OBITUARY

JAMES PARSONS

Inserted by the family. The community of North River and friends were saddened when they learned that James Parsons had passed away at the Prince Edward Island Hospital in the early hours of February 1st. He entered the hospital for an operation, and for awhile it seemed he would recover. But despite all that skill and tender nursing could do, he passed to the great beyond. He will be greatly missed. His cheerful disposition won him many friends. The late Mr. Parsons was born in Millvale on January 3rd, 1884, son of John Parsons and Caroline Paynter.

Mr. Parsons was united in marriage to Cora Easter, who died five years ago. This union was blessed with two sons and a daughter. Ray in Ontario, Eldon, North River where he resided. Velma predeceased him in 1931. Also two sisters and one brother, Jamima, Mrs. James Walker, Cherry Hill, Lucy, Mrs. Lester Chappell, Kensington, and Irving, Winslow.

The funeral was held from the MacLean Funeral Home on February 3rd and was largely attended. Service was conducted by Rev. Donald Campbell and Rev. T.W. Howard. The beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which he was held. The remains were laid to rest in South Granville Cemetery beside his wife and daughter. Pallbearers were: Franklin Sanderson, Lorne Walker, Walter Parsons, Alvin Parsons, Earl Younce and Cecil Parsons.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late James Parsons extend sincere thanks to the nurses and staff of the P.E.I. Hospital, Dr. Ellis and Dr. Cox. Also to the many who sent flowers, cards and letters of sympathy, and all who helped in any way during their father's illness.

BRISTOL

Louis Condon, of the Condon Wollen Mills in the city informs us the mills have not closed for the season as reported. Some of the staff were laid off in the slack season but the mills kept rolling and are open for business all year.

John O'Neill, who was released from the Charlottetown Hospital recently has re-entered the same hospital again following a short stay with relatives in the city.

Arthur Bland, that old veteran of the trout streams, was in the city the other day looking for some new fishing tackle for the opening day.

It is reported that Gerald Barry, long time foreman around the packing plants, has retired from the business owing to poor health. Gerry, as he is so well known, will be missed around the shore by his many friends and especially those who worked under him for so many years.

Mrs. Bella Gauthier, who has spent the winter months with members of her family in Toronto and New York City, on what she calls her first holiday in a life-time is expected home next week. A son Johnny, who made the trip with his mother, has not decided whether he will remain there or come home. Another son, Anneas, will bring his mother back and it will be his first trip home in many years to Bristol.

Many people are complaining about the condition of some of the roads at present; even the highway to the City is not good enough to get there in a hurry. Mrs. James A. O'Brien, who is a resident of Sacred Heart Home now and whose old Bristol home still stands here, tells us when her late sisters went to Boston to work at the age of 16, their father took them to Charlottetown in a two wheel cart partly filled with straw on a trip that took most of the day at a walk speed through the woods. There were no cars and no trains, and the girls left Charlottetown the following morning by steamer. The fare to Boston was five dollars then and believe it or not there were no streets and the only route was by steamer. Mrs. O'Brien also visited Boston in those days but came back to Bristol to reside.

William MacDonald, another oldtimer, says he recalls the day when the late Father Lamyre made his rounds of his district on foot to visit the sick.

EAST BALTIC

Mrs. Horace MacDonald, Mrs. George Bruce, Mrs. Floyd MacLean, Kingsboro, Mrs. Walter Dixon, Mrs. Edgar Dixon, East Baltic, Mrs. Ross Young, Mrs. Major Young, Red Point, Mrs. Winston Fudge, Mrs. Don Osborne and Mrs. Stewart MacAulay, Souris, were among the ones that attended the Prince Edward Island Council Girl Guides and Brownies of Canada at the annual meeting in the convention hall Basilica Recreation Centre, Charlottetown.

Mrs. Martin Birt, Souris, is in St. John's, Newfoundland. Mrs. Birt was called there due to the death of her father.

Mrs. Floyd MacLean, Kingsboro, visited with her brother, Alex MacLeod, Ugg, who recently underwent surgery in the P.E.I. Hospital, Charlottetown.
