WANTED.—Three young men to officiate as ushers in seating the spectators at the Carnivalistic Ball on Thursday evening. Apply to Prof. Danielle, at the Rankin House, at noon to-morrow.

POLICE INSPECTION.—The Police force was this morning privately inspected by the Stipendiary Magistrate. They all appeared in their new outfit and—particularly the chief—looked remarkably well.

SPECTATORS TICKETS for the grand Carnival Ball can be procured at Dr. Dodd's store, where a plan of reserved seats can be seen. As the space for spectators will necessarily be limited, secure your tickets at once or you will miss this grand demonstration.—4i

MORE VANDALISM.—On Saturday night the Saloon of Mrs. Pettigrew, on Pownall Street, was attacked by a crowd of ruffians, and a quantity of glass was broken. Warrants have been issued for the parties implicated.

CHARLOTTETOWN DEBATING CLUB.—Subject for next Tuesday evening: "Is the policy of the Local Government, as expressed in the Statutes enacted last session, such as should merit the approval of the country?"

DR. TUPPER arrived in Newcastle, N. B., on the 30th. A telegram to the Moncton Times says: "Dr. Tupper looks well and is in first-rate spirits. He considers the Quebec East election anything but a victory for the Government. He is at present in St. John.

MAGDALEN ISLANDS.—The steamer Albert with a supplementary mail from Pictou, via Georgetown, P. E. I., arrived at Magdalen Islands on Nov. 29th and returns Nov. 30. We had a fortnight of delightful weather there, with warm south and west winds. All our vessels have returned from Halifax with cargoes of general merchandise. No wrecks are reported on any of the Islands to date.

ON Sunday evening Mr. P. R. Bowers, as Secretary of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union, waited upon the Young Men's Society of St. Joseph. He made a short speech, showing the members the advantage that would be derived from their affiliating with the Catholic Total Abstinence Union; and requested them to do so. The matter is now under the consideration of the Society, and will be decided upon at its next monthly meeting.

HON JOSEPH POPE, Commissioner of Public Lands, and staff are now in Alberton, attending to the duties of their office. They were at Tignish Wednesday and Thursday, where they passed a pretty busy time. They remain here during the rest of the week. We are pleased to see Mr. MacKinlay, formerly proprietor of the Alberton Drug Store, among them, hale and hearty.—Pioneer.

Special Dispatch to Daily Examiner:

MONTREAL, Dec. 1. The flour market is very dull, and prices are unchanged.

There is an uneasy feeling in business circles, caused by the expectation of more failures in the hardware trade.

Williams, who murdered his wife when in the state of intoxication, was hanged in Toronto yesterday morning.

Irregularities have been discovered in connection with the Quebec election. The official declaration will not be made for some time.

WAR NEWS.

LONDON, Dec. 3. A general bombardment of Plevna has been re-commenced on Thursday.

The Turks seized two Italian vessels in the Bosphorus, although they had passed the blockade of the Black Sea. If they are not released Count Cotte will declare the blockade ineffectual.

It is said that the Porte offered to cede old Servia to Servia, and Epiras to Greece, if they remain neutral.

A great panic prevails at Sophia. The inhabitants are fleeing for fear the Russians will cut the roads between Sophia and Tartar.

MASZERNICK, Dec. 3.

Mehemet Pasha notifies the War Office that he could not attempt to relieve Plevna unless he is greatly reinforced.

Cherket Pasha is under arrest for not attempting to take Tellochi.

The Russians are raising works against the forts of Erzeroum, and are building barracks for the troops.

The Turks evacuated Polourker.

LONDON, Nov. 30.

The Times' Erzeroum correspondent in a letter dated November 9th, after the repulse of the Russian assault on the fort at Azzizie, says: "It is impossible that Erzeroum can hold out for any time. Our supplies are scanty and the garrison is small. The enemy possesses thrice as many battalions in front as we. When the road, which we heard they are making by way of Partat and Tzicawak over Devi Dagh range, is completed, they will be able to invest us entirely, which will prevent reinforcements or supplies reaching us from the outside. That accomplished, a steady bombardment will commence. I anticipate capture or capitulation of the town before this day month. On the other hand, the Daily Telegraph's Pera correspondent says: "A letter from Erzeroum, dated November 20th, states that reinforcements continue to arrive, and that Mukhtar Pasha is quite confident of his ability to hold Erzeroum."

VIENNA, Nov. 30.

The Political Correspondence's Belgrade special denies that there has been any conflict between the Turks and Servians at Vaatornitza.

BUCHAREST, Nov. 30.

Gen. Ignateff is expected here to-morrow. He is going to headquarters, his leave of absence having expired.

Grand Duke Alexis arrived here en route to the Russian headquarters.

GENERAL NEWS.

LONDON, Nov. 30.

The strike of the masons is breaking up. A resolution was adopted by the Executive Committee last night, which one of the meeting declared would terminate the strike in a fortnight.

A thousand cotten operatives at Mosley struck yesterday.

A large meeting of weavers at Burnley resolved that the true remedy for the present depression in trade is a reduction in the hours of labor, and that it would be better to strike than allow the masters to glut the market by reduced wages. A similar resolution has been adopted by the weavers at Harington.

It seems certain that the proposed reduction of wages, if persisted in, will create a general strike.

LONDON, Nov. 30.

R. Whittaker's cotton mill, one of the largest in Oldham, England, with 50,000 spindles, was burned on Thursday; loss $1,000,000. A large number of operatives have been thrown out of employment.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.

A collision on the Long Branch Railroad, last night, smashed two passenger cars badly. A man and a woman were injured by splinters, and several other passengers were severely bruised, while several railroad hands were badly hurt.

A screw steamer, with two masts, was seen on Wednesday evening drifting stern foremost to the southward of the Jersey coast, off Atlantic City.

The remains of young Knight who lately died, far away from his home, arrived here on Saturday night, and were despatched, by special train, to Sours yesterday.

EXAMINE the new Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing and Family Sewing Machines and you will purchase no other. Will work from gauze to harness work without making any change in the Machine (New No. 8, just out in 1876.) Please call at once at Mr. Chappelle's Bookstore. Prices reduced. Stipendiary Magistrate's Court.

Dec. 3.—Charles Gardner, drunk and lying at Rigg's Corner, was fined $3 or 14 days. Terence Boylan, drunk and staggering about Queen Street, was fined the same. Edward Loyd, vagrant, held in custody. John F. Connolly, 15 years of age, was fined $1 or 14 days for being drunk and disorderly on complaint of his father. Lauchlin Campbell, drunk and lying on a door-step on Saturday night, was fined $1 or four days. William Power, drunk and staggering about Pownall Street on Sunday evening, was fined $2 or eight days. Donald Matheson, little vagrant, was discharged. Richard McKay, for sticking a pitchfork into H. J. Cundall's dog, whilst engaged in a combat with his own, was excused with five cents and costs. John Gahan, for selling liquor in less quantities than one pint, case postponed until Wednesday.

Clippings From Late Papers.

The New York Times takes strong ground that the money ought not to be paid under the Fishery Award, unless Canada distinctly declares that she accepts the money in full of all demands; and that there to be no reserved rights.

A curious ceremony took place amongst the few Chinese in Toronto, on the 20th ult., when a monument was erected over the remains of Ah Lung, Esq., the first citizen of the Celestial Empire who died in Toronto. The ceremony consisted chiefly in some of the friends of the deceased eating and drinking over his grave, and leaving a portion of the feast for the dead man.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday last, as Mr. John Dalton, Lot 7, was driving to Alberton with a load of produce, the pole of the wagon became disengaged, and Mr. Dalton fell off the load, when the wagon passed over him. One arm was broken near the shoulder, and other severe injuries were sustained. Mr. Dalton was taken to Dr. Stuart's, under whose skillful treatment he will no doubt get all right again. The accident happened on the Dock Bridge, within a mile of this village.—Pioneer.

COTTON we have a better and sadder argument for a hospital, than the death of a stranger in our midst this week, who had laid for hours dying, yet uncared for, forsaken by all who knew him in strength, without money, and without friends. Alas! for the rarity of Christian charity.—Patriot. [The conclusion arrived at by the Patriot is undoubtedly correct. We are informed, however, that the Mayor, as soon as the sad case was brought to his notice, provided bedding, and had the unfortunate man cared for, while he lay in the Police Station. The man was not altogether "uncared for."—EDITOR EXAMINER.]

THE shipping season is about over, though the harbor continues open, and the weather is remarkably fine. Shippers of produce have been fortunate in having a fine open fall, and no danger of their vessels being frozen in. The supply of produce seems to have been in excess of the demand, as large quantities of oats remain in the warehouses, and the price of oats have fallen to 36 cents per bushel. The want of vessels in which to ship the grain, is the chief cause of this. There is still a limited demand for potatoes, pork and poultry.—Journal.
