The Old Folks.

The faces of the young are bright and fair,
For life to them has much of glad surprise;
But dearer far to me are aged eyes,
And sweet old faces, crowned with silver hair.

Dear old friends! with their minds so full of lore,
Of ancient times and persons now forgot,
Of what our grandmas did, and what did not—
They never wearied giving of their store.

The dearest friends—the ones I love the best—
Are those dear aged ones, whose accents slow,
Drop words of love and comfort as they go,
Whose holy lives speak of eternal rest.

It seemed to me as if the sky at even,
Its glorious radiance of red and gold,
The rosy pink and tint of sapphire told
A little of the glory of a heaven.

And so, "at eventide," we sometimes see
Such purity and loveliness of life,
And such an absence of all care and strife,
As tells of what a life there is to be.

Against Pastor Whitman.

(Joliet News.)

One of the main things to come before the Aurora Association of the Baptist Church, which convened at Yorkville this week, was the troubles of the Baptist Church in this city over Rev. Whitman. Both factions were represented, and after considering the facts as presented, and reviewing the finding of the exparte council, held in Joliet, May 19, 1890, and published in these columns before, the Association unanimously adopted the following, the Whitman faction withdrawing from the session when the report was presented:

If the Rev. Ed. Whitman and the members of his flock who uphold him are dissatisfied with the finding of the council, either because of the character of the evidence presented, or because of the exparte character of the council itself, the remedy is in their own hands, they should either recall the old council, and present to it that evidence which they consider conclusive, or they should comply with the original wish to the minority, and call a mutual council acceptable to both parties, and submit the whole question to its decision.

We would suggest that as the matter is so exceedingly urgent, it ought to be attended to without further delay.

2. Until such action is taken by Mr. Whitman and his friends, this association is bound to accept without qualification, or reserve, or discussion of the evidence, the finding of the council. Said council having been representative in its character, patient and careful in its deliberations, explicit and unanimous in its decision.

3. We moreover recommend the adoption of the following resolution;

That we receive no delegates or letter at this meeting, from the First Baptist Church, of Joliet, 2d, that if by September 1st, 1890, said Church has called a council as suggested and thus conformed to its findings or has adjusted its differences in harmony with the findings of the late council, it shall be regarded in regular standing in this association. 3d, that if at the time named such action has not been taken, then that portion of the church which remains true to Baptist usage, shall in our judgment be entitled to claim rights and recognition, as the First Baptist Church of Joliet, Ill.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Obituary.

The inhabitants of Burnt Point, Georgetown Royalty, deeply mourn the loss of one of their old pioneers, Mr. Peter McPhee, who, after six months' illness, peacefully passed away on the morning of June 10th, at the ripe old age of 77 years. Deceased was a prosperous farmer, being naturally of an industrious disposition, which trait of character was strengthened and encouraged by the prudent counsel of his partner in life. He succeeded in accumulating considerable means which he judiciously invested from time to time in landed property within a short distance of the homestead, and on which he had the pleasure of seeing, before his death, three of his sons comfortably settled. He was the father of five sons and three daughters. Personally, he was hospitable, genial and considerate to the sick and afflicted, humane and generous. His remains were followed to St. James' Church by the largest concourse seen in that locality for many years. A requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. Francis J. McDonald, with Rev. Charles McDonald as deacon, and Rev. Stephen Phelan as sub-deacon. From the church the funeral slowly wended its way to the cemetery, where the last sad rites were performed by Rev. Charles McDonald. The large number of people, of all denominations, which assembled on that lovely June morning, showed that the deceased gentleman was esteemed and respected by all classes and creeds.—COM.

Dundas Notes.

In your issue of the 20th inst., I observed notes from the thriving village of Cardigan Bridge, which are absolutely truthful. Of course, in this village of Dundas we cannot boast of so many resident M. P. P.'s and M. L. C's, but we boast of a good trade and a smart business. We have a branch of the Caledonian Club established; we have four or five stores doing a thriving business, a tailoring establishment, a carriage factory, two hotels, good schools, good churches and eloquent clergymen. We have a weekly trip of the steamer Eldon, with her obliging captain, Mr. Williams. What we want now, and must have before long, is a daily mail. I think that we are entitled to it as well as other places that are enjoying it.

The Upton settlement wants a tri-weekly mail, and it is due to them to get it, as urgent business requires it.

The Scott Act prosecutor, Mr. Nicholson, is doing his very best to root out the liquor traffic. If he only could get the J. P.'s to work in harmony with him, he could put on a bold face towards Montague Bridge and face the lions in their dens.

THE EXAMINER is welcomed here every Saturday. It contains in its columns reliable news, both local and foreign.

Mrs. Archibald McCormack, of Narrows Creek, is past her 103rd year, and is now hale and hearty, can spin and knit, as well and as smart as ever. She was born in Scotland. Her eyesight is good and clear.

Dundas, June 28th, 1890.

Newton Cross Notes.

The crops in this vicinity are in a flourishing condition, and promise to be prolific. Indeed, all the cereals and root crops seem to have had a good start except the hay crop, which ought to be out in head at present.

The annual school meeting in this district was held on Tuesday, June 19th, as appointed. The retiring trustee was James Cody, Esq., and James Roche was elected in his place. The staff of Trustees now are James Cody, James Roche and George McPherson, with John Poor, Esq., as Secretary. Mr. Patrick J. Bolger, who was the teacher in this School for the year ending June 30th, is also appointed for the ensuing year.

The parishioners of this settlement, the Valley and Irish Montague are enlarging their beautiful Chapel, namely St. Michael's, by erecting a frame to the eastern end, into which, when completed, the altar will be moved. A new vestry is also in course of construction. As the work is proceeding rapidly at present, owing to the liberal contributions of the parishioners, it will likely be completed at an early date.

Mr. Joseph Roche, student from Montague Cross, who was lately attending St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, has returned home on a visit to his friends.

One of our oldest residents, Mr. Thomas Morrissey, aged 87, is very low at present, and is not expected to recover. He has been ailing since the 1st of June, and is every day sinking under his sickness.

As this is the season for sheep dogs to run at large, it would be well for owners of dogs to see to this matter and save them from the powder.

HIGH LINE.—Among the lobster men this season, Frank Larkins, Esq., of Nail Pond, is high line, having already packed over 1,000 cases of fish.

SENT HOME.—The American Vice-Consul at Alberton has sent home to Boston, via Charlottetown and the Boston steamer, the crew of the wrecked schooner Caroline Vaught. They were 17 in number. The underwriters are causing a survey.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.—At the annual meeting of King's County Rifle Association, held in Georgetown on the 21st inst., the following officers were appointed for the ensuing year: President—Hon A J McDonald; Members of Council—E Stewart, N McLaren, A P Hobbs, J D Bell, Dr G Gillis, Dr B Johnston, J McKinnon; Secretary-Treasurer—E Stewart.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes.
