Heavy Program For Music Festival Seen At S'side

More than 600 of the 2,300 entries in the 1958 Prince Edward Island Music Festival will be adjudicated at Summerside. The first competitions in Summerside, beginning on May 2, will be the adjudication of choral reading by approximately 50 groups from various schools in Prince County. Dancing classes, 22 in number, — down slightly from last year — will be adjudicated on Saturday, May 3rd. Mr. George A. Smale of Brantford, Ontario, on Thursday, May 8, will judge the 120 entries in the 11 junior classes of piano and vocal solos. On Friday, May 9, he will adjudicate the urban school choruses, and during the evening, country choirs will be heard. Dr. Leslie Bell will be in Summerside on Monday, May 12, to complete the judging of the vocal solos; and at the same time, but in another location in Summerside, Dr. Peaker will adjudicate the senior entries in piano, organ, etc. The Summerside competitions will all be finals except for several.

(over 12 years) individual entries, of which the finals will be held in Charlottetown where the festival will be officially opened on May 12, at which time the competitions in Summerside will have been completed. In a notable change this year, no marks will be given in the preliminary competitions. However, the three adjudicated as best in their respective classes will be selected to enter the finals. Piano duets will all be adjudicated at Charlottetown. Programs will be available in about two weeks time, and an announcement is expected about that time on the dates for the concert that will be presented by the stars of the festival.

Head Of Atomic Energy Program Quits For New Job

By ALAN DONNELLY Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA (CP) — William J. Bennett, head of Canada's atomic energy program for nearly five years, is resigning to enter private business. The announcement Tuesday by Trade Minister Churchill was the second in two days on the departure of a top public servant. On Monday, Mitchell Sharp, deputy trade minister, confirmed reports of his resignation plans. Mr. Bennett and Mr. Sharp, both 46, were right-hand men of former Liberal trade minister C. D. Howe.

Mr. Bennett, a native of Schreiber, Ont., has headed the multi-million-dollar Atomic Energy of Canada Limited since 1953 and Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited since 1947. He is resigning as president of both crown-owned companies, effective April 30, to become executive vice-president and general manager of Canadian British Aluminium Company Limited. His government salary, not made public, is reported to have been $35,090 a year. His letter of resignation, dated Jan. 7, said he felt he had made his contribution to the atomic energy program and that for some time he had wanted to follow a career in the business world. Mr. Sharp's resignation letter has not been made public. Mr. Churchill said only that his deputy has asked for several weeks' leave of absence to investigate several job offers from private business. The letter was sent to Prime Minister Diefenbaker, who is responsible for appointment of deputy ministers. Their departures leave two key jobs in the trade department to be filled this month.

COYNE SAYS NO The two impending moves also revived previous published speculation on the possible resignation of governor James A. Coyne of the Bank of Canada, who became involved in an election campaign controversy. But Mr. Coyne replied with a flat "no" when asked Tuesday whether he SEIZE REBEL Suspects In Havana Raids By LARRY ALLEN HAVANA (AP) — Raiding squads Monday arrested 26 men in Havana in their campaign to smash rebel plans for a threatened general strike and street warfare. Police said they seized arms, explosives, short wave radio gear, a print shop, huge quantities of rebel and Communist propaganda and medical supplies. The search for rebel arsenals formed one answer of President Fulgencio Batista's government to the call by rebel leader Fidel Castro Saturday for "total, implacable war between the people and Cuba and the tyranny of Batista." The bearded guerrilla has yet to make good on his declaration that 50,000 young, armed revolutionaries would rise at his bidding to crush the Batista regime.

Board Of Trade Plays A Vital Role In Community

By FORBES RUDE Canadian Press Business Editor Some communities seem to care about themselves and some don't. The prevailing attitude either way is quickly sensed by a visitor—whether he is a tourist detouring where he may stay another day or so, or an industrialist casting about for a site for a new plant. Many factors may determine which category a community belongs to, but one factor is virtually always present in the community which cares about itself and is virtually always absent from the community which doesn't. That factor is a live chamber of commerce or board of trade—names which mean the same thing in Canada. Next week in nearly 800 communities across Canada, these organizations, which day by day and year by year call attention to their localities, will call attention to themselves. They will join in Week Observing Chamber of Commerce Week.

TELL OWN STORY A new release, issued on their behalf, comments: "It is surprising that so few people know the true role of the board of trade or chamber of commerce. "It has been described as a booster organization; it has been called a tourist-attracting body; it is sometimes known as a business men's association. It is, of course, all of these things, but it is a good deal more. "It is a voluntary organization of forward-looking citizens of a community banded together to promote the civic, commercial industrial and agricultural progress of the community and the district in which it operates. "But a real, live, vital board or chamber is also the conscience and will of the community—the conscience to see its needs and the will to do something about it." FEATURES PLANNED Many features are planned across the country to mark Chamber of Commerce Week. These will include such things as membership drives; joint meetings with neighboring chambers including, in some instances, United States chambers near the border; announcements of new projects proclamations by mayors and reeves and oratorical and essay contests by high school students. Reports from various chambers and boards show a long list of community developments brought about either through chamber activity or assisted into being by strong chamber support. Activities cover a wide range. The Victoria chamber, for instance, reports. "A fall gift shopping week, conducted by the Victoria chamber, lured more than 750 shoppers from Seattle. This project was designed to lengthen the tourist season. Results were so satisfactory that a similar event is planned for this year. During the
