Saint John Is Making Move To Attract More Industry

By GREG MacDONALD
Caadian Press Staff Writer

The best way to sell yourself is to meet your customer face-to-face, says George T. Urquhart chairman, Saint John, N.B. Port and Industrial Development Commission.

And that is exactly what a 10-man delegation from the Maritime city did in Toronto Tuesday.

Armed with statistics, photographs and promises of tax considerations, the delegation met with more than 300 businessmen —representing a cross section of Canadian industry — in an attempt to attract more industry to Saint John.

"It's no use trying to create an image over the telephone or by form letters. We decided to come to Toronto and meet people face-to-face," said Mr. Urquhart

"Saint John is in a position to ship to all parts of the world and with manufacturing taking place close to the port, industries can compete better abroad.

TRYING FOR HUB

"With the opening of the European Common Market and our ready access to the markets of the New England states, South Amtrica and the Caribbean, we are striving to become the hub of North America."

Mr. Urquhart said that if products for export are manufactured in Ontario they must be shipped to one port or another and then across the sea.

"If these products are made in Saint John, then the expensive cost of shipping from Ontario is saved."

H. Herlof Smith, executive director of the commission, said the city is mainly trying to attract light industry "but we would like to see it used."

Mr. Urquhart said he and Mr. Smith will visit England and Scotland later this month in an Saint John.

NEED SPACE

He said that there were more than 1,000 industries in Birmingham, England, which are "crying for bearthing space. We hope to get some of them to locate in our area.

"The provincial government has a plan to help finance foreign industry in New Brunswick and already we hope to have an Italian paper company build a mill in the province that will cost about $50,000,000."

Mr. Urquhart said Saint John "nearly 5,500,000 tons of cargo move through the Saint John port. The harbor, open year-round, is a well equipped ocean terminus which has less delay, less damage and less breakage than any other Canadian port and which can handle giant oil tankers and ocean freighters."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

TEST YOUR PLAY

You are West, defending against Four Spades, and this is what you see after leading the king of hearts:

♠ A K 10
♥ 10 6 3
♦ K 7
♣ Q J 8 6 2

♥ K Q 9 7 4
♦ A J 8 3
♣ A 7 5

N W E S

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Dble	Redble	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

South wins the king with the ace. East playing the five, and cashes the A-K-10 of spades. East playing the 4-2-6. Dummy then plays the two of clubs. East the four and declarer the king. How would you defend the hand?

Answer. You really have to put your thinking cap on for this one. The first thing to decide is whether to take the club, but before you can make an intelligent decision on this score, you must have a rough idea of what the declarer's hand might be that would allow the contract to be defeated.

Naturally, you dismiss from your mind any hand that makes four spades impregnable. You can't afford to acknowledge defeat before you start: So all your thinking at this point is devoted to constructing a hand South can have that lends itself to defeat.

You know, both from the bidding and East's high-low in trumps (showing three of them), that South started with exactly six trumps. He therefore has ten tricks in sight if you take the ace of clubs — provided he is given time to cash them. They would consist of six spades, two clubs, a heart and a diamond.

However, it may be that your side can grab four tricks before declarer takes ten if the cards are favorably divided for you. They would necessarily consist of two hearts, a diamond and a club —and that is the only practical layout you can hope for to beat the contract.

Taking two heart tricks is possible in only one case, namely, when your partner started with specifically the J - 5 of hearts. Since this possibility is virtually the only one that offers a chance, you should play on that basis.

Win the king of clubs with the ace and lead back a low heart. If the situation is as you hope, this play will defeat the hand. East wins with the jack and returns a diamond to your ace. You then cash the queen of hearts for the setting trick.

In the actual case, declarer had:

and was defeated by the low heart return.

U.S. Group Supports Strong Stand On Cuba

WASHINGTON (CP) — Two Senate committees have warned the world that the United States will use force if necessary to halt the spread of Communism from Cuba to other parts of the hemisphere.

The Senate foreign relations and armed services committees unanimously approved a joint resolution stating U.S. determination:

To prevent by whatever means may be necessary, including the use of arms, the Marxist - Leninist regime in Cuba from extending by force or threat of force its aggressive or subversive activities to any part of this hemisphere."

Key members of the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee were in consultation with the Senate groups in hammering out the final language, their committee was working on a similar resolution.

The statement of policy, expected to be approved by both houses of Congress today and sent to President Kennedy for his signature, also states U.S. determination to:

1. Prevent in Cuba the creation or use of an externally supported military capability endangering the security of the United States.

SUPPORTS OAS

2. Work with the Organization of American States and with freedom-loving Cubans to support the aspirations of the Cuban people for self-determination."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
