Let's Talk It Over
The way Summerside business men are responding to the call for generous donations to the Prince County Hospital Completion Fund, makes it seem highly probable that the "special names" phase of the campaign will be an unqualified success.

ORAL ARTIST — Earl Bailly, 46, of Lunenburg, N.S., is a successful artist, even though his arms have been paralyzed since childhood. Holding the brush in his teeth, Bailly, above, puts the finishing touches on a canvas of a Nova Scotian landscape, one of three which have been purchased by a greeting card company in the United States.

Outstanding Concert West Devon School At Alberton
A variety concert of outstanding merit was presented at Alberton hall Thursday evening when some of the best local talent was assisted by Rev. L. M. Murray, a portion of his Junior choir from Kensington. Under the auspices of the United Church Ladies Aid, the program was arranged by Mrs. Herbert Matthews, Mrs. George Ramsay and Miss Mabel Fielding.

CATCHES RAIDER
TIMMINS, Ont. —(CP)— Rene Leduc, Mountjoy Township farmer, thought it was a bear that had been bothering his livestock. But during a search he was confronted with a mean and powerful lynx. He dropped the animal with the second shot from his rifle.

ICELANDIC GIFT
WINNIPEG —(CP)— About 4,000 volumes of Icelandic periodicals and papers have been presented to the University of Manitoba by Rev. Einar Sturlaugsson of Iceland, who spent 17 years of his spare time rounding them up.
