Find Lippy Durocher Easy Man To Interview

NEW YORK, July 4. — (AP) — Leo Durocher didn't get his nickname "Lippy" for nothing. There's never any worry about getting him to talk. Offhand, it is difficult to think of anyone in sports easier to interview than the manager of New York Giants.

And when the Lip begins to make with the mouth, you listen. You've got to. It's next to impossible to interrupt him.

One question brings a two-page answer. Two questions and you can write a book. There is no guarantee it will get by the censors, however.

"Yes," Leo sighed contentedly. "You can say I'm very happy over the trade I made with Boston last winter."

"If I had to make the same deal all over again, I wouldn't hesitate a minute. Eddy Stanky and Al Dark have made this ball club. Stanky and Dark were the guys we had to get."

Isn't this supposed to be his kind of ball club, isn't it true that he'd finally gotten the type of players he always wanted— young, fast, hustling men?

"If you mean I want a guy like Stanky on my side, you're right. He's my kind of player. He's always out there hustling — and thinking. He's the kind who will pull a squeeze bunt with the count two strikes and no balls."

"Another who hates to lose is Wes Westrum, a greatly improved catcher by the way. He's my kind of guy. So is young Tookie Gilber, my first baseman. He's only 20 now. In a year or two he'll be the best in the league. If he isn't I'll hang up my spikes."

"They're my kind of players. So is this Brooklyn first baseman, Gil

29 Entered For Channel Swim

LONDON, July 4. — (Reuters) — Entries have closed for the Daily Mail's £1,000 ($3,100) channel-swimming contest, and the paper said contenders already are assembling at the prize goes to headquarters. The prize goes to the first person successfully crossing the 21-mile strip of water between England and France.

The 29 registered contestants come from Britain, the United States, France, Denmark, Egypt, Israel, Greece, Belgium, the Netherlands, Sweden, Guatemala, Rregentina and Germany. Their ages range from 17 to 63 and seven are women.

Among them is Steve Wozniak of Buffalo, N. Y., 34-year-old former winner of the Canadian National Exhibition marathon at Toronto.

The Channel attempts will begin officially Aug. 21.

HALIFAX, July 2. — (CP) — Jim Eagan of Halifax won the Nova Scotia skeet shooting title at the Halifax Gun Club Saturday with a score of 98, beating out last year's winner, Laurie Saulnier of Halifax by one point.

Hodges. And Pee Wee Reese. And Jackie Robinson. If I had such men in every position then I'd say that's my kind of team."

"I don't know where we'll finish but we'll give the others a scare before we're through. Sure I've got my troubles but so have the other managers. And some have worse troubles than I've got."

Kell Regains Batting Lead In American League

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, July 4.—George Kell of Detroit Tigers has moved back into undisputed American League batting leadership over Larry Doby of Cleveland Indians.

Averages of games through yesterday show the Detroit third-baseman hitting .375 to .370 for the Cleveland outfielder. Both advanced from identical averages of .366 a week ago.

Others in the first 10 are Walt Dropo, Boston, .353; Walter (Hoot) Evers, Detroit, .347; Johnny Pesky, Boston, .325; Bob Dillinger, Philadelphia, .324; Phil Rizzuto, New York, .322; Eddie Yost, Washington, .320; Ted Williams, Boston, .320; and Paul Lehner, Philadelphia, .318.

Williams leads in several departments—the most runs batted in, 81; most runs, 72; tied with Al Rosen of Cleveland for the most homers, 24; and tied with George Kell for the most doubles, 22.

Kell has the most hits, 103, and Dillinger the most triples, nine. Dom DiMaggio of Boston had the most stolen bases, eight.

Maurice McDermott, Boston southpaw, is the leading pitcher with five victories and one defeat for an .833 average. Allie Reynolds of New York leads in strikeouts with 86.

Joe DiMaggio For First Base

BOSTON, July 4. — (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankee centre-fielder since 1936, will start playing first base, manager Casey Stengel has announced.

DiMaggio worked out at first before today's game with Boston Red Sox. Stengel said the 35-year-old star will open there in tomorrow's game at Washington.

Stengel indicated that the failing fortunes of the Yankees have forced the move. Before today's game, they had lost nine of their last 12 contests.

The Yankee manager also said he plans dropping the light-hitting DiMaggio from fourth to fifth in the batting order. Joe has been hovering around the .260 mark the last few weeks, well below his lifetime average. Stengel said.

"I asked him to try first base for the good of the team. It has been a sore spot all season and so has the outfield. Joe agreed."

TOWYN, Wales, July 3. — (AP) — Sir Henry Haydn Jones, 86, Liberal member of Parliament from 1910-45, died yesterday at his home here.
