SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.—The Orpheus Club concert at Summerside on Tuesday evening was very successful. Mr. A. C. MacMahon of Charlottetown, was the "bright particular star." His Shakespearian and comic impersonations were greatly appreciated.

REV. SAM SMALL.—This distingui hed temperance lecturer, writing to Mr. Theo L. Chappelle, says that he will be able to undertake a course of lectures on the Island in June next. Wherever he has spoken, the largest halls have been crowded. Arrangements are now being made to have two lectures in Charlottetown and one in Summerside, particulars of which will be announced later.

THE clothing man who has to resort to the contemptibly, mean trick of showing a boy's suit at $1, and making people believe it to be the same as our $1 suit, is hardly worthy of notice. When selling clothing we show our own goods, and don't trouble to show an inferior suit of our own and say it is the same as our neighbor's.—James Paton & Co., Market Square. ap5 3i

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—We learn from the Summerside Farmer that Mr. Jabez Pridham, of Clarke Mills, met with a very painful accident at Mr. Robertson's mills last Friday. He had hauled a load of logs to the mill and after unloading he drove the horse where some logs had rolled down near the sleigh track. While standing alongside the sleigh the horse started and jammed Mr. Pridham's left leg against a log. The result was that both bones of this leg were broken near the ankle. Dr. McNeill, of Kensington set the injured limb.

ST. PAUL'S MISSION.—The services in connection with the mission of St. Paul's Church are increasing in interest. Last evening the body of the Church was crowded and everyone seemed to give wrapped attention to the important truths so earnestly and impressively enunciated by the preacher. The subject was "The New Birth," and with wonderful clearness Mr. DuVernet pointed out its necessity, its nature and its evidence, beseeching his hearers to make sure that they had passed into this new and spiritual life imited upon by Christ. An attractive feature of these services is their simplicity and the active absence of excitement in the method of conducting them. The missioner's arguments and appeals are made with a calm, straightforward incisiveness, which must challenge for them the attention of thinking men.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.—His Honor the Lieutenant Governor entertained a number of guests at dinner on Tuesday evening. The following gentlemen were invited;

The Hon B D McLellan, Speaker, H A
The Attorney General

MARRIAGE BELLS.—The marriage of John M. Campbell, one of the best known and most popular officials in the city Post Office, and Constance Lydia, daughter of the late Donald Currie, Esq., for many years Collector of Customs at this port, was quietly solemnized at the residence of the bride's mother, Prince Street, last evening. The Rev. David Sutherland, pastor of Zion Church, officiated, Mr. Robert J. Campbell acted as groomsman, and Miss Florrie Currie as bridesmaid. The bride was the recipient of many very valuable presents. Messrs. Jas. Paton & Co. evidenced their ability and willingness to appreciate the merit of their employees by presenting her with a beautiful and valuable silk dress, and their clerks testified their good will and good wishes by adding to the large list a handsome and costly silver fruit dish. THE EXAMINER joins in congratulations.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Edgar's Charges Against Caron

OTTAWA, April 7.

Shortly after opening session yesterday Edgar moved his resolution making charges against Caron.

Sir Adolphe Caron, in reply thereto, said: "I take the first opportunity to state that in every particular the charges made by the hon. gentleman are false. I may say that unsolicited and without asking for them, I have received telegrams from the managers of both companies mentioned in the charges, declaring that the charge of my having received moneys from them is absolutely false. At that part of the proceedings I consider that the emphatic denial that I have given all these charges is all I need say at present." (Cheers.)

Sir John Thompson said there was a popular belief in the country that the member in making charges against another member laid himself open to serious consequences and even risk of losing his seat. That was not so. It was a misapprehension of facts that a member in preferring such charges may subject himself to censure of House, but in so far as his seat is concerned he can do so with impunity. This much he said to show how far the House should accede to the proposition of Edgar. Either branches of Legislature had the right to enquire into how certain votes for subsidies had been administered. There was not an allegation in these charges that any money had been misappropriated or maladministered In the second place established precedent says that he must have done so as a member of the House and the House would notice that there was distinction between such charges and the one preferred by Edgar. The conduct and private character of members of the House was not a subject for house investigating. In regard to the administration of public moneys Parliament was not the proper tribunal for such enquiry. Courts were the proper places to have such matters investigated. Two general elections, covering a period of nine years, and the conduct of these elections in some twenty constituencies, were matters which the charges proposed to deal with. While the Government was ready to meet any well defined charges it could not accept such propositions, and, therefore, he would ask the House to reject the motion.

Mr. Laurier charged the Minister of Justice with handling the matter in a quibbling and pettifogging way which was not creditable to him.

Hon. C. H. Tupper held that the position taken by the Minister of Justice was in the interests of members on both sides. If the members believed there was public theiving let the members put them in the charge and a committee be granted at once.

Mr. Mills held that question was one which Parliament should enquire into.

Messrs. Ouimet, O'Brien and Cartwright also spoke. As the Opposition refused to take the matter up, it will not come up again till next week Caron left the House after giving the accusations his denial.
