C.N.R. Excursion To Churchill

CHURCHILL, MAN., August 15—Their ranks including doctors, attorneys, professors, farmers, ranchers, scientists and artists, and no fewer than 24 school teachers, 143 visitors to this rockbound seaport detained yesterday morning from the Seventh Annual Churchill Excursion. By noon parties from Des Moines were hunting white whales in Churchill Bay and large groups of westerners were exploring the ruins of historic Fort Prince of Wales and visiting the modern grain elevator. Headed by A. Moeck, of Milwaukee, entomologists busily netted northern butterflies, while two Manitoba scientists, Prof. A. R. Buller and Dr. A. M. Davison, searched bacteria under frozen tundra.

Unique in the history of northern church services was that conducted Sunday as the Seventh Annual Churchill excursion rolled northward along the Hudson Bay railway. More than 100 congregated in a day coach of the special train to hear the sermon of Dr. Preston Bradley, eminent Chicago minister. As he spoke the train sped along turbulent rivers which decades ago marked one of the arduous routes of the missionaries carrying the Gospel to Canada's north. Offerings of the congregation will be given to the pastor of old Christ.

MRS. WM. HORTON

There passed away to her home beyond Mrs. Harriet Horton, widow of the late Wm Horton in her 81st year. She was a daughter of the late John Wm and Jane Acorn. Her death took place at her home in Village Green on Monday, June 19th after one weeks illness. She had been in bed for the past year and had a severe attack of influenza from which she seemed to recover but that sickness weakened her vitality and left her with a weak heart and stomach which ultimately caused her death. Mrs. Horton was a woman of strong character, and was always interested in everything done in the community in which she lived. She was a God fearing mother and her children will call her blessed. She will be greatly missed not only by her family but by a wide circle of relatives and friends among whom she was held in high esteem.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, July 21st, conducted by Rev. D. K. Ross, B.A. of Pownal, who brought a message of comfort to the family every member of which was present at the service. Her sons, Guy and Claude living at home. Mrs. Wm. MacPhee and Margaret Horton, of Haverhill, Mass., Mrs. H. H. MacPhee and Mrs. Emmerson Sheldons of Millville. Mrs. Hugh MacEachern, Cardigan.

The burial at Pownal cemetery was by Mr. Milton Jenkins of Millville. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Warren Acorn, Emmerson Sheldons, Wm. McPherson, Hiram LeBlanc, Hugh MacEachern, and Venches Corley.

The bereaved family will have the sincere sympathy of a large number of people. She is not lost to the land that is fairer than day.

MR. NICHOLAS LANDRIGAN

His friends were saddened to hear of the death of Nicholas Landrigan of Cardigan which occurred at the Montague Hospital on June 18th. He had been apparent in his usual health until a week or so before his death after an illness of only ten days, at the comparatively early age of forty seven years. Deceased was a well respected member of the community as he was of a very friendly and obliging nature and always ready to lend a helping hand to a neighbour and generous in every thing pertaining to the good will of the district in which he lived.

At the hospital he received the best medical care and nursing and was consoled by the visits of his pastor, Rev. M. J. Rooney who administered the last rites of the Catholic Church. He was fully conscious of his critical condition and died peacefully at God's holy will.

He leaves to mourn his loss, a sorrowing widow, two sons, Francis and Ronald, and four daughters, Mary Helen, Gladys and Ethel and one also his mother Mrs. Tobias Landrigan of Sturgeon; two brothers, John T. of the firm of W. A. Poole Co. Lower Montague and James Sturgeon and three sisters, Helen of Sturgeon, and Anna and Cecelia of Cambridge Mass.

His funeral was held from his home at Glenfanning to all Saint's Church, Cardigan and was largely attended. Services in the Church were conducted by Rev. M. J. Rooney. Also present in the Sanctuary were Rev. Owen Kiggins and Rev. Finlay Mullaly. Rev. J. C. McDonald assisted in the choir. The pallbearers were Messrs: P. D. Murphy, E. J. Redmond, L. G. Allen, Angus McPherson, L. W. Alder, Andrew McDonald and Alfred Ronahan. Many Mass cards, spiritual offerings, letters and messages of sympathy were received for which the family are very grateful.

May his soul rest in peace.
