LOYAL CRUSADERS—Meeting on Monday evening at 6.30.

SONG SERVICE at the Gospel Meeting in Prowse's New Block tomorrow afternoon at 3.45. Strangers always welcome.

S. O. T.—Victoria Division will meet on Monday evening in Wright's Hall. Initiations. Strangers welcome.

GOSPEL MEETING.—Remember the Gospel Meeting in Prowse's New Block, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Strangers always welcome. Lesson, James 1-27. "Pure religion."

WAR PICTURES.—"Glimpses of South Africa" which may be obtained at THE EXAMINER Office, form a splendid pictorial record of the war. Only a limited number are to be disposed of. See coupon in another column.

FOR THE SOLDIERS.—Two thousand girls employed in the thread mills of Messrs. Clark & Co., Paisley, Scotland, have agreed to knit socks for soldiers at the seat of war. The firm will supply the wool for one pair, but many of the girls will provide a second pair.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE NOTICE.—Messrs. Hyndman & Co. instruct us to say they are prepared to insure any or all risks now in the Charlottetown Mutual Fire Insurance Co. at rates lower than those charged by the "Mutual." Insurers will thus, at better rates, secure first class British Companies in the place of one without capital. —3 in.

BOOTS NOTES.—We are informed that the Alberry Plains Notes published in THE WEEKLY EXAMINER of February 2nd, are largely false. For instance the name of Mr. L. C. Hayden is used in connection with a debate on the war in South Africa, and he is represented as upholding the Boer end of the agreement. Mr. Hayden assures us that there is not a word of truth in the statement, and very naturally feels indignant at the use of his name in such connection. We regret exceedingly that THE EXAMINER has unwittingly published the false information; but the items were thought to be all right and were inserted in good faith. It is too bad that the writers of notes from the country should take unwarranted liberties with the names of respectable people, and no punishment should be too severe for the guilty ones.

LECTURING IN THE WEST.—Mr. A. E. Arsenault, attorney, of this city, is in the western portion of the Island on a lecturing tour. On Monday evening he delivered his popular lecture on South Africa in the new hall at Richmond in aid of the building fund. The next evening he repeated it at Miscouche for the League of the Cross. On both occasions full houses greeted the lecturer, and the greatest interest was manifested. The stereopticon was handled by Mr. W. P. Doull who at the close also gave a few of his biograph pictures, illustrating battle fields, etc., which were very much appreciated and pronounced equal in clearness and strength to many of the pictures displayed at the theatres in Boston. Mr. Arsenault also lectured in Market Hall, Summerside, under the auspices of the C. M. B. A. of that place.

CURE FOR WHOOPING COUGH.—Dr Bennet, of Halifax, who claims to have discovered some time ago a complete cure for fever, but who will not allow a trial unless under his own or his son's supervision, claims to have found a very simple cure and immediate relief for whooping cough. As it is very simple, Dr. Bennet gives it as follows: Pulverized caraway seed with linseed meal, applied in a pad on the pit of the stomach. As the materia medica in use here does not give it, to satisfy "doubting Thomases" who refuse to recognize any action by absorption at the pit of the stomach, Dr. Bennet says a few drops of the pure oil of caraway rubbed into the pit of the stomach will immediately stay the action of the cough, but the permanent cure should be by keeping the odor of the drug continually on the skin, and exactly on the place mentioned. Dr. Bennet says he has no doubt whatever that the majority of the 26 lives lost in Halifax last month, might have been saved or at the very least a large portion of them, had he discovered this sooner.

GOOD NEWS comes from those who take Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, dyspepsia and rheumatism. Reports agree that HOOD'S CURES

BOARDING HIS CRAFT.

And the Enemy Was Forced to Retire Ingloriously.

Through negotiations conducted between an eastern attorney and a local real estate man, one of the old school captains, who had sailed the waters salt and fresh, purchased a pretty residence in the northern part of the city. He happened to come on while the agent was superintending some improvements to the property.

"Ahoy!" hailed the captain as he hove in sight. "That's her, hey? And a tidy lookin' craft she is! Good hold-in ground, too, for the man as would cast anchor to stay till final orders. Pardon, sir, for not firin a salute an dippin the ensign, sir. We'll crack a bottle over the capstan, me hearty, an then the rules has got to be observed, sir, for even an old hulk like meself is able to take a consort."

Naturally enough, the agent thought the captain was drunk and was indiscreet enough to say so.

"What!" shouted the authorized invader. "Won't let me pass? Order me to veil me topsails! Run athwart my bows, will you? Blither me optics, if I hain't tempted to run you down, you Fourth of July cockboat an tootin a landlubber's horn!"

"Move on, now!"

"Move on? Me! With the admiral's permit in, me pocket? Me! Move on for a soft shell picaroon an without firin a broadside? I'll board me craft if I havo to shoot all yer standin riggin away! I'd like to have the teachin of you on a year's cruise, you chicken gaited swab with a thinker as foggy as the banks of Newfoundland! Clew up now, for I have the orders!" And he dramatically produced the deeds.

"I threwed the grapplin hooks without a blow struck," tells the captain, "an the agent made his proper excuses for not understandin English."—Detroit Free Press.

Has Changed His Mind Since.

First Officer (to very young subaltern who is packing his kit for South Africa)—What on earth do you want with all those polo sticks?

Subaltern—Well, I thought we should get our fighting done by luncheon time, and then we should have the afternoons to ourselves and could get a game of polo.—Punch.

Mystified.

"Mamma, my birthday comes this year on Monday, doesn't it?"

"Yes, dear."

"And last year it was on Sunday, wasn't it?"

"Yes, dear."

"Did it come on Saturday the year before last?"

"Yes, dear."

"Mamma, how many days in the week was I born on?"—Chicago Tribune.

An Experienced Retreater.

"Do you regard a standing army as a public danger?" asked the man who precipitates inopportune discussions. "I don't believe there is any such thing," answered the Filipino soldier. "All the armies I ever saw were going at full speed. It was all I could do to keep ahead of 'em."

One Last Request.

"After I am gone," said the turkey to his wife and family gathered around him in the coop, "won't you please see to it that they don't make soup out of what's left of me for next Sunday's dinner? I can stand all but that without finching."—Detroit Free Press.

Valuation.

"I am afraid you don't appreciate popularity at its full value."

"I ought to be able to," rejoined Senator Sorghum. "I have paid for enough of it."

Training the Baby.

"Oh, ma, come up here quick!"

"What's the matter, Tommy?"

"Mamma's playin circus, and he's goin to make the baby dive off th' mantel!"

—Indianapolis Journal.

Startling Confessions

Show that 25 per cent. of men and women suffer the tortures of itching piles. Investigation proves that Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment has never yet failed to cure itching piles, and all of these men and women could end the sufferings at once by using it. Scores of thousands have been cured by this treatment. Every body can be cured in the same way.
