GEORGETOWN — A beautiful ship slid gracefully into the placid waters of Georgetown harbor at 8 a.m. on Saturday morning, when the stern steel trawler up to now known as hull 16, was christened Gulf Georgetown by Mrs. Howard S. MacLean, wife of Georgetown's mayor, and was launched from the shipyard of Bathurst Marine Ltd. With the words: "I name thee Gulf Georgetown", the breaking of the traditional bottle of champagne on the ship's bow the latest addition to the fishing fleet serving Gulf Garden Foods Ltd., became a sea-borne reality and linked this ancient seaport town by name with an ever growing fleet of the most modern trawlers in Canada.

Mrs. MacLean, as sponsor, was presented with a beautiful boue and an engraved silver tray as a memento of the occasion.

The Gulf Georgetown is the fourth stern trawler to be completely designed and built in the Bathurst Marine shipyard in Georgetown, and is the first in the contract for nine such ships to be designed and built here. The ship is 126 feet in length, and is as modern in every respect as it is possible to build.

REINFORCED
The new ship, like her eight sister ships to follow, is reinforced for navigation in ice and is powered by a 1000 h.p. diesel engine, which is 300 h.p. greater than the engines installed in the three former 126 foot trawlers built and launched here. She is equipped with all modern navigational aids and her electronic equipment includes, radio telephones, navigational instruments and echo sounders, which are used to detect schools of fish.

She is designed to give the best possible returns to her owners and crew and to give the crew the standards of comfort, hygiene and safety the fishermen are entitled to in 1966.

President of Bathurst Marine Ltd., T.W. Sanderson, stated that each of the trawlers being built here cost $971,000, of which $48,550 is paid by the owners as down-payment. $438,000 is Federal government subsidy, and $301,950 is loaned by the Provincial government through the Fishermen's Loan Board, and is repaid by the Loan Board receiving 12 per cent of the value of each and every catch by the ship. Off the cost of each ship, $300,000 is paid in wages and salaries to the people of this province. Materials and services purchased in Prince Edward Island account for another $160,000 and sub-contracts to Island firms account for another $40,000.

The largest of these sub-contracts has provided a new industry in Charlottetown in the manufacturing of 2,200 worth of aluminum fish boxes per ship, at a cost of $35,000 per ship. Mr. Sanderson stated that these contracts for aluminum boxes with Charlottetown Metal Products for the nine ships is worth $207,000. Islanders are acquiring hitherto unknown skills in steel ship construction and are growing in proficiency, so that each ship launched is better than the former.

OFFICIAL PARTY
The official party at the launching and at a reception held later in the cafeteria of Gulf Garden Foods Ltd., included: Hon. Cecil Miller, Minister of Fisheries, Industries and Natural Resources; Mayor Howard S. MacLean; members of town council and their wives; the town clerk of Georgetown; R. Paulsen, Switzerland, who represents Findus International, and Mrs. Paulsen; W. Ross, Halifax, of the department of Transport, Canadian Steamship Inspection Service and Mrs. Ross; Eugene Gorman, deputy minister of Fisheries; F. J. DeLery, Georgetown, a member of the Fishermen's Loan Board; T.W. Sanderson, president of Bathurst Marine, and Mrs. Sanderson; Cyril Davis, president of Gulf Garden Foods Ltd., and Mrs. Davis; Eric Wood, secretary-treasurer of Bathurst Marine Ltd., and Mrs. Wood; William Bennett, vice-president of Gulf Garden Foods Ltd., and Mrs. Bennett.

In charge of the launching was Joe Deveser, who is foreman shipwright. Supervising, was James McGuire, naval architect who was assisted by Jan DeGraaf, who is planner for Bathurst Marine Ltd.

Following the launching the Gulf Georgetown was taken under tow by the dragger Helena Catherine, under command of Chester N. Bill Lewellyn, who is harbor master at Georgetown.

SHOOT BOSS
WALDWISSE, France (Reuters) — Police Saturday arrested a man who they said shot and severely wounded his boss because he was refused permission to change his shift to enable him to take part in an Armistice Day parade Friday.

But what Aldrin had that Gordon didn't was a special waist strap, similar to the strap a window washer uses to keep from falling. This kept him from floating aimlessly while at work.

Premier Campbell Gives Talk At Wheatley River

The difference in significance of three flags familiar to Canadians is explained by Premier Alex Campbell in his Remembrance Day address at Wheatley River. The premier was a guest at the Queens County community.

"The Union Jack," said Mr. Campbell, "is the flag under which Canadians served and died, especially in the First World War. It is the flag which recognizes our historic past and our present Commonwealth connection. It is the flag of our monarch, our gracious Queen, Elizabeth II, the Queen of Canada, and as such is the symbol of our allegiance to the Crown. Today it speaks to us of freedom, justice and human rights; of the political, judicial and social tradition of the British nation which from which our own country has been woven. It speaks to us of the heroic sacrifice of countless Canadians and their dedicated courage in the cause of liberty and freedom."

"The Red Ensign symbolizes to us another era of our history which Canada achieved full and complete independence and took her place among the family of nations. The Red Ensign, with both the Union Jack and the Canadian Coat of arms on it, could be considered the bridge between the old and the new. It speaks to us today of the Battle of Britain and the Battle of the Atlantic. It recalls to our minds the battlegrounds of Africa, France, the Netherlands, Italy — This flag bears testimony to the valiant courage, fortitude and sacrifice, of so many Canadians whose sacrifice preserved the cause of freedom in the time of its greatest peril."

"The Maple Leaf Flag sends us a message of the Canada of today and of the future. Just as the Union Jack, the Red Ensign reminds us of the heroic deeds and sacrifices of the past, the Maple Leaf symbolizes our dedication for the future so that those brave and noble sacrifices that have not been in vain. The Maple Leaf is the banner of the peacemaker in a dangerous and frightened world."

"From the experience and sacrifices of the past, symbolized by the Union Jack and Red Ensign, let us renew our dedication to the cause of peace as symbolized by the Maple Leaf."

Annual meetings, most votes favored a reappraisal of the party's national leadership, but with varying degrees of warmth in support of Mr. Diefenbaker. The issue was headed off the floor at the important Ontario annual meeting, but provincial president Elmer Bell said later he supports Mr. Camp's views.

Apart from the leadership issue, the meeting will study a collection of policy resolutions. They include progressive proposals in bilingualism, resource development, urban renewal and defence and foreign affairs — including the admission of Communist China to the UN and its recognition by Canada.

The chairman, thanked all those who had made this service possible. The service was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem, followed by the benediction by Mr. Piercy.
