Smith - Howatt Wedding

An event of interest to friends in Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick was the marriage of Miss Dorothy Ann Howatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Howatt of Tyron, P.E.I., and George Ernest Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith of Saint John, in the Tryon United Church, on June 30th. Rev. R.L. Bacon, the Minister, officiated at the double ring ceremony.
The church was beautifully decorated by friends of the bride, and the ceremony was performed beneath an arch of Lilac, yellow and white flowers, flanked by baskets of peonies and lilies.
Mrs. Burpee Carr presided at the organ and Mrs. Ray Hennessey was guest soloist.
The bride was attended by Miss Adele Mullins as bridesmaid, and O. Ralph Smith was the groomsmen. The ushers were Everett Howatt Jr., brother of the bride, and Ralph Fov.
The bride wore a floor length dress of white satin with tight fitting bodice of chantilly lace. Her finger tip veil fell from a halo of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Miss Mullins was wearing a dress of pink nylon net and a matching halo. Her bouquet was of pink and yellow roses.
Following the ceremony a reception was held on the lawn adjoining the homes of the bride's parents. Assistants at the reception were: Misses Fern Howatt, Elaine Chisholm, Arlene Carr, Janet Howatt, Verna Wood, Mary Crossman, Mrs. Sheldon Howatt and Mrs. Toombs.
The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress and white accessories and corsage of red carnations. The groom's mother wore lilac sheer with white and lilac accessories. Her corsage was pink carnations. CAPITOL THEATRE, SUMMER-SIDE

"Angels in the Outfield" playing at the Capitol Theatre, Summer-side on Monday and Tuesday co-stars Paul Douglas and Janet Leigh in an unusual and delightfully human comedy of celestial capers, and introduces the screen's newest child discovery, eight-year-old Donna Corcoran—who knows an angel when she sees one!
Also highlighted, as the baseball team managed by Douglas and helped along by the angels, are the Pittsburgh Pirates, led by home run king Ralph Kiner. The National League is seen in action against several of its regular season opponents, with authentic scenes filmed on location at Forbes Field, home of the Pirates.
The screen-play for "Angels in the Outfield" was written by Dorothy Kingsley and George Wells, based on a story by Richard Conlon.
As Guffy McGovern, the most raucous baseball manager ever to hit the major leagues, Paul Douglas stars in his first picture for M-G-M, following his film successes in "A Letter to Three Wives," "Panic in the Streets" and "Fourteen Hours," and his Broadway hit in "Born Yesterday."

KINGSTON W.I.

The regular meeting of the Kingston W.I. was held on July 8th at the home of Mrs. Leith and Zylpha Newson with thirteen members present.

Downe - Lord Wedding

The United Church at Cape Traverse was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, July 30th, when Annie Margaret Lord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lord, Carleton, was united in holy matrimony to Charles Francis Downe, son of Mrs. Harold Webster, Charlottetown.
The chance of the church, banked and with gladioli, fern and potted plants made a beautiful setting for the wedding. To the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Blanche Harper, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. The wedding was performed by Rev. R. L. Bacon, a former pastor of the church, the double ring ceremony being used.
The bride was beautiful in a floor-length model of white satin with lace bolero and net overskirt. Her fingertip veil was of French illusion with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses with streamers of white ribbon and baby's breath.
Mrs. Anita Crossman, as her sister's matron of honour, was gowned in rose slipper satin with bolero of white eyelet nylon and matching rose headress. She carried a nosegay bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Marion Lord, sister of the bride, was dressed in turquoise blue slipper satin with white eyelet nylon bolero and matching head-dress and carried a nosegay bouquet of yellow roses.
The groomsmen was Mr. Fred Norton and the ushers were Wendall McLaine and Allison Jewell.
Mrs. Lord, mother of the bride, wore a gown of dusty rose crepe with metallic hat and black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. The groom's mother wore a navy dress with white hat and accessories. Her corsage was of Better-time roses.
During the signing of the register, Miss Mary Murtari, soloist, rendered "The Wedding Prayer."
After the ceremony a reception and wedding supper was held at the Borden Inn for the bridal party and over fifty guests. The spacious dining room was tastefully decorated with pink streamers and white wedding bells. The bride's table was centered with a beautifully decorated three-tier wedding cake, flanked with tall white tapers. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Mr. Bacon and responded to by the groom.
Following the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to the Eastern states. The bride travelling in a suit of forest green silk bengaline with natural straw hat and accessories to match.
Prior to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Sawler, Cape Traverse. Returns From China

—Mrs. Lyall Hawkins and young daughter Claire arrived last week from Hong Kong to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodside, Margate.
Mrs. Hawkins, the former Phyllis Woodside, was married in Nelson, B.C., two years ago and went there as an assistant superintendent of the Canadian Immigration Office. The Hawkins family left Hong Kong in April by steamer which docked at San Francisco.
En route they spent a day at Yokohama where baby sitters came on board ship to allow the parents to go sightseeing. They drove to Tokyo and were greatly impressed with the apparent industrial expansion as evidenced by a continuous line of factories from Yokohama to Tokyo, a distance of twenty miles. They thought Tokyo a very beautiful city and were struck by the cleanliness of the Japanese people in general.
Another port of call was Honolulu where baby-sitters were again available and the passengers found the beauty of the famous city all that had been pictured and more.
Arriving in Canada they spent a month in Mr. Hawkins' home town of Nelson, B.C., before he returned to his duties in Hong Kong. Mrs. Hawkins and young daughter then left by air for P.E. Island where they will remain until September. Her descriptions of life in China are most interesting and informative.
