Kings, East Queens Students Get Holiday After Snowfall

Students attending regional high schools in Kings County and East Queens had a holiday yesterday. Classes were cancelled following a weekend snowfall and high winds. Other sections of the province experienced snow and freezing rain which made travelling conditions hazardous.

Plows were out early this morning in the eastern area opening highways and roads to traffic. Classes were suspended in the Montague, Souris, Morell and St. Peters areas.

Sunny skies and rising temperatures this morning were causing slush and flooding in sections where drifting had been heavy.

In the Charlottetown area up to five inches of snow was recorded with more accumulating in Kings County. A check at the 'me' Centre at Summerside revealed a 1.3 inch snowfall in Prince County.
