

THE NOKOMIS AND CAPT. WALTERS

Capt. Walters Of "Bluenose" Fame On Visit To Summerside

Captain Angus Walters, famed captain of the renowned schooner "Bluenose" sailed into Summerside harbor yesterday morning in a ship which made his name synonymous with sailing throughout the world. Making his first visit to the port of Summerside, Captain Walters, a 66-foot lighthouse tender, built in Lunenburg, for the Department of Transport, and on her maiden voyage to Port Arthur, Ontario, where she will be used in the work of the Department on Lake Superior. The trim little ship, of steel construction, modern and comfortable in every respect, is powered by a 210 horsepower diesel engine, and has a maximum speed of about 10 knots. Carrying a crew of seven, the "Nokomis" called at Summerside to take on fuel and water, and this was her first call since previously refueling at Halifax. Built in Lunenburg, a town famous for its fishing fleets and wooden ships; the "Nokomis" is the third ship of steel construction that has been built in Lunenburg by the Lunenburg Foundry and engineering Ltd. and the second such ship to be purchased by the Department of Transport.

The first one, the "Prima Vista" called at Summerside last July 10th enroute to Montreal. On Board both ships was Captain C.H. Bolly, of the Department of Transport, who supervised their construction at Lunenburg.

Captain Walters, in reading the Guardian on his arrival at Summerside, expressed an interest in several events which he noted in the newspaper, and said he intended to make a vacation visit to Prince Edward Island during the summer when he returns from Ontario.

Soviet-Built Subs For Egypt A Threat To Israel

JERUSALEM (AP)—News that three Soviet-built submarines have joined the Egyptian fleet caused new alarm today among Israeli officials. They are believed to be Egypt's first undersea craft, and Israel has none. Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion met with his cabinet in a special session which lasted until early this morning. A communique said only that security matters were discussed, but it was obvious that the Egyptian-Soviet submarine deal was high on the agenda. Israeli officials fear the undersea craft may be used against Israeli shipping, particularly in the disputed Gulf of Aqaba leading to the southern Israeli port of Eilat. Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Jordan claim the gulf is Arab territorial water. EGYPT THWARTED Since the Israeli invasion last fall Egypt has had no effective way to interfere with shipping to and from Eilat. Israeli troops occupied and destroyed Egypt's Sinai Desert gun positions commanding the entrance to the gulf, then turned the position over to the United Nations Emergency Force. Egypt has been wary of

Visitor From California Sees Ancestral Burlington

To cross a Continent to visit the birthplace of his parents, the goal of Nelson Evans, born in Ykiah, in the State of California; the past week his dream was realized when he and Mrs. Evans were guests of his cousin, Mrs. James Sheen and Mr. Sheen at Kensington. Recently retired as locomotive engineer, of the Southern Pacific Railway system after forty-four years of service, Mr. Evans visited the homes of his parents, Nelson Evans and Elizabeth Jane Millman at Burlington. He was grateful to the present owner of the Millman home, Col. E. W. Johnstone, for conducting the "son from far away" about the scenes once descended to a small boy by his mother. This lovely home "Woodleigh" with its interesting grounds is widely known as a mecca for visitors from near and far. Other shrines of interest visited were the Church of his parents, St. Stephen's, Burlington, the graves of his grandparents, and St. Mark's Church, Kensington. The comments about Kensington were most favourable, it is the finest Federal Building, High School, and beautiful homes. One could but wonder how Prince Edward Island would appear to eyes accustomed to the eternal snows of the Coast Range Mountains of California, and the magnificence of the Sequoia Forests (giant redwoods the worlds oldest trees.) The remark of the visitors as they enjoyed the green and red of Island soil and the glory of pink and white bloom in orchard and every roadside bush was: "simply lovely."

Jail Term For S' side Youth

A 16-year-old Summerside Youth was sentenced to 14 months in Prince County Jail by Magistrate E.H. Strong Q.C. in Police Court, Summerside yesterday after the youth had earlier pleaded guilty to break,entry and theft from the store of Fred Gaudet, located at the corner of Notre Dame and Cedar Streets. Magistrate Strong told the youth, who admitted taking part in five different breaks in Summerside and Kensington, that in consideration of his age he was reluctant to send the boy to the penitentiary and therefore was giving him one more chance by committing him to the local jail. However, the Magistrate warned the boy that he would be sent to the penitentiary if he ever again appeared before him on a criminal charge. The youth is already under a two-year suspended sentence due to conviction of possession of stolen goods last February, which was later appealed in Supreme Court resulting in the suspended term. What additional penalty, if any, will result because of the suspended sentence is a matter for the higher court. A party from Abram's Village charged with failing to report a car accident in which his vehicle was involved had his case adjourned until June 21st by consent. The accident occurred last Wednesday on Water Street.

Defends Plans To Sell Nfld. Company To Private Interests

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood said Tuesday night that Conservatives have been consistently wrong for 60 years in opposing plans of Liberal governments for developing Newfoundland. In a radio and television broadcast he defended his government's plans to sell control of Newfoundland and Labrador Corporation to Canadian Javelin Limited. The company which engineered a deal which leading steel concerns will spend up to $500,000,000 to mine an estimated 22,000,000 tons of iron ore a year in Labrador. Progressive Conservatives have waged a vigorous campaign against implementation of legislation enabling the government to sell Nalco, charging the government intends to give away the province's birthright. They say "several thousand" persons have signed petitions against the deal. Mr. Smallwood said the conservatives opposed the Newfoundland railway 60 years ago, and paper mill developments at Grand Falls and Corner Brook. They held public meetings and on one occasion kicked a prime minister over the end of a wharf, he said. "But Newfoundland was developed."

By selling Javelin control of Nalco, Mr. Smallwood said, it is hoped to attract private investment capital into Newfoundland and Labrador in the manner British capital was drawn in by the Rothschild-created British Newfoundland Corporation. Brinco was given sole mineral, timber and water power concessions on a 60,000-square-mile area. Nalco would have sole mineral and timber rights in a 24,000-square-mile area. Both concessions include 10,000 square miles in Newfoundland and both revert gradually to the crown over a number of years. Brinco agreements bring the government eight per cent of mining profits before taxes. In addition to the five-percent mining tax. Mr. Smallwood said Javelin president, John C. Doyle had been challenged "to make Nalco an American and Canadian mining Brinco." He said he hoped the Nalco sale would "bring into Newfoundland and into Labrador a large number of large American and Canadian mining corporations to spend money on a large scale search for minerals." The opposition says Javelin will make a lot of money out of this, Mr. Smallwood said. "I certainly hope they will. The more they make the more we will."

There was no doubt that Newfoundland must develop. But the high cost and speculative nature of mineral exploration — Javelin must guarantee to spend $1,000,000 made it an unwise pursuit for the government. Private companies must be induced to make the gamble, and "if they do they deserve their profits."

Mr. Smallwood said there are precedents for giving large concessions to private companies before Brinco was formed. The commission of government before Confederation gave a 22,000-square-mile concession to the Labrador Mining and Smelting Corporation, of which they would eventually give back 21,000 square miles. American Buchanan Mining Company had received a 5,000-square-mile concession.

Work Togs Vie With Play Ones

TORONTO CP — "Men at work." The sign will be necessary if male clothing designers have their way, for your industrial worker of the future may be clad in flashy, eye-catching work clothes that would do justice to a movie star. The idea of promoting fashion consciousness in the Canadian male was advanced Tuesday as some 300 manufacturers of the National Garment Association of Canada viewed a collection of sportswear and work and utility clothes. In an attempt to initiate fashion trends, the association staged a men's fashion show giving "inspirational" design ideas to the manufacturer.

DRESS-UP TREND

The "dress-up" trend was first shown in shirt and slack co-ordinates. One, a turquoise chambray pullover, had a narrow collar with squared freedom neckline which may be worn zipped closed or open with lapels turned back. It featured extra short sleeves and doubled welt pockets on the left side. Brown herringbone corduroy slacks had wide belt loops with front-type pockets cut straight across the top. Stitched-down creases in the slacks will be a boon to housewives — they require no pressing and are of a drip-dry fabric. Creating a stir among the manufacturers was an orange pullover shirt worn with co-ordinated grey and white cotton cord slacks. The shirt had a narrow collar with pockets set into horizontal yoke. Sleeves may be worn down or turned back and cuffed. BUILT-IN CREASE The slacks had slim lines with patch pockets in back, stitched down creases and cuffless bottoms with stitching. Denim and knit jersey were popular fabrics. Bold patterns were used and color combinations included brown and orange, green and white, and red and blue. The "elegant look" came to the fore in sportswear. Giving a dress-up appearance, these clothes are made to bridge the gap between tailored clothing and "knock-about" leisure wear. Jackets in beige, yellow and brown were shown in leather and knit combinations. All collars, cuffs and pockets were trimmed with leather. Some had zipped-in linings in gay floral designs. Among the innovations was an eye-catching red pullover-jacket with a zipped-in chamois lining.

High School And Academy Graduation Exercises Held

Civic Auditorium in Summerside was filled almost to capacity last night as Summerside High School and Academy held the annual commencement exercises. Dr. L.W. Shaw, Deputy Minister and Director of Education, addressed the graduates. He congratulated those who were successful in obtaining diplomas and certificates, and said that even those who had worked hard, and failed were due for congratulation, for as a writer had aptly put it, "Not failure but low aim is crime."

Dr. Shaw said that in his day a person holding a first class teacher's license was considered well educated, but this does not hold true today. Competition is very keen and a grade XII education is not enough. Students today must get as much education as they possibly can. "Don't make the mistake of leaving your studies before you are adequately prepared," the speaker cautioned. Dr. Shaw spoke of the great need for education in the world today. There was a shortage of engineers, of doctors, of teachers, and of trained personnel in other professions. "If you take advantage of the educational opportunities offered to you today," the speaker concluded, "you will be the type of citizen this country of ours needs, which indeed it demands."

D.O. Stewart, chairman of the Summerside Board of Trustees, was master of ceremonies. Certificates, diplomas and prizes were presented by Clarence Mercer school supervisor; by H.T. Holman, Mrs. Wilfred Perry, Herb Schurman, and members of the staff. Davis Lidstone and Elmer Pineau.

Mrs. Maureen Forbes opened the exercises with two piano solos with Gabriel Chiasson as accompanist. James Norton delivered the valedictory address, and Mr. Chiasson's Glee Club sang "Land Of Hope and Glory" as a closing number.
