

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 16, 1884.

H. M. S. Canada.

HER ARRIVAL AT CHARLOTTETOWN—PRINCE GEORGE OF WALES ONE OF THE MIDDLES.

H. M. S. Canada, Captain Durant, arrived at Charlottetown this forenoon, and quietly dropped anchor off Peake's No. 2 wharf.

The Canada is a very fine new steam corvette of steel and iron, cased with wood, measuring 2,383 tons, and having 2,300 horse power. She was put in commission only last year. She left Plymouth just a year ago, for Maderia, and four days later set sail for Halifax, where she arrived on the first of August. During the past winter she was in the waters of Bermuda and the West Indies.

The Canada is a most interesting ship from the fact that among her midshipmen is Prince George Frederick Ernest Albert, second son of the Prince of Wales. It is now twenty-three years since Charlottetown gave a loyal welcome to Prince George's Royal father; and now he is here, almost as old as his father was then. Prince George was born on the 8th of June, 1865, and has, therefore, just entered his twentieth year.

Three or four years ago, under the governorship of Lord Charles Scott, Victor and George, the two eldest sons of the Prince of Wales, made a tour of the world in the Bacchante. On their return, Victor after his father, the heir apparent to the throne, chose the army as his profession, while George decided to become England's second sailor Prince; and when the Canada was commissioned, he was gazetted as one of her officers under the governorship of Capt. Durrant, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Dixon and Naval Instructor Lawless.

The Prince is described as being of slight build, about five feet two inches in height, with fair complexion.

Gage's Canadian Readers.

We have to acknowledge the receipt of a set of School Readers published by the enterprising firm of W. J. Gage & Co., Toronto. The mechanical get-up of these beautiful books is an attraction independent of the superiority of the reading matter, and both are a credit to the publishers. The binding is of a durable and, therefore, economical nature, the print is clear and bright, the engravings illustrative of the lessons are superb, and taste and refinement are perceptible throughout.

There are several noticeable features in these books, not possessed by the text-books now in use, which make them peculiarly adapted to the requirements of "Young Canada." The history of the country is briefly yet lucidly given, and patriotism is inculcated by the record of noble deeds performed by brave men, whose monuments are conspicuous among us. Valuable lessons in temperance, hygiene, and social topics are introduced, and according as pupils understand the study, the best class of standard literature is gradually introduced with elocutionary hints on the suitable rendition of it.

Pauper Emigrants.

By a return submitted to the British House of Commons, it appears that in March last the Dominion Government entered a very strong protest against sending pauper emigrants to Canada. The order-in-council containing the protest was accompanied by a letter from the Marquis of Lansdown, of which the following is a quotation:

"I have now the honor to enclose copy of a Privy Council order, in which the future policy of the Dominion Government in regard to immigrants from Ireland is stated. I would observe that the stipulation that no assisted passages will in future be given to 'inmates of workhouses or persons subsisting on workhouse relief' is intended to guard against the importation, not of persons who during a time of temporary difficulty may have been relieved out of the union funds, but of persons habituated to such assistance and having the usual attributes of chronic pauperism. I have assured my ministers that it was never been the intention of the Irish Government to send such persons to this country; it is, however, the case that, owing to circumstances which I have already described, a widespread impression prevails that persons of this class have been designedly sent here. The use of the expression 'union emigrants,' to distinguish those who have been sent out through the agency of the poor law unions from those selected by other agencies, has, I think, led to an erroneous impression that the whole of the former class are of the pauper type, and consequently objectionable.

"It would, I think, be very desirable that every opportunity should be taken of reassuring public opinion here upon this point, and that some steps should be taken—such, perhaps, as those indicated by Mr. Hamilton, in his letter of the 7th March—in order to afford evidence of the desire of the Irish Government to meet, in the fullest possible manner, the requirements of the Dominion in these respects. An arrangement under which an agent of the Canadian Government would personally inspect, and, if necessary, investigate the antecedents of the emigrants before they proceed to Canada would, I think, be well received. Such an arrangement might, as Mr. Hamilton suggests, be discussed with the High Commissioner on his return to London."

District Meeting.

The District Meeting in connection with the Methodist Church in this Province, was held at Cornwall, beginning on Wednesday last. The first day's business—examination of character—was very satisfactory; and a candidate for the ministry passed a creditable examination. On the evening of that day the Rev. S. Teed, of Tryon, President of the Conference, preached an able sermon to a large audience. On the second day the laymen in attendance submitted the financial statement; and the accounts from all parts of the Island were found to be in a satisfactory condition. The people of Cornwall have the thanks of those in attendance at the meeting for their hospitality and kindness.

Waterworks Notes.

Citizens should bear in mind that they will not be compelled to take water from the Waterworks Company—any more than they are compelled to take gas from the Gas Company.

We are told, by means of the Patriot, that a supply of water is still "rejected, despised, and abhorred by the community." If this be true, what shall we say if the people of Charlottetown! The inference is that they are so blind that they cannot see what their own interests are, or so easy-going that they will not act though they do see, or so mean spirited, that they are content to remain away behind the age.

Would it not be well to organize a Waterworks Association, to prepare for the next Civic Election, and guard against another failure to pass the Charlottetown Waterworks Company Bill.

The Provident Mutual Association of Canada.

At the annual meeting of the Provident Mutual Association of Canada, which was held in Montreal a few days ago, the Secretary read the annual report of the directors, which showed that the number of certificates of membership issued during the year was 1,849, covering benefit to the amount of $4,568,000. The medical director, during the same period, rejected 112 applications, to the amount of $297,000, not estimating those disapproved by the local medical examiners and not forwarded to the Home Office. The number of certificates issued from the 1st of January, 1883, to the 30th of April, 1884 (sixteen months), was 2,518, with amount at risk $6,442,000. There were 312 certificates cancelled within the year, and among those ninety-three members belonging to Our Provident Class, with ages ranging from 50 to 60. The net increase of membership during the year has been 1,537. The total number of certificates in force at the end of the fiscal year was 3,827. During the year six assessments were made altogether. The directors at their last meeting instructed the President and Treasurer to invest $10,000 in federal or provincial bonds bearing interest, and place the same on deposit in trust with the provincial government for the security of the members of the association.

On motion of the President, seconded by Mr. C. H. Grimmer, the report was adopted.

The above Association is represented in this City by Mr. Theo. L. Chappelle, of the Diamond Bookstore.

Reciprocity.

THE POSITION MISUNDERSTOOD.

Discussing the question of the renewal of a reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States, Bradstreet's says:—

"There is one very important difference between the relations of Canada and the United States now and in 1854, when the old treaty was negotiated. Then Canada was a free-trade country; now the Canadian tariff is arbitrary, and fixes a duty upon British goods as well as American. One of the objections of American manufacturers, therefore, to the renewal of this reciprocity treaty would no longer be valid. British manufacturers could not now find their way to the United States, duty free, by the way of Canada, as they did for the twelve years of the life of the old treaty."

Commenting on this the Montreal Gazette says:—This view is entirely erroneous. The treaty of 1854 embraced few articles of manufacture, and the quantity of British goods that passed into the United States through Canada under it was insignificant. If a treaty were again affected manufactures would also have to be excluded, because it is out of the question for Canada to discriminate against British goods in favor of a foreign country, and the Americans would not open the way to a wholesale system of smuggling such as would spring up under reciprocity in manufactures, while Canada remained part of Great Britain. It is evident that the Americans quite misunderstand the position of the Dominion.

Smashed by a Ghostly Iceberg.

The crew of the bark Alumina, which sunk in a collision with an iceberg, May 15, arrived at Greenwich on the 12th instant, on the bark Florioine. The following story of the catastrophe is related by one of the sailors: It was two bells in the morning watch. The mate had charge of the deck. I was below. I heard the man on the lookout sing out "for God's sake port your helm, ice right ahead," and the same instant there was a terrific crash of splintering spars, which brought all hands on deck. Towering high above our heads was the ghostly form of an iceberg, against which our vessel had driven at full speed. All the masts had gone by the board, and the carpenter sounding the well at the same instant, reported six feet of water in the hold. Discipline was gone and the crew made a break for the boats, which were lowered into the water. Some provisions were hastily dropped in and we pulled away from the wreck just in time to escape the whirl of water, as the barque sank under the lee of the iceberg. As near as we could make out from our dead reckoning, we were about 150 miles S. E. of Cape Race and in the track of steamers bound eastward. The boats kept together during the night, and little before noon next day we, in the captain's boat, were picked up by the Florioine and our companions in mate's float by the British barque Scotia.

Pere Hyacinthe sailed from New York, on the 11th, inst.

Presbyterian Assembly.

The Record report, presented on the 13th shows an increase, the circulation now reaching 26,600 copies per month. The widows fund report was highly satisfactory. The fund is very strong. Receipts during the year, $4,705; expenditure, $3,333. There were considerable expenses last year. The total assets are over $60,000; annuants—16 widows and 12 orphans; beneficiaries—receipts over expenditure, $1,000.

Rev. C. E. Pitblado presented the report of the church and manse building fund, showing great good done by means of the fund. Thirty-nine buildings have been erected in the Northwest, which are unspeakable benefit to missionaries. Buildings are an absolute necessity. More contributions are required. The assembly commended the fund anew to the liberality of the church. The financial committee's report is favorable. Balances in nearly all funds, except the assembly fund, of four cents per member per annum.

Precisely at noon, on the 13th inst., a large deputation of the synod of the church of England, diocese of Toronto, waited on the assembly, to convey the most cordial fraternal greetings of the synod. Archdeacon Body spoke for the deputation and introduced Hon. Edward Blake, who, on behalf of the synod, asked co-operation in promoting religious instruction in schools. The moderator cordially responded. Rev. K. MacLennan moved an appropriate resolution. This was seconded by Dr. Gregg, and adopted unanimously. The assembly appointed a deputation to wait on the Anglican synod to convey its cordial good wishes and give assurances of co-operation. The aged infirm ministers' report was presented by Rev. MacLean Sinclair. His report is prosperous. Its capital is $26,000. Committee on book of rules reported gathering materials for the revision, which will take two or three years. Dr. Laing was appointed convener and will take charge of the revision. Mr. Armstrong, of Ottawa, presented an overture on party politics. Its turn on the docket having arrived, he moved to the effect that the assembly urge upon ministers and members to foster in the community a judicial, patriotic, charitable spirit in all matters relating to the politics and government of the country. Editors and party leaders had good advice tendered them from members of the assembly. The motion carried over an amendment to lay on table. Mr. Ball dissenting. An overture for the consolidation of the colleges was submitted, proposing one college instead of the six at present existing. The subject was referred to the special committee on college funds with the addition of Professor Forrest. A memorial from the women's temperance union was read, asking the assembly to determine the use of unfermented wine at the Lord's table. It was referred to the temperance committee. An overture approving of legislation making seduction criminal by the Dominion legislature was presented. Mr. Charlton moved to ask parliament to legislate. Agreed unanimously. Principal Grant reported a most cordial reception of the deputation by the church of England synod. The usual votes of thanks were passed. The assembly, after a brief address by the moderator, was dissolved at six o'clock, this evening.

Regarding temperance, the following recommendations were adopted:—

1. Temperance societies to be formed in all congregations.
2. Sessions and Sabbath school teachers to give special prominence to the subject of temperance, and Presbyteries to hold an annual conference on the subject.
3. In view of the present aspect of the temperance movement, the Committee recommended the following as the deliverance of the Assembly:—

1. We regard the traffic in strong drink as one of the greatest hindrances to the progress of Christianity.
2. In view of the evil wrought by this scourge, the Assembly would hail with gladness the utter extermination of the traffic in intoxicating liquors.
3. We rejoice at the wonderful advancement of a temperance prohibition sentiment, and recommend our people by voice, vote and example to work for the prohibition of this great evil.
4. We reassert approval of the Scott Act and recommend its adoption as the best available means for the legal suppression of the traffic.
5. Thankful recognition of the good work accomplished by the women of our land, and express the hope that their self-denying efforts might in the future be even more abundantly fruitful.
All the recommendations were adopted.
