South Africa and the East.

NO MORE TROOPS.

UNITED STATES HOLD FIVE THOUSAND IS ENOUGH FOR CHINESE WAR.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The important development in the Chinese situation today was the decision of the government not to send any more troops to China. All the troops now at sea, amounting to about 4,000, together with those under orders for service in the Far East, which have not sailed, amount to about 3,000 more, will be sent to Manila. These troops will sail on the same route and upon touching at Nagasaki will go on to Manila unless there are developments in China not now expected, which would make their presence in that country necessary. Secretary Root said to-day that no more troops were being sent to China because they were not needed. With the arrival at Taku of the Hancock and troops she carried Gen. Chaffee will have five thousand available men, which is deemed sufficient for all present purposes. The decision of the department was not based upon any recommendation made by Gen. Chaffee, but upon reports received by him, which made it apparent that no more troops were needed.

The announcement of the diversion of the troops was made in the following official bulletin, which was posted at the war department this evening:

"The government has decided that unless required by future development no more troops are to be sent to China. Orders have accordingly been cabled to Nagasaki for the Meade, which is due there to-day with moore troops. Third cavalry, four companies fifteenth infantry and company E battalion of engineers to proceed directly to Manila. Similar orders will be given to the other troops which are under orders of China via Nagasaki."

It was stated at department that the encouraging condition in China was the main reason why the orders of to-day regarding the troops were issued. Beside the troops on the Meade, there is now at sea the Warren, with two squadrons of the Ninth cavalry and recruits, the Sherman with one battalion each of the second, Fifth and Eight Infantry. The Logan is scheduled to sail on Sept. 1st with two battalions of the Second infantry. It was said at the department that six or seven thousand troops would be affected by the order.

A despatch was received from Gen. Chaffee, dated Pekin, Aug. 15, which was not in response to the request sent him a few days ago to report the conditions and requirements. General Chaffee did not report further fighting in Pekin and for that reason the Washington officials feel assured that hostile demonstrations in the Chinese capital have ceased. The despatch related largely to transportation conditions and stated that the railroad between Taku and Pekin could not be used at the present time, as portions of it had been destroyed by the Chinese.

Gen. Chaffee will co-operate with the other commanders in China in reconstructing the road for the use of the allied forces. Gen. Chaffee also reported that the telegraph line which was constructed by the Signal corps from Tien Tsin to Pekin is frequently interrupted, being cut, probably, by hostile Chinese. At a conference at the White House today, in which the President, Secretary Root, and acting Secretary Adee participated, careful instructions were prepared for Mr. Rockhill, the United States special commissioner to China, to be forwarded to him at once for his guidance.

The state department received a despatch from Mr. Rockhill to-day, dated Yokohama, briefly announcing his arrival there. This brought about the White House conference and the preparation of instructions. Before Mr. Rockhill left he was advised very fully the purpose of this government, but since his departure the situation has so changed at Pekin as to make it desirable to supplement the instructions already received. Mr. Adee stated that as the instructions related to pending affairs it would be inexpedient to make public any reference to them.

The United States has taken the lead in replying to China that there will be no temporising negotiations, and there is every reason to believe the powers will be united in this same policy. The answer of the United States was quickly followed to-day by similar action on the part of Germany, the Berlin foreign office delivering to the Chinese minister an answer refusing to enter into negotiations on the ground that there was no evidence that Li Hung Chang's credentials gave him sufficient power to act and that nothing short of complete authority from the responsible rulers of China, the Emperor and Empress Dowager, could be regarded as sufficient. Soon after this action at Berlin the German charged, affairs, Baron Speck Von Sternberg, was advised by cable and he called at the state department to inform the authorities of Germany's course.

The Japanese officials expressed their full conviction that Japan would take similar action if, indeed, such action was taken. The course of France and Great Britain has not been made known here, but there is thought to be no doubt that these governments will decline to treat with China at this time. The United States acted entirely on its own initiative land, as it has turned out, acted first and in such a way as to have other governments take like action.

The German reply in one respect is regarded as having significance beyond that of the United States in that it is based on the theory that there can be no sovereign authority in China other than that emanating from the Emperor and Empress Dowager. Among diplomatic officials this is said to be equivalent to an assertion that the existing regime is to be recognized and that there is no purpose to set up any new administrative authority over China. While it is said that this may not go to the extent of assuring the continuance of the present Manchu dynasty, it at least discloses no present purpose to hold that the flight of the Emperor and Empress Dowager is an abdication of the Manchu regime.

ACCUSES THE MISSIONARIES.

According to a Berlin despatch Herr Brandt, exminister to China, publishes a long article in the Christliche Welt replying to the protests of the religious press against his recent indictment of missionaries, especially Protestants, as being largely responsible for the anti-foreign feeling of the Chinese.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

An old lady called at a store and asked for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment; the clerk said "they were out but could supply her with another just as good." The engaging smile that accompanied this information was frozen stiff when she replied: "Young Man, there is only one Liniment, and that is Johnson's."

Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. There is not a remedy in use which has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Could a remedy have existed for nearly a century, except that it possess extraordinary merit?

ble for the anti-foreign feeling of the Chinese:

He now reiterates his criticisms and is more drastic. He contends that, if, after the suppression of the present outbreak and the punishment of its authors, no changes are introduced in the practices of the missions, there will be, ten years hence, a new crisis, exceeding the present one in horror and extent. Herr Brandt declares that it is madness to expect the Chinese to tolerate Christian missions. He asks the editor of the Christliche Welt: "What would you and your colleagues do if, on the basis of treaties achieved by force of arms, Buddhist missionaries were accorded the right to settle everywhere in Germany, erect houses and churches on sites rendered sacred by popular belief and superstition, and preach at all streets corners in every deficient German?"

He reminds the editors of what has been the outcome of anti-Semitism in Germany and elsewhere. He further denounces the mutual intolerance of the missionaries, especially of the Protestants, towards Catholics and accuses them of cowardice in deserting their communities and fleeing to the coast.

WAR SOFTENS CONVICTS LOT.

At the first glance there does not appear to be any close connection between the South African war and the condition of those confined in our English convict prisons. When the war broke out in South Africa and the Army Reserves were called upon to rejoin the colors, many trained and hardened warders in our convict establishments had to leave their situations for the time being. The men who took their places, being either inexperienced in the ways of convicts or inclining as new hands towards merciful considerations, have applied the prison rules more leniently than their predecessors. At any rate, this is the testimony of a convict who has just been released from Dartmoor.—Birmingham Post.

A Boer who has arrived at Lorenzo Marques direct from Wattervalonder states that Mr. Kruger is now in the best of good humor. He is, moreover in better health than during his residence in Pretoria. The wrinkles on his face have disappeared, his beard is cropped, have altogether he is looking years younger.
