are a lot of good-looking colts and some of them are going pretty good already. I have not asked any of mine for any speed yet. I have 24 head now, ten arrived from Lexington yesterday.

For the Milky Way Stable, owned by W. C. Evans, Rockville Centre, Long Island, I have the trotter Stewart Hanover 3, 2.08¾, now a four-year-old, Mahlon Hanover 2, 2.04 (now three), Dempsey Hanover, a three-year-old by Spencer Scott, that was turned out last season, and five 1951 two-year-olds as follows: Vonian Chief, by Chief Abbedale, dam, Silver Queen; Modern Maiden by King's Counsel; Scotch Miss by Scotland, dam, Princess Marina; Love's Choice by Darnley, dam, Nola Mite, and Three To One by Darnley, dam, Spencita Call.

From A. R. Derby, Wichita, Kansas, I received nine yesterday. They are Dalzell 3, 2.00¾, a trotter by Spud Hanover, now a four-year-old; Yankee Coquette and Emily D., both three-year-old pacers, Golden Broom p, 2.01¾, now six years old and five two-year-olds; St. Mortiz by King's Counsel, dam, Jessie Abbey 3, 2.04¼, Wichita Queen by Algiers, dam, Grace Scotland 2.04, Prim Hal by Hal Dale, dam, Helen Prim by Volomite; Dinner Date by Algiers, dam, Agatha Hanover by Dean Hanover; Virginia D. Scott by Scotland.

"Others in the stable include Brewer's Gallon 2.00¾, looking and feeling as good as horses can, Robert Morris 4, 2.00 and Carrol Lee 2, 2.11¾, owned by the estate of George DeVries; Our Jimmie 3, 2.10 by Frisco Forbes, owned by Carolyn Brauns, Broadalbin, N.Y., Fan Dancer 3, 2.08¾ and Mail Man, a two-year-old by Ensign Hanover, dam, Fan Mail, owned by William H. Huff, New York City, and Titia Mite, a two-year-old by Titan Hanover, dam, Liza Mite by Volomite, owned by Frank Broglio, Glen Head, Long Island.

"Red Hanafin, whom you will remember very well, started working for me yesterday as well as Harry Maybury, who used to race a large stable himself, including Chief Abbedale 2.00, Widow Grattan 2.00, etc. Ed Conrad is my assistant trainer. He also trained and raced his own horses. Last season he had Sprague Hanover and Sharon Hanover and I drive them for him at Saratoga, giving them both trotting records around 2.06 over the half-mile track there. Vern Irving, owner of Fast Train 2.04, from New Brunswick, is at the track every day but he has no horses here this year.

"I would appreciate it very much if you will thank all my friends in the Maritimes for the wonderful welcome they gave Betty and me during our visit home. Congratulations on the year's Review. It is a masterpiece. I do not know how you keep all the facts straight. I know your secretary deserves a lot of credit too. I sincerely hope 1951 will be an even bigger and better year for the Maritimes" . . . . Thanks, Joe, we hope you will keep on sending us news from the sunny south, we sure appreciate it.

A short time ago we mentioned that Brockton, so famous as a harness racing track that went over to the runners, was now going to return to harness racing again and we learn that the Marshfield Fair, Marshfield, Mass., has applied to the state racing commission for permission to conduct a harness horse meeting to replace the running horse racing held there for the past fifteen years. The dates are August 20th to 25th. Marshfield Fair, like Brockton, was one of the high spots of harness racing in the long ago. It was over that track that Colorado L. 2.13½ trotted so well for the late Hammond Kelly.

Octave Blake, President of the Grand Circuit and owner of Newport Stock Farm, attended a meeting of the Brockton (Mass.) Driving Club on January 4th and was the chief speaker at a large gathering. Mr. Blake, like his father, has been one of the principal patrons of harness racing on the Grand Circuit and other tracks for many years. Last fall he spent $35,000 for yearlings and is greatly interested in having harness racing returned to Brockton. The Brockton Club membership now exceeds 200 with more coming in. Matinees will be raced on Saturdays when horses are in shape and a grand matinee Wednesday, May 30th. Among those attending we notice many old friends such as Percy Grey, Joseph Bolduc, Peter Kearney, Howard Britt, Chris O'Donnell, Ed Rowe, and no doubt our good friend Dr. F. W. Christopher is also a member . . . . . Through the kindness of Alf Beer of Boston, Mass. we received the above harness horse notes.

The Lorne Letcher stable, Springhill, N. S., will be greatly strengthened this season by the addition of that good pacing mare Rhodola D. 2.11 3/5, by Abner T. Clegg 2.04½. As a five-year-old in 1949 she took her record and that season won eight dashes for owner Dr. Austin Delaney. Last season she was four times first and paced quarters in 30 seconds. There is a good chance of her taking a record of 2.10 or better for the new owners.

We are pleased to have a letter from a horseman friend of long ago — G.B. MacPherson of Amherst, N.S., who raced the pacer George Mansfield in 1904 and won with him at Amherst, N.S. from a fast field which included Dannie Steele's star pacer Ada Mac, but Dannie turned the tables on him in Halifax. Later Mr. MacPherson had the good pacer Mud Lake, which he remembers racing against the writer in the 2.24 mixed at Halifax, Sept. 17, 1914. It was quite a good race. My mare, Miss Alcyone, won the first two heats, then Prince Baron, driven by Bill Sharen, won the third, Queensboro, driven by Lorne Simpson, won the fourth heat and Miss Alcyone the fifth and race. Other starters besides Mud Lake included Baron Britt, Cochato Lady, Don Ambulator, Premier and Princess Etta. Mr. MacPherson later went to the United States, where he made many friends including Walter Cox, Jimmie MacDonald — who afterwards came to Charlottetown — and of course Dannie Steele. He is confident that George Mansfield if racing today, under the conditions which we train and our fast tracks, would take a record of 2.10 or 2.12. It is certainly a pleasure to hear from such an old friend.

Still another new arrival to the Maritimes is Doctor S. 2.08½, by Single G. 1.58½, bought from a party in Quebec by Glen Jenkins, Chatham, N.B., one of the best horsemen in his Province. Glen thinks that he has one of the fastest pacers in the Maritimes over the ice in the "Doctor", and that he will be very useful over clay next summer.

Hunters Corner

comeback. 6 or 7 years ago something, quite possibly a disease of some kind, practically wiped them out. They're destructive little rascals but somehow or other I missed seeing their small two dot tracks on the winter snow . . . . tracks that never held a straight course very long but nosed into every nook and cranny along the way.

Fox tracks were noted at intervals but were not too plentiful. Maybe the fox hunters active in the district have made Brer Fox feel that there are lots of quieter places in which to roam . . . it's nice to know of a better 'ole sometimes. I carried a single shot 22 Calibre rifle with me on this jaunt. If I had left it home I'd have probably spotted several foxes.

There is something fresh and wholesome in a winter woods when the trees are covered with clean, white snow. I enjoy those winter jaunts and best of all they are for free . . . after all many of the best things in life are free. It's a wonder to me that more people do not take advantage of them.

Aussies Retain Cricket Title

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 12 — (CP)—Australia Tuesday held the "ashes," symbolic of Anglo-Australian supremacy in test cricket.

The Aussies, who haven't been beaten in this world series of England's national game since 1932, took the ashes with a clear-cut innings-and-13-run victory over England. The invaders were crippled in the final stages by injuries to bowlers Doug Wright and Trevor Bailey. It was the third straight decision for Australia in the current five-match test series.

The WEEK at S.D.U.

A student, visibly showing the effects of the holiday season, plopped two suitcases down on the steps of Memorial Hall Tuesday afternoon and sighed, "Well, I'm sure glad to be back; boy, do I need a rest!"

That statement, while significant, is of course, hardly the attitude of those who are reconciled to the second semester's work of this college year. And, to show that there is someone in the right frame of mind, we cite the case of Duncan "Democritus and Epicurus" MacDonald who admits that he did nothing but sleep during his holiday, with perhaps time out for one meal a day.

It is significant because it is something of a paradox that, while the Christmas holidays are supposed to be used as a period of rest and relaxation in preparation for the assault on the second term, the majority are probably more active and less tired during the holidays than they were during the first term.

There is, however, some truth in the statement. Yes, it is true that, even with all the talk about the agony that going to college is supposed to entail, most of us are glad to be back. Why, even before the holidays were ten days old, a high school student, at S.D.U. for the first time, told your reporter that life around the city did not have a thing on going to college. That coming from a high school representative is pretty good proof that going to college is not the horrible thing so many repute it to be. There was general disappointment among the students on their return when it was found out that there was little or no ice in the rink. Such disappointment is easily understood as skating and hockey are the only forms of recreation we have at this time of year.

No one was more disappointed than rink manager Jimmy Larkin at the lack of cooperation on the part of the Weather Man. Everyone, including James, however, is quite philosophical about the lack of ice. It is remarkable how many acknowledge the fact that this mythical gentleman known as the Weather Man still holds the upper hand, and how graciously they submit to reality. As far as the students are concerned, they know that, as soon as weather permits, the manager will have ice in the rink. The very afternoon he returned to college, Jim was out inspecting his responsibility, and Tuesday evening he splashed six floods over the area that not so long ago was the scene of much basketball activity.

In the meantime, the annual house cleaning around the rink is taking place, and necessary repairs are being made here and there. Of those not involved in the cleaning up, it is reliably reported that most are reading Red and White for the second time in general, and the Humor Section for the fourth in particular.

Not for sometime has this column devoted some words to what is certainly one of the most important of all college extramural activities. We refer, as you have guessed, to the regular Thursday afternoon socials held in the Holy Name Hall in Charlottetown. Thursday afternoon, the first social of 1951 was held, with the shining countenance of organizer Elmer McPhee beaming on the dancing couples.

It was decided shortly before the holidays that invitations would be sent to the young ladies in the city who might like to attend the socials. The idea is not a new one. Ever since the socials were first started, written invitations were used to make known the intentions of the students towards the young ladies. And here we might make a plea for patience from those who may not have received an invitation, as there are some more yet to be distributed.

Certainly the use of invitations does add something to this important phase of college life. A certain amount of dignity should be a characteristic of every S.D.U. student, and of every social function sponsored by S.D.U. The formality of a written invitation does something in this respect.

It has been a complaint of more than a few that too often the word "social" becomes a misnomer. They define the term as "a gathering given up to friendly companionship in pleasure." There may be something to the argument. Most of the complaining, however, is done by the more social-minded among the students. And no matter how far women have progressed in their demands for equality with men, it is still a fact that the man is supposed to be the aggressor. That being the case, it is still up to the gentlemen to make the socials more social.

This evening at Prince of Wales College auditorium, the senior St. Dunstan's basketball team makes its debut of the 1951 season, when the wearers of the Red and White meet Ray's Millionaires. Again this year the Saints are entered in a six-team Island Physical Fitness League. We look for captain Fred Coyle and his men to be one of the speediest teams in the league, and at the top of the league at the end of the schedule.

And before we go for this week, we feel obliged to report one of the most startling bits of news in some time. The juniors who inhabit the rooms of third floor Memorial Hall started to study the first day they were back. The avid students have made a covenant among themselves not only to study every day, but also to stay in their rooms, which some did not set to know very well the first term. Easy does it, fellows!

And firmly convinced that it is better late than never: From S.D.U., From S.D.U., to all of you, A Happy New Year.

Little Consistency In Pacific Coast League

VANCOUVER, Jan. 12 — (CP)— With the exception of New Westminster — and the powerful Royals usually are the exception — consistency is missing in the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

Majority of the league clubs, Vancouver and Seattle especially, are champions one night, bums the next.

Portland Eagles, who were giving New Westminster a run for their money a couple of weeks back, have skidded to fourth place.

New Westminster is still in front, now with 48 points. Tacoma Rockets have 41, Victoria Cougars 39, Portland 35, Vancouver Canucks 34 and Seattle Ironmen 33.

Last week Vancouver was measured 8-0 by Tacoma, the worst beating the Canucks have taken since Murph Chamberlain came from Charlottetown to take over as coach.

Seattle and Vancouver are fighting over the League scraps, with the Ironmen wondering why they ever let out goalie Jerry Cotnoir.

Cotnoir, grabbed by Victoria after he was fired as inept by Seattle, blanked his former teammates twice in a row.

He also set a league record for the longest shut-out sequence when the Cougars whipped Seattle 3-0 Sunday night. Cotnoir now has played 163.50 consecutive scoreless minutes, four minutes and 20 seconds more than the old mark set by Tom Karakas of Portland in the 1948-49 season.

Ken Ullyot, New Westminster centre, continues to set the scoring pace with 47 points, five more than his closest rivals, Joe Bell of Seattle and Norm Kirk of Vancouver.

Canadians Play Hockey With Ft. Lewis Team

FORT LEWIS, Wash., Jan. 12 — (CP) — Canada's special service force is reinforcing the United States army — on its Fort Lewis hockey team.

The Fort Lewis Warriors, playing in a Washington State Amateur League, consists of three U.S. army regulars and the rest Canadians training here.

L. Cpl. L.G. (Buster) Dussault, 40-year-old Montrealer, came to the rescue of the Americans when they had trouble icing a team. Taking over as unofficial coach, he soon had more than enough manpower from the Canadians.

One of the flashier men on the ice is 19-year-old Jack Rannelli, Sudbury, Ont. A sapper in the Royal Canadian Engineers, he was slated to turn out with the Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League in 1950.

Sapper C.A. (Clarry) Avison, 30, North Vancouver, B.C., played for the Sherritt-Gordon and Flin Flon Manitoba Junior teams.

Twenty-nine-year-old Sapper Frank Stover, Brooks, Alta., played for the Gleason Gunners and the Strathmore Red Wings in the Big Six League in Southern Alberta.

Sgt. L.J. "Larry" Arsenault, 29, of Moncton, N.B., played on an intermediate hockey team in Moncton and with the engineers in England during the last war.

Sgt. H.C. Milne, 30, of Saint John, N.B., member of the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, played hockey with Saint John Garrison Beavers, Carleton and York, and in the Southern Alberta League.

Csm. Ivan Wright, 27, of Lloydminster, Sask., Royal Canadian Regiment, played with the Royal Canadian Regiment at Petawawa, Ont., and the Kingston Garrison.

L. Cpl. F. Rice, 28, of Toronto, R.C.R., played intermediate hockey in his home town and with the Pioneer and Bralorne Mines in British Columbia.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Jan. 12— (CP) — The limited amounts of flax available sent all months in that commodity to seasonal highs again today with rye also posting gains.

There was only moderate commercial demand in flax but the scarcity of offerings was sufficient for the rise. In general, offerings were light elsewhere, too.

Trade was fairly active through the early stages but fell off toward the end.

Class two wheat prices rose 3 1-8 cents a bushel while I.W.A. prices rose 1-8 cent.

Some wheat export loadings were reported but no details were available today.

FESTIVAL OF BRITAIN

EXHIBITIONS

MAY 3—SEPTEMBER 30

The summer of 1951 will be long remembered by Britons all over the world. Just as the 'Crystal Palace' Exhibition of 1851 was something utterly new and bold in its generation, so Britain now invites you to a Festival the like of which has never been seen before.

Exhibitions will be only one part of the Festival programme, but a spectacular and important part.

IN LONDON the centrepiece of the Festival will be the great South Bank Exhibition on the sweep of the Thames between Westminster Bridge and Waterloo Bridge. Here, amid 30 acres of new buildings and broad terraces, dominated by the giant Dome of Discovery (the largest in the world), visitors will see the story of Britain and her people at work and at play—in industry, transport, the farm; at home and on the seas; in sport, at leisure, and in those boundless fields of exploration and discovery in which British scientists and technicians are helping to build the world of tomorrow.

In a new extension to the Science Museum in South Kensington, the latest advances in scientific discovery—the frontiers of man's present knowledge—will be on display.

In the East end, an Exhibition of Architecture at Poplar will show the community centre of the future in course of construction, using the latest building styles and techniques. There will be an Exhibition of British Books in the Victoria and Albert Museum, South Kensington.

These main London Exhibitions will be open to the public from May 4 to September 30.

IN GLASGOW an Exhibition of Industrial Power at Kelvin Hall will show British achievements in heavy engineering, from the earliest steam engine to the harnessing of atomic energy. This Exhibition will open on May 28 and last for 13 weeks.

IN BELFAST the Ulster Farm and Factory Exhibition, staged in the interior and grounds of a new model factory, will show the growth of the linen industry and of developments in agriculture and other local industries. This will be open from June 1 to August 31.

IN EDINBURGH there will be an extensive Exhibition of Scottish Architecture and Traditional Crafts, during June and July.

• • • • • •

In addition there will be Exhibitions of British Books and Literature in Edinburgh and Glasgow, and Exhibitions of painting in Cardiff and Norwich.

But Exhibitions are not the whole of the Festival. There will also be Arts Festivals in twenty-three famous towns, and local activities ranging from carnivals to sporting events in hundreds of communities, throughout England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
