

SORRY TO LEAVE

MONTREAL. — William Bepalko, 52, is shown aboard the Empress of Britain in Montreal shortly before he sailed to re-join a wife the Russians refused to allow to join him in Canada. Mr. Bepalko, who came to Canada in 1930, said he enjoyed life in Canada but "I'm an unhappy man without my wife." He lost touch with her because he could neither read nor write. Three years ago through a friend he learned of her whereabouts but the Russians refused to permit her to leave Poland.

Over Hundred To Be At Stanhope

Upwards of 100 men of the United Church in Prince Edward Island will be joined this evening by a number of men from mainland points for the third annual conference for Men of the United Church in the P.E.I. Presbytery, Stanhope Beach Inn.

23 Nursing Beginners Start At PEI Hospital

The graduating class of 1961 at the Prince Edward Island Hospital had their initial look at the life of a student nurse on Tuesday, September 2nd, a week ahead of those at the City Hospital.

A total of 23 girls from various provincial centers were accepted into the class for the three-year training grind. Included in this program will be a 12-week course in psychiatric training during the student's second semester. This area of training will be carried out at Riverside Hospital.

Following is a list of student nurses accepted in the School of Nursing at the P.E.I. Hospital: Mary Blue, Hopefield; Louise Corbett, South Granville; Isabel MacCallum, Brackley Beach; Constance Davies, East Royalty; Charlotte MacCormack, St. Eleanor's; Ruth Dollar, Brookfield; Faye MacDonald, Montague; Jean Hubley, South Pinette; Marianne Johnston, Charlottetown; Jean MacKinnon, Murray River; Margaret MacLaren, Souris; Clara MacLeod, Uigg; Joan Mallett, Charlottetown; Alvina Mobbs, Charlottetown; Eleanor Murray, Broadbent; Gail Partridge, Charlottetown; Frances MacPherson, Charlottetown; Elsie Rodgers, Peakes Station; Margaret Ross, Flat River; Barbara Stevenson, Cavendish; Hazel Vessey, York; Margaret Walton, DeSable; Sally Murphy, Amherst.

Truck Driver

(Continued from Page 1) returning empty from Sydney the evening the accident occurred. Parking and clearance lights were both on, and visibility was good, he said.

He declared that he was familiar with this road, having travelled it an average of three times each week for a considerable time.

5 Car Collisions In Charlottetown

Five accidents involving automobiles occurred on Charlottetown's streets Wednesday.

City Police reported a car backing from a parking space on Queen Street, bumped a parked car. In another mishap a car moving West on Chestnut Street and another south on Queen collided, resulting in extensive damage to both.

Only slight damage occurred when a car moving west on Euston near Queen hooked a fender onto a parked car. Another accident happened at the Prince and King intersection with no heavy damage reported and a two-car collision on Fitzroy St., resulted in damage reported at near $200 to one of the vehicles.

OTHER WITNESSES

Evidence was also given by Dr. Stewart MacDonald, Eldon, who was called to the scene of the accident; George Lester Ledwick of Parkdale, and Harold Clemens, East Royalty, both of whom were fishing at nearby Loughran's Bridge at the time of the mishap, discovered the victim wedged half in and half out of the car, removed him, and sent a passer-by for medical aid; Constable Ronald C. Pettitt of the RCMP's Montague detachment who had investigated the accident; Gerald Mill, a passenger in the truck driven by his uncle; and Walter Burhoe, Charlottetown mechanic who had examined both vehicles the morning after the tragedy.

Mr. Burhoe stated that the brakes on the MacLeod truck were "in good shape" but due to the severe damage sustained by the victim's car it was impossible to arrive at any opinion regarding its mechanical efficiency prior to the accident.

Members of the jury were Lloyd George Martin, Kinross, foreman; Joseph Harold White, Charlottetown; Leroy Robert Creamer, Charlottetown; Matthew

GIELGUD TO APPEAR

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—The Stratford Shakespearean Festival Thursday announced British actor Sir John Gielgud will make a single appearance at the festival's theatre Sept. 20 to read an anthology of Shakespearean writings called The Ages of Man. Gielgud, a Shakespearean actor for 30 years, has presented the anthology at festivals in Edinburgh, Holland and Berlin, speaking from a bare stage without props.

Edward Redmond, Vernon River; Hugh MacKinnon, Kinross; John Francis Naddy, Kinross; and John Joseph MacRae, Orwell.

In the early 1920's Mr. MacIsaac was also closely connected with labor's first efforts to gain recognition in the larger industrial plants in Michigan.

His active interest in organization, has continued.

His association with labor and his administrative experience are cited as giving him an understanding of the need for full cooperation between labor and management.

First elected to the Prince Edward Island Legislature in 1955, Hon. Mr. MacIsaac is married to the former Lillian Griffiths of Sault Ste. Marie, who is on the teaching staff of Queen Square School. They have six children: Jean in Boston; Martland, Lynn Scott, Bruce and Neil, all attending school in Charlottetown.

Mr. MacIsaac, who is a 4th degree Knight of Columbus member, has served for the past 13 years on the board of governors of the Charlottetown Hospital, an dis actively associated with various provincial and civic clubs and associations.

Mr. Arsenault, the new minister without Portfolio, was born in Howland 58 years ago. He is a French Acadian and by profession a school teacher.

After attending St. Dunstan's University, he taught school and later received a diploma in pedagogy from St. Joseph's University, Memramcook, N.B. and a certificate in child psychology from the University of Ottawa.

Between 1941-1946, Mr. Arsenault was vice principal of the largest Indian school in Canada, at LeBret, Sask.

He has taught school in the western part of Prince Edward Island for 16 years and is currently teaching at Inverness in Prince County.
