Halifax Woman To Make History In Israel Today

TEL AVIV, Israel (Reuters)—A Halifax woman will make Canadian diplomatic history today when she presents her credentials as Canadian ambassador to President Yitzhak Ben-Zvi.

Miss Blanche Margaret Meagher is her country's first and only lady ambassador and the first of her sex to be accredited as an ambassador by Israel.

Instead of the protocol dress of male envoys—striped pants and morning suit—Miss Meagher will wear a dark grey suit and blue and white hat for the ceremony. Woman diplomats are not new in Israel, however, where the foreign minister is Mrs. Golda Meir.

A detachment of girl soldiers of Israel's defence army has been detailed to act as the guard of honor to receive Miss Meagher at the entrance of the presidential palace.

Two Links With Victorian Era In London Die

LONDON (AP)—Elderly Londoners noted with sadness Monday the leisurely splendors of their Victorian era. The obituary columns recorded the deaths of William Stone, aged 101, and Charles Topper, 72.

Stone, immaculate and polished, was known as "the squire of Pleadilly," and it authentic "Mr. Aristocracy."

Charles Topper moved in a different stratum, but without him Victorian aristocracy would not have been as polished. He was baronet Britain's socially elite.

He went off by appointment to great estates, major palaces and better hotels.

Stone was the senior trustee of Albany, a red brick residential building of London's West End which is still the impregnable retreat of gentlemen (and lately a few ladies) of quality.

Stone, a wealthy man, was famed for the stubborn vigor with which he defended Albany as the West End's last haven for gentlemen who tried to sweep it away and government agencies that sought to kill it with their zoning ordinances.

Ottawa Fire Broke Out In Clothes Closet

OTTAWA (CP)—Raymond J. Simmons, an inspector for the Ontario fire marshal's office, said Monday a rooming-house fire that claimed seven lives began in a clothes closet.

But Mr. Simmons was unable to say how it started as he testified at the preliminary hearing of two men charged with murder in connection with the fire.

He said he could not determine "the reason for the ignition" of the fire, but added that "it was not a normal fire."

There was nothing in the evidence he gathered that was consistent with either arson or negligence. However, he was sure that it could not have started from such hazards as combustion, heating or electricity.

Money Is Pouring In To Aid Grief-Stricken Springhill

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Money is pouring in from across Canada to aid the grief-stricken community of Springhill, N.S.

Thousands of dollars have already been collected from individuals, firms and organizations but plans for a television program that would raise a hoped-for $1,000,000 in a single night remain indefinite.

To co-ordinate the varied fund-raising projects, K. M. Sedgewick of Montreal, general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, has been appointed national chairman of the Springhill Disaster Relief Fund, established by Premier Stanfield of Nova Scotia as a continuation of the 1956 fund to aid the families of 39 miners killed in another Springhill mine explosion.

WANT TV PROGRAM

A Toronto group headed by A. G. Sampson, a native of l'Ardoise, N.S., announced it planned to organize a TV program—perhaps Sunday night—with the aim of raising $1,000,000.

There is a CBC official said Monday there is "nothing yet definite." He added, however, the CBC "is more than happy to promote any such program."

Scores of cities are donating. Toronto intends to give $25,000.

Shipping Tonnage In The North Is Almost Doubled

By ARCH MACKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—Northern shipping lanes this season carried almost double the supply tonnage moved in 1957 and will reach for records next year when Canada assumes the full load.

Thirty-five vessels—including 22 charter craft ranging from 250 to 10,000 tons—transported about 75,000 tons to the growing north. Still to come out for the season, the transport department said today, are the icebreakers Montclair and N. B. MacLean plus a barge.

Frobisher Bay, headquarters for the Eastern Arctic, took 27,000 tons and the rest was dropped at a wide range of settlements and outposts, some by air. The most northerly sea run was the annual sprint by the icebreaker l'Ardoise for Eureka Weather Station on Ellesmere Island and about 700 miles from the Pole.

Transport department officials said Monday that an extra 10,000 tons probably will have to be served in tribute to the memory of Miss Martha Townsend and Mrs. Joseph MacGregor, who faithfully supported the work of the W.M.S. for many years.

The business session was led by the president, Mrs. Bert Hanefeld.

After the correspondence was read a short discussion was held concerning the work and progress of the C.G.I.T. and W.M.S., and a committee was appointed to provide transportation for the members of the C.G.I.T., when attending special meetings and conferences.

A report of hospital and shut-in calls was made, and an introduction to the new study book "Concerns of a Continent" was given by Mrs. D. MacIntyre.

Following dedication of the offering the meeting was closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Fire Dept. To Help Springhill With Tug-Of-War

MONTAGUE—The Montague Fire Department will challenge the Montague Branch of the Canadian Legion to a tug-of-war to raise funds for the Springhill Disaster Relief Fund.

The contest will take place in front of the skating rink at 8 p.m. on Saturday night, and will be for the best of three pulls.

The opportunity to contribute to the relief fund of 1958 will be given to all people in attendance when a hat in which the fire department will place $25.00 will be passed.

The decision was made at the regular monthly meeting of the fire department held last night in the council chambers.

The opinion of the members was that this would be an opportune time for people who would like to contribute to do so with a minimum of effort and an overwhelming response for this deserving cause.

Fire chief Douglas Coffin officiated at this meeting.

Campaign Leader Stresses Need Of Making Objective

One hundred men and women canvassers for the Protestant Family Service Bureau were told Tuesday evening that the amount of the current campaign for funds is $12,500.00.

"Regardless of the many other appeals for funds," said Mr. Tait, "it is imperative that we raise our present objective, otherwise we shall be forced to curtail our services, and we know that our citizens would be loath to accept such a curtailment."

Mr. Tait explained that the Bureau was at the present moment operating "in the red" due to the fact that last year's appeal fell about $4,000.00 short of the objective.

He urged each canvasser to make an intensive canvass of every card in his possession and "not to be content until every possible dollar was gathered in for this great Christian work, that of being literally a good Samaritan."

Walter Baker, the field secretary, told briefly of his work in counselling families in an endeavor to eliminate the causes of their various problems. Each canvasser was given a copy of the annual report together with a resume of the bureau's aims and services, and urged to study them so as to become thoroughly familiar with Bureau's work.

Rev. T.H.B. Somers, a director of the T.H.B., expressed the gratitude of the churches for the wise and kindly approach the bureau's secretary made to the problems of those who came seeking help.

Such persons needed a specially trained person such as Mr. Baker, to guide, investigate and help them solve their social problems. To the workers he said, "You are much in the position of the small

It is to look into all aspects of the explosion and report on the cause and possible safeguards against such an occurrence in future.

Residents of the capital still were marvelling over the miracle that no one was killed in the explosion. On a week-day morning the casualty toll might have been in the hundreds.

A total of 39 persons were taken to hospitals for treatment but only five were admitted, including a child, a Mr. Anderson. Badly burned, he was the only person critically injured.

Property damage was unofficially estimated as between $2,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Dozens of stores remained closed in the blast area Monday as gas mains in the area were checked for leaks.

Hold Loyalty Dinner On Eve Of Financial Drive

At a Loyalty Dinner, held at the Charlottetown Hotel last evening, some 200 members of the congregation of St. Peter's Anglican Cathedral of Charlottetown gathered there as a pledge of their duty and support to their Parish on the eve of a financial campaign to assist the Parish in its functional duties during the next three years.

Presiding over the function as General Chairman, Judge H.L. Palmer opened the ceremonies by calling upon the newly appointed Rector of St. Peter's, Rev. Canon J.B. Davies to say Grace.

Following a dinner, presided over by ladies hostess chairman, Mrs. A.G. MacMillan, and hostess vice-chairman, Mrs. L.H. Davison, Mrs. E. Callaghan, Mrs. H.M. Simpson and assisted by 20 other table hostesses, members of the Church and laity gave chief addresses on the aims and purposes of the campaign and the plans, obligations and problems of the church that necessitate such a program at this time.

The predominant factor of the talks by the various speakers was not one of financial need, but of the spiritual need of the "Give to Give", and in so doing, finding a new interest and satisfaction in the church and worship, individually and collectively.

BISHOP SPEAKS

Rev. W.W. Davis, Bishop Coadjutor of Nova Scotia, was a guest speaker. He referred to the reflected warmth and sincerity of the gathering which he said was a "joy and inspiration", in extending his own congratulations to the congregation and Parish in their united effort, he carried a message from Rt. Rev. Bishop Waterman, Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia and his blessings for the success of this undertaking.

Other speakers of the occasion were: H.B. Armstrong, Publications Chairman; Arthur H. Peake, Canvass Committee Chairman; A.D. Cameron, Arrangements Chairman; Rev. Canon J.R. Davies, Rector of St. Peter's Cathedral; Lt. Gov. F. Walter Hyndman.

Other members of the campaign committee are: Lt.-Col. J.R. Paton, Special Gifts Chairman; George Michael, Initial Gifts Chairman and William Shama, Teams Chairman.

Foes of the project, originally known as the Dozins plan, contended that the people should be moved to north-west Montreal to a new area, leaving the downtown district for industrial and commercial development.

Ex-mayor Jean Drapeau, an anti-vice crusader, condemned the project and tried to force a city election over it. He said the project involves "an abhorrent and dangerous concentration of low income people" which leaves the basic social problem untouched.

SHARE IN COST

Supporters said the idea of leaving pockets of people in well-planned, park areas in commercial districts is widely supported by town planners and sociologists. The project is backed by the city council, provincial and federal governments, all sharing in the cost.

The city and the federal governments split the $6,000,000 cost of tearing down the 222 properties in the 20-acre area, bounded by the 20-st. St. Dominique and O'Sanguinet, St. Catherine and St. Ursule streets along the rear lot line of St. Catherine. The provincial government gave the city $1,000,000 of this cost.

The federal government is paying 75 per cent of the rebuilding cost, with the city giving the rest.

The development, which includes four 12-storey blocks, has been planned to provide 40 per cent of the area for parks and playgrounds, 15 per cent for parking, 15 per cent for buildings, and the rest for streets and vacant land.

Rents will be tied to wages—working out to about 20 per cent of a worker's pay. Average rental including services is estimated at $56 monthly.

Montreal Slum Area Is Site Of Big Housing Development

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
MONTREAL (CP)—An overcrowded lair of poverty and promiscuity in the seedy heart of Montreal is being ripped apart and rebuilt as a low-rental housing project.

First sod, soggy with rain, is to be turned today to signal the beginning of construction on the $16,000,000 Jeanne Mance housing development.

By next year, the first families are expected to shift their hopes and homes into new apartment buildings raised in an area once architect called a "bad" example of slums as could be found anywhere in North America.

YEARS OF DELAY

It took five years to achieve actual building of the project, the blocks—five years that dragged slum-clearance through courts, opposition, denouement and criticized.

Everyone agreed on the need for removing the blighted area—one of at least 11 slums in Montreal. But the disagreements came over how—and where—to rehouse the 4,000 people living in the squalid tenement blocks just off downtown St. Catherine Street.
