It's an ill wind that blows nobody Good.
THE leading Dry Goods firms of the City are selling off at 20 and 30 per cent. discount (see advts.) Perhaps their profits want want the reductions in price; perhaps not.
Anyway, it's a good thing for the purchasers.

OUR ADVICE.

Don't buy any more Dry Goods than you need because they are cheap. Buy just what you would have bought if no reductions had been made. Then you will find that you have a good many dollars on hand that you did not expect to have. Now, bring those dollars over to our store and lay in a stock of GOOD THINGS TO EAT.

(You can't live on Dry Goods.) Get a box of Raisins, a few pounds of Currants, 5 or 10 lbs. of Tea (or a half chest if you have a large family), a good supply of Sugar, Rice, Spices, a tin of Kerosene Oil, and such other Goods as you need. We have a

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS—CHURCH DIS-ESTABLISHMENT AND CHURCH DEFENCE.

(Special Correspondence of The Examiner.)

What I said in my last respecting the disestablishment of the Church so far as Wales is concerned, has become a necessary factor in to carry the voting power of the dissenters over to the Liberal section, and Lord Granville has been going it strong in Leeds, advocating self-government for Ireland and disestablishment for Wales. It is not a little curious that "the survival of the fittest" in English politics, is always weighted with some sagged pill of iconoclastic design.

Sir Geo. Trevelyan, the Scotch member, is ticking the liberty loving Scotchians with straws of censure, condemning the Irish policy of the Tory Government.

Sir Charles Warren has been sustained in his law and order course with the Trafalgar Square disturbers of the peace. A cordon of police, backed up by improvised specials, kept them back on Sunday, and it seems pretty certain that the cut-throat politicians of the Eastward slums, have discovered what they cannot do as well as what they want to do.

There seems to be a movement on foot very likely to terminate the obstruction dodge in the House of Commons.

I don't know, by the way, if you know that there is an active institution for defending the Church, but there is, and they are after every Church dues for the funds required to sustain the establishment in Wales.

I have nothing new to report on the agricultural outlook; that subject seems to freeze and thaw with the weather, but there can be no doubt about a coming revolution in the relation of landlord and tenant. Like the head and tail of a tossed up coin, it is pretty difficult to predict which will come uppermost when it reaches the land (question), or which will "bite the dust."

Gladstone is being talked about now as the "Grand Old Janus." The two-faced sympathizer who smiles on one side on the Bobby of England, and frowns on the other over the "force" of Ireland.

Let him laugh or let him cry Right will triumph by and by.
CAVERSHAM.

The Clerical Conference.

The second meeting of the Clerical Conference of the Church of England in this Island, was held in St. Mary's Church, in Summerside, on Tuesday last. All the clergy were present. At 11 o'clock Matins was said by Rev. W. H. Sampson, rector of Milton, the lessons being read by Rev.
Henry Harper, rector of Port Hill, after which the Holy Communion was celebrated by Rev. T. B. Reagh, rector of Kensington, assisted by Rev. C. F. Lowe, rector of this parish. The altar was properly vested for the Advent season in violet, and natural flowers adorned the table. The choir rendered efficient aid in the musical portion of the service. The sermon was preached by the Rev. S. Weston Jones, rector of St.
Paul's, Charlottetown, who took as the subject of his discourse the following texts:

Withal praying for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the utterance of Christ, for which I am also in bonds. Col. ch. iv. v. 3.

And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel.
Eph. ch. vi. v. 19.

After the service all the clergy adjourned to the Clifton House, where they were entertained at dinner by the Rector of the parish. At 3 p. m. the clerical meeting took place at which the Rev. T. W. Johnston read a paper on "The position which the Church in P. E. Island holds financially and ecclesiastically in the Diocese of Nova Scotia." A discussion followed, and it was resolved to bring before the Synod of the Diocese certain anomalies in connection with the position of the Church here.

At 7 o'clock p. m., Evensong was said by Rev. C. E. MacKenzie, rector of Alberton, the first lesson being read by Rev. S.
Weston Jones, the second by Rev. James Simpson, incumbent of St. Peter's Church, Charlottetown. After the service, addresses, interspersed with appropriate hymns, were delivered by the several clergymen, to which the congregation gave close attention, the interest being unabated until the termination of the meeting at 10 p. m.

Rev. T. B. Reagh, of Kensington, took as his subject, "The Great Danger of Neglecting and the Blessedness of Receiving the Holy Communion."

Rev. James Simpson, Priest Incumbent of St. Peter's Church, Charlottetown, then gave an interesting account of the Church of England mission work in the Muskoka District.

He was followed by Rev. T. W. Johnston, of Crapaud, in a vigorous and forcible address on the great necessity of supporting the Diocesan Church Society.

Rev. W. H. Sampson, of Milton, next spoke of "Personal Holiness."

Rev. Henry Harper, of Port Hill, followed with an address on the influence of the Christian on the world around him.

Rev. C. E. MacKenzie, of Alberton, was the last speaker. His subject was, "The marks which have always characterized the true Church." In the course of his speech he gave an interesting outline of the work in his own parish.

After the singing of the Hundredth Psalm, the Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. MacKenzie.—Journal.

A BIG STEAL.—A Dover, N. H. despatch to the Halifax Herald says:—"A P. E. Islander named Samuel Perkins, who went to board with a lady in this city, was missing on Tuesday morning and $600 from one of the trunks, were also gone. He was not captured." The Herald's correspondent is probably astray as to the native place of Perkins. He is probably a blue nose. Islanders do not distinguish themselves in that line when they go abroad.

LAMP EXPLOSION.—A lamp left burning in the news room of the Moncton Times office, on Wednesday, exploded and a table, a stand holding cases of type, and parts of the wall and floor were slightly burned. No alarm was given.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Police Inspection.

Sir,—Two columns of Wednesday's paper were devoted to "Police Inspection." To a number of the citizens it afforded great amusement, but to the more enlightened and sensible portion of the community it was a great farce. It stated that a Committee from the Temperance Alliance witnessed the examination of the police force by His Honor the Stipendiary Magistrate, and before leaving expressed themselves as being highly pleased and well satisfied with the examination.

With regard to His Honor's address to the noble army under his supervision, no reasonable or law-abiding citizen can find fault, as they must have been well aware during the past six years that in dealing with Scott Act offenders he has had a great deal to contend with, and any reasonable person (the editor of the Guardian excepted) must admit that he has performed his duty well and deserves great credit from the citizens at large.

Now for this wonderful examination.
The Marshal, as every person must admit, has had great experience in police matters, having held his present position for nearly twenty years. Now, what is the charge against him? That officers Doyle and Costello saw him "pretty well on, some two months ago, but would not say he was drunk." Now, Mr. Editor, a man must be either drunk or sober, and I would like to know what those officers mean by being "pretty well on." They must have been many times that way themselves, otherwise they could not form such an opinion.

Officer Costello is then examined with regard to Sergeant McGonnell, another old and efficient officer. In this case Costello is evidently seeking promotion, for he certainly does his utmost to give away the Sergeant, get him dismissed, and then step into his shoes. Costello states that he saw Sergeant McGonnell go into Gillis' barber shop three or four times, and that these visits were made during the time that a warrant for Gillis was in the station for execution. Now, Sir, if such is the case, was it not Costello's duty to report to the Stipendiary and let the case be settled then and there? Why this delay? It is an old saying, there is "honor among thieves," but I have come to the conclusion there is very little among some of the members of the Charlottetown police force.

OSERVER.

The Diocese of Nova Scotia.

The Rev. Wm. R. S. Parkman, Rector of Acadia Mines, Londonderry, replies to the remarks of the St. John Star quoted by THE EXAMINER on Wednesday. He says:

"The above slip from your paper appeared in to-day's Halifax Herald, and as it conveys to all who read it (without knowing the true state of the case) an entirely false impression, I must ask you to insert in your next issue a few words from me. The Synod met in Halifax in July of this year and unanimously chose the Rev. Dr. Edgell to be their Bishop. On his declining, the Synod met again in Halifax and the great majority of the clergy chose one out of the clergy of the Diocese, viz: the ven. Archdeacon Gilpin, whose personal saintliness of character, whose great ability, and whose decided churchmanship are known throughout the church. He was chosen by his brethren not by one ballot, not by two, but by many; it was the vote of the Lay-house in the Synod (together with a few clerical votes) which was against him, and in consideration of which the various compromises were resorted to. The present state of things is the result of those compromises. Thus you will see, Sir, in its true colors, the picture you have sent out to the world of an "incorrigible Diocese," of "distress," of "turbulence," of "insubordination," of "contumacy," of "incapacity,"—and finally, the inability to find in this Diocese, or (as is implied) in the Canadian church, one like unto him who was tried upon the charges of depraving the holy scriptures, was found guilty, excommunicated and deprived of his bishopric, viz: Dr. Colenso.
Thank God that such an one cannot be found among the Canadian clergy. Will you allow me as one of the clergy of "that incorrigible diocese," to suggest to you that there are a few people still left who believe it to be their duty (as set forth in the church catechism) "to keep their tongues from evil speaking, lying and slandering" even when the subject of their remarks happens to be the priesthood of the Anglican church, and that these few will have much more confidence in newspapers and newspaper men when they show a disposition to be just and fair to that which is most precious—even the Church of our fathers."

CAPIZED IN A SQUALL.—The schooner Minnie D., Captain Maskell, from Georgetown, P. E. I., bound to Halifax with a cargo of oats for G. P. Mitchell & Sons, capized yesterday morning near Shatin Island, 14 miles east of this port. She was struck by a squall and careened over on her side, her sails resting on the water. With great difficulty the crew and several women, who were on board as passengers, managed to get into the boat. One man had a particularly narrow escape, being knocked under the foremast when the vessel went over. After all on board had got safely into the boat they rowed to Three Fathom Harbor, a distance of two miles, and the captain telegraphed to the city. Tugs left yesterday to endeavor to find the schooner.
The Minnie D. is 72 tons register and is owned by Mr. James T. Thompson. She is insured for $3,500 in the Ocean Marine. Her cargo is not insured.—Halifax Chronicle.

ANOTHER ESCAPE.—A convict named Bell, from Newcastle, N. B., escaped from the Dorchester penitentiary on Tuesday evening by lowering himself from the tank room to the ground, 40 feet, by means of a linen rope which he had made. He climbed the prison wall in the same way, and escaped to the woods. Bell's term was for seven years and he has served two years of it.

AT IT AGAIN.—Harvey McKenna has been matched in Boston to meet Fred Eames' at French carom billiards, for $100 a side and $100 purse added. McKenna is to score 500 points before Eames scores 500, or he will lose. The trial will be in Boston on the 21st inst.
