LAYMEN'S SERVICE AT GEORGETOWN — Laymen's Sunday, August 22, was observed in St. David's United Church with an evening service conducted by Mr. Harry Yorston. The Men's Choir led the singing and rendered two special numbers, "That Will Be Glory" and "Coming Home". The organist was Mrs. Edward Easton. Mr. Yorston's address centered on the highlights of the Maritime Men's Conference at Berwick, N.S. which he attended as delegate a few weeks ago. Mr. Yorston commented on the spiritual atmosphere of the camp, an ever-present inspiration to renewed faith in Christian ideals. He stated that the various group discussions led to some important findings for improvement of practical Christianity in the individual. The delegates felt that there is an urgent need for re-education, both in the personal application of Christianity, and in church stewardship.

Sale Aid William, Ont., said that on a recent visit to the United States he had been complimented on the work being done in this country in milk breeding.

It was the general feeling of the meeting that since the ember fur is the biggest item in the business, because of past advertising and poor quality, that considerable work must be done by members of the association to keep other types of mutation milk from getting to the market under this trade name.

Today the meeting will be featured by the election of officers for the coming year and the appointment of new committees. There will also be a general open discussion on matters relating to the industry.

Potato Dealers must be taken that the advance paid at the beginning of the Pool period which is likely to work out at not over sixty percent of the market value, as care must be taken that the advance paid at the beginning of the Pool period shall not exceed the conservative estimate of the average possible price of potatoes in any year when the volume moved and paid for, the farmers shall receive any balance available after all expenses have been deducted, less a reserve for the operation of the Board.

In other words, no cash is available for potatoes on delivery and the farmer will find it necessary to market far in advance if he is to receive cash to meet any obligations.

From the dealer point of view, will note (a) that you cannot sell potatoes in Canada and any connections that you have built up over a period of years are completely washed out. (b) if you have been in the Export business and are qualified under the restrictions to be a Class A Dealer, you may purchase potatoes from the Board for Export, but you will have to sell in competition with the Board in all our customary markets. This means actually that the Dealer is no longer able to function in Prince Edward Island as one cannot buy from one's competitor and sell to the purchasers.

Objections Cited "In objecting to the scheme, your representatives pointed out that (a) No area has to buy potatoes from Prince Edward Island but they buy potatoes here because of the quality of the product that has been rendered in the past, and the confidence that the purchaser has in the firm which he is dealing. (b) When you deny the purchaser the right to obtain potatoes where he feels it is to his advantage and LIMITED TERM A constitutional amendment effective since 1951 says no person may be president of the U. S. for more than two four-year terms.

Unstable Markets "Our past experience in marketing potatoes shows that markets come and go from any area very quickly. At one time we supplied practically all of the Seed plant in New Jersey and today hardly a carload goes there. In the last few years we have had a good market in Florida but that market can vanish the minute Florida people feel that they have lost any bargaining power they may now enjoy. We also have a good market in Ontario but Ontario buyers have advised that they are not interested in Prince Edward Island potatoes unless the dealer-purchaser relations are fair and harmonious and they receive the quality they desire. "Any grower interested can contact previous customers of P.E.I. potatoes in U.S., Ontario, Quebec or Maritimes and he will find our free trading-customers will strongly resent buying here except at bargain prices. "The danger signals are all about us. We wonder if they will be heeded—or if our industry is to go the way all autocratic schemes do.

well him that he must buy from monopoly at the monopoly price, he will immediately look elsewhere for his requirements. (c) A reputable dealer has been in the past careful of the quality of which he supplies the purchaser whose continued patronage he wants, but under the proposed system, the packer, shipper, the loading station have no connection with the purchaser or hope of any repeat business so the loader will naturally think only of minimum grades and service with the result our standard and reputation will gradually decline and our markets will fade away.

(d) It was pointed out that the potato market in North America is something which Prince Edward Island cannot control and did not control last year, that the growers will be entirely at the mercy of the judgment of the Manager of the Pool for if he makes a mistake, it is the grower who suffers and that is why many persons who have tried to market potatoes are not now in business. (e) The concentration of all potatoes in one hand involves a tremendous administration problem, wherever it has been tried it has completely failed because of the human element for there is no individual or small group competent to handle Prince Edward Island's crop efficiently.

(f) It was pointed out that at one time Prince Edward Island Potato Growers Association controlled 95 percent of the Seed movement from here but because of the large volume concentrated on one Agency, that Agency was unable to give the grower as good returns as the independent shipper. (g) The Pool system for potatoes means a tremendous pressure at the opening of the Pool period. This is well known by all the potato buying trade and as in the past, they will take advantage of it.

(h) It was pointed out that last year the Dominion Government had to underwrite the mistake of the selling Agency but this year the farmer will have to pay the shot. Your representatives object to the basis that the late plebiscite which asked an indefinite question and received an affirmative response from thirty-five to forty per cent of the Prince Edward Island potato growers to put into force a compulsory pool system handled by a small group and take away from thousands of farmers the right to market their crops as and where they desire.

Your representatives feel that any growers who are not inclined to take the great risks to our industry involved in this arbitrary and automatic plan should contact their representatives in the Provincial legislature and express their opinion as it is from the Provincial Government that the authority comes to impose this rigid plan which we feel will give the farmer less returns over a period and at the same time tend to encourage the purchasers of our potatoes to look elsewhere for their supply.

PRESENT TRAYS Lieut. Col. D. A. MacKinnon, D.S.O., presented three silver trays to members of the association for their work in helping develop the milk business. Those receiving them were Messrs. Joseph Connolly, Bathurst, N. B.; Hugh Montgomery, Alberta, and Christopher Lang, editor of the Fur Journal.

In replying Mr. Connolly said he

Interesting Addresses Heard At Annual Report Double Dinner of Mink Breeders Association

"The Island may be the smallest Province, but somehow we always seem to get the biggest Premier both mentally and physically," said Hon. C. C. Baker, Minister of Agriculture as he introduced Premier A. W. Matheson at the annual dinner of the Mink Breeders Association held at the Charlottetown last night.

Premier Matheson, noted for his brevity during dinner speaking, briefly stated he was happy to welcome so many from other parts of Canada and hoped they would have a good stay here. He wished them all success in the future.

Mr. Michael Morris, president of the Canadian Council of Fur Association, told of the downfall of the fox industry as a textile placed emphasis on lighter weight fabrics. However, he had noted an ever increasing demand for fox fur, especially in European markets and believed the industry would make a real comeback.

He said that the Island was an historical fur breeding centre and should be remembered as such for generations to come. He briefly outlined the development of the fur garment from the early days of the Indians and the Eskimos. He mentioned the early days and the individualistic tendencies of the trader and the consumer. He thought that personal preferences must be some times abandoned for the good of the whole industry.

Mr. Morris spoke of the removal of the excise tax as one of the greatest benefits to the industry, but felt that the United States tariff barrier against silver foxes should be removed. He also thought the holding of fur fashion shows did much to promote sales and believed there is a real development in jackets, stoles and other small pieces.

He warned breeders against too close scraping of hair and the resulting loss of hair and said they should leave a slight layer of flesh. He concluded by remarking that "fur must be allowed to remain where it has always been—a commodity of exchange." Mr. Morris is president of A. Hollander and Company, Montreal.

Mr. Calvin Martin, president of the Canadian Mink Breeders Association, said it was a real pleasure to come to such an agricultural Province as this and he believed the holding of the convention here was a good idea.

Among other speakers heard briefly last night were Messrs. Norman Shields, Fort William, Ont.; Ernest Mill, Summerside, Albert Woodley, New York; Richard Murray, New York and Arthur Prentice, Montreal.

Mr. Walter R. Shaw, M.B.E., briefly spoke on the romance of the fur industry here which he said was "brought from the wilds into captivity." He also said in attending such a convention the members were getting inspiration and a great knowledge of the industry.

During the dinner piano music was supplied by Mr. Albert Blanchard with Mr. Lowell Hancock, Summerside, as song leader. Immediately prior to the speeches another form of entertainment was offered when Piper Bruce MacLaren led in a group of young students who are presently taking the courses being conducted in Highland dancing, piping and the Gaelic language. The youngsters entertaining were Miss Betty Campbell, Miss Ruth Ross and Barry MacGillivray. An interesting feature was the top performance of two little girls, Evelyn Fraser, 9, and Heather Fraser, 7, with their young brother George playing the pipes for their dance.

BRANDON, Man. (CP)—A soldier's jealousy on seeing his girl friend with another soldier is blamed for what police described as a double murder and suicide Monday night at nearby Camp Shilo.

The victims were Yvonne Hamer, 16, of Camp Shilo; Gnr. William James Gilbert Barager, 22, of Toronto; and Spr. Ronald Bage, 28, of Rockwood, Ont.

The girl lived at the camp with her parents, Opl. and Mrs. Edgar W. Hamer.

Cpl. Hamer, a member of the Royal Canadian Engineers, blamed the soldier's jealousy for the shooting.

HEARD TWO SHOTS An unidentified soldier stumbled upon the bodies of the girl and one soldier when he ran to an open field east of Shilo to investigate the shots. Both were killed by bullets from a .303-calibre rifle.

Shortly afterwards, the second soldier was found semi-conscious in a barracks room of the Royal Canadian Engineers with a .303 bullet wound in his chest.

Speaking of the second soldier, Cpl. Hamer said: "This guy was crazy about her. That's about all
