

What the Fingers Testify.

White hands and rosy palms, so beloved of our grandmothers, have gone out of fashion.

The American hand is smaller than the English hand, but the nails are not so handsome.

It is said that people with imagination are apt to have long, taper fingers and beautiful finger nails.

The good natured critic is said to possess small well shaped nails, and their handwriting is somewhat angular.

The American nail suffers from the dryness of our climate, as a foreign printess painted on panel suffers from the same cause.

Diplomacy has a long, supple hand and a beautifully kept finger nail. The handwriting of a diplomatist looks like a snake crawling away.

An aptitude for criticism is shown among people who bite their nails. These people are cynical and severe, uncharitable and bitter; they write a small, cramped, illegible hand.

The Chinese have finger nails so long that they could write with them. The tenacity of the Chinese nail, which does not easily break, would indicate that they have more life in their bones than we have.

The English nails are almost universally rosy and shell-like, and, cut to a rounded, slightly tapering point, kept always scrupulously clean. The skin at the base is pushed back to show the onyx, a little white half moon.

The onyx of the fingers nails is carefully cultivated and polished by the Croiles of New Orleans to show that they have no black blood in their veins. No matter how fair the complexion the valuable sign of pure blood is wanted to the octocorn if the onyx is clouded.

A Homily on Advertising.

The first time a man looks at an advertisement he does not see it.

The second time he does not notice it.

The third time he is dimly conscious of it.

The fourth time he faintly remembers seeing something of the kind before.

The fifth time he half reads it.

The sixth time he turns up his nose at it.

The seventh time he throws the paper down impatiently.

The eighth time he ejaculates, "There's the confounded thing again!"

The ninth time he wonders if there's anything in it.

The tenth time he thinks it might possibly suit somebody else's case.

The eleventh time he thinks he will ask his neighbor if he has tried it, or knows anything about it.

The twelfth time he wonders if the advertiser can make it pay.

The thirteenth time he rather thinks it must be a good thing.

The fourteenth time he happens to think it is just what he wanted.

The fifteenth time he for a long time resolves to try it as soon as he can afford it.

The sixteenth time he examines the address carefully and makes a memorandum of it.

The seventeenth time he is tantalized to think he is hardly able to afford it.

The eighteenth time he sees painfully how much he is in need of that particular article.

The nineteenth time he counts his money to see how much he would have left if he bought it.

The twentieth time he rushes frantically forth and buys it.—[Exchange.]

THE MOST WONDERFUL FAMILY REMEDY EVER KNOWN.

CHARLOTTETOWN BOOT AND SHOE FACTORY.

WE must thank our friends and the public generally for their ever increasing patronage since we have commenced business.

Our Boot & Shoe Factory, in starting, had many difficulties to overcome, and we are glad that to-day those difficulties have been surmounted, and we are now well able to compete with the best Boot and Shoe Factories abroad.

Some of the advantages purchasers have in buying from us are, saving of freight, ordering goods when you want them (not six months before), getting them without delay—which saves carrying a large stock which deteriorates on the shelves.

Our leathers are bought directly from the tanneries, thereby saving commissions which many factories have to pay.

WE are more determined than ever to give the BEST OF SATISFACTION and to merit the whole of the Island's patronage.

WE hope to see many new industries arise, thereby increasing the prosperity of the "Gem of the Sea."
