.

He Has No Answer to Sir Hibbert's Questions.

OTTAWA, May 29.—When the House of Commons went into committee yesterday afternoon Hon. Mr. Foster again pointed out that the mode of operating the preferential tariff had not been explained. It was, he said, a novel proposition that the Government should raise or lower duties by order-in-Council. But if the Liberals proposed that, they were compelled to tell Parliament on what basis it was to be decided. What countries would be entitled to preference? It was proposed to let in all countries whose tariff averages lower than our preferential clause, it would admit the manufacturers of nearly all the manufacturing countries in the world, and if so the proposition was fatal to many Canadian industries. If not the Ministers ought to say so. The Government was asking for power not sought or enjoyed by the Imperial Government or any other responsible Minister.

Mr. Laurier, replying, said that when the Government prepared the sixteen clause they overlooked the whole world, and found that the only country which could qualify under the section was Great Britain. The Premier did not explain the process by which that conclusion was reached or the method by which another conclusion might be reached if a case arose respecting some other country.

Sir Hibbert Tupper pointed out that Mr. Laurier had admitted that new South Wales might come in. This showed that the Ministerial survey of the universe had been incomplete.

He asked Mr. Laurier what was the average rate of duty in New South Wales now.

He got not an answer. He then asked whether Mr. Laurier could tell what was the average under the present condition of the tariff.

There was still no answer. Nor could Sir Charles get the statement of whether the comparison of tariffs was made on the basis of an average tariff or did the words "on the whole" contemplate some other basis.

The Government has taken over Monday for Ministerial business. This leaves no private members day, except Monday week which is reserved.

FAST ATLANTIC SERVICE.

Twenty-one Knot Boats to be put on.

OTTAWA, May 29.—A copy of the Fast Atlantic Steamship contract, laid on the table yesterday, provides for a fortnightly service, after May 31st 1899, and weekly after May, 1900, of twenty-one knot boats. The eastern terminus port is Liverpool; the western terminus ports in summer are to be Quebec and Montreal and in winter Halifax or St. John at the option of the contractors, such option to be declared before the date of the commencement of the service.

A HANDSOME Dining Room

Where the walls and ceiling are made dainty and attractive by our unique designs and rich and beautiful coloring in wall papers, is an incentive to a failing appetite. At no time of the year does your room need a new dress as much as when Spring comes out in her new garb and shames the dingy room where Winter has left its impress in smoke and dust. Look at our new and lovely stock of wall papers.

LATEST NEWS BY WIRE AND MAIL.

LONDON, May 28.—The Queen has consented to review 10,000 children attending board and non-board schools in London on June 23. The proposal that Her Majesty should thus recognize the great work of elementary education now being carried on in London originated with the Prince of Wales.

TORONTO, May 27.—Mail and Empire's Winnipeg special says: "Some of the discharged Northwest civil servants have laid their cases before the Governor-General and His Excellency has promised to see Mr. Laurier. It is thought that the quillotine has been removed from the Northwest for the time being."

WINNIPEG, May 28.—The remnant of a large party of Galicians who reached here refused to go to work, even when it was offered by farmers. They are loafing in the government shed at government expense, and apparently satisfied. Commissioner McCreary would not tolerate it longer and turned them out. These are the people in connection with whom the government has notified the steamship line that the company may be requested to carry them back to Europe.

WINNIPEG, May 28.—Immigration Commissioner McCreary is in receipt of a copy of a letter sent by the Department of the Interior to the Manager of the Hansa steamship line, calling attention to the fact that in a party of Galicians which arrived in Canada recently and was sent to Manitoba and the Northwest, there are a number of persons who are miserably poor and who have become charges of the Government. They refuse to accept such employment as the Immigration Commissioner offers them, and what to do with them has now become a perplexing question. The management of the steamship company is informed that it may be called upon to carry these people back to where they came from. All Galicians who arrive in future will be examined before being allowed to land, and unless they have some means and experience they will be sent back again.

LONDON, May 28.—Subscriptions to the fund for the endowment in perpetuity of one bed in each of five leading London Hospitals, which fund was started by Americans residing in England as a memorial of the Queen's Jubilee, are coming in slowly and without much eclat. The largest subscription received thus far is from Mrs. John W. McKay, who has given $500. William Waldorf Astor has subscribed $100, and several ladies have given from $25 to $50 each. Some who have been asked to put their names on the lists have declined. Among these is the Duchess of Marlborough, nee Vanderbilt, who pleads as her reason for not subscribing that she is no longer an American.

LONDON, May 28.—Details have been received from Odessa of the self-immolation of a number of the fanatical followers of Raskolniki, a report of which was first got two weeks ago. More than twenty four bodies of persons who were buried alive have been recovered from a series of pits near Tiresopol. The sect is a survival of the old dissenters who were persecuted in Russia for two centuries. Their treatment was worse under Empress Sophia, when thousands of men were knouted by the state. The result was that they became fiercely fanatical and invented a doctrine of salvation by martyrdom. They are now practicing self-immolation. Six bodies were accidentally discovered on the premises of Foodore Kevaleff, who confessed that he had walked up in his cellar nine living persons, including his wife and two young children. He further admitted that he had buried the other six while they were still alive in a specially excavated pit eight feet deep. Kovaloff declares that all these were voluntary victims. In an adjoining garden, belonging to Matvel Sukuia, four bodies were discovered in a pit. Sukuia says that these were buried alive at their own request. A large number of persons, including many foreigners, among whom is an American tourist party, are visiting the scene.

JUNE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

The June Ladies' Home Journal presents an infinite variety of strikingly interesting, timely and practical features. It opens with an article by William George Jordan on "What Victoria Has Seen," which graphically recounts the progress of the world in the past sixty years, since the coronation of the English Sovereign. Coming on the eve of the Queen's Jubilee it is especially timely. The establishment of Methodism in America is told in an interesting article, by Rev. W. J. Scott, D. D., on "When John Wesley Preached in Georgia." It narrates Wesley's great work, his forceful preaching, describes the first Methodist sermon in America, which was delivered by Wesley, and his Sunday-School, which was the first in the world. "Uncle Sam's Confessional" describes how the money paid into the Conscience Fund of the United States Treasury is received, and how its guilty senders carefully avoid revealing their identity.

Edward W. Bok makes an appeal that the poor children of the cities be given an outing in the country during a part of the summer. He vigorously denounces "The Offense of the Colored Shirt"; also discusses the "Itch to be Seen." Lovers of fiction will read with delight Ella Higginson's short story, "One of Them Still, Stubborn Kinds," and Alice S. Wolf's romance, "Her After-Fame." Charles Dana Gibbon's drawing—"The People of Dickens"—most interestingly pictures Mr. and Mrs. Micawber, David Copperfield and Traddles, and a page of Mr. Woolf's waifs gives a most touching insight into what summer means to the children of the poor in cities. A song, "Wake Up! Cupid," by William Spencer, author of "The Princess-Romance," "The Little Tycoon," etc., will be welcomed by every lover of music. Dwight L. Moody's contribution to his series of Bible Class articles discusses "Hope" in the Evangelist's characteristic, lucid manner, and "Droch" chants of "Humor and the Humorists."

Along the more practical lines are Mrs. S. T. Rorer's "Cooking Lessons" on vegetables and their preparation; "A Simple Way to Swim"; "Lamp-Shades for Summer Cottages"; "The City Woman's Garden"; "For Wear in Summer Travel"; "What to Expect from a Young Man," by Ruth Ashmore, articles on dress, needlework, etc. The June Journal is attractive, interesting and instructive from cover to cover. By the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. Ten cents per copy; one dollar per year.
