THE KING'S COUNTY ELECTION CASE
THE EVIDENCE.

J. R. McLEAN, cross-examined by Mr. Hodgson.—I know Stephen McEachern. I saw him in November. I don't remember the exact day. I had Matthew Fahey's horse. I talked to him about this suit. I did not say it was disagreeable business going to Georgetown. I did not say that the aim was at me and not at McIntyre. Not in those words. I said I believe the party that was bringing the suit wanted to fine me. I did not say I hoped the witnesses would be careful as there was a fine of $200. I said I believed that any witness that proved he was bribed would be liable to a fine of $200. I saw Garrett about the same time. I think I said the same thing to him. I met Daniel McEachern on the road. I did not say the same thing to him. I spoke only three or four words to him. I supported Dr. McIntyre. I don't know if I was classed an active supporter. I wouldn't consider myself more than ordinary. I don't know what you mean by an active supporter. I voted for him, and canvassed for him, and spoke at public meetings for him. I don't know that ever I attended a meeting exclusively of McIntyre's supporters. In Anderson's buildings I considered that McIntyre's supporters met. I believe that McIntyre's supporters used to meet there. I can't say how often it was open. I might have been there five or six times. I was there more than once. I don't know that there was any place other than Anderson's buildings where Dr. McIntyre's supporters met. I know that others than McIntyre's supporters attended some of the meetings in Anderson's buildings. There was no public meetings I think held there. I presume George B. McEachern, was a supporter of Dr. McIntyre. I don't know that he represented him at the polls. I believe he was a supporter of Dr. McIntyre. I suppose Dr. McIntyre had plenty of as strong supporters in the country as myself. I did not use extraordinary force to support Dr. McIntyre. There might have been plenty of stronger supporters in the country than myself. I cannot consistently swear that I am a strong supporter of Dr. McIntyre. Hugh McEachern came from Daniel McEachern's. The two Hollands are on the same farm and the two houses would be eight or ten chains apart. I don't remember of ever having told Dr. McIntyre how we were getting on in the canvass. I may have told McIntyre how the canvass was getting on.
Re-examined by Mr. Davies.—I did not go through the County with Dr. McIntyre at all. I addressed a meeting at Souris for a few minutes. I made a few remarks on Dominion Elections, and called on Mr. Stewart to speak. I gave way to him with the privilege of addressing the meeting after. I did not get the chance to speak after. I did not address any other public meeting in the County. Dr. McIntyre did not ask me to go canvassing on his behalf. I don't think that Dr. McIntyre could have known I was out with Whelan, unless he heard it Election day. I never told him I think Dr. McIntyre had a copy of the particulars furnished by Dr. Muttart. He showed the particulars to me. I went to see Garrett and McEachern because the particulars furnished to McIntyre charged me with offering bribes to these men. When I went to McEachern's I saw him. I asked him if he really made those statements. He said he did not know how those statements got out. He went on to say that two boys were disputing about politics, and one had said to the other that there was liquor used. I said to them boys, there is no use in quarrelling about this. I got some liquor myself from McIntyre's friends, or some words to that effect. I said that any witness that proved they were bribed or took a bribe were liable to a fine of $200. Mr. McEachern and Mr. Garrett appeared to be very sorry they had mixed themselves up in it.
JAMES MOYNAH, Junior, called on behalf of respondent, sworn and examined by Mr. Davies.—I know Daniel Whelan. I saw him the night before the election, and the night before again. I remember when his father went driving with McLean. His father was at my place that morning. He borrowed some harness. I put the two bottles in the wagon. His son Daniel the night before bought two bottles of liquor. I don't know what he bought them for. He didn't say. He did not take them with him. He said he'd call in again. It was the night before Mr. Whelan came down. Daniel often bought liquor from me. Well, occasionally. I thought he was going on a cruise. I put it in Whelan's wagon next morning, because Dan made the remark he was going to drive George McEachern. I did not speak to old Mr. Whelan at all. I know the wagon. I thought Dan might be in Souris so I put it in the wagon.
Cross-examined by Mr. Hodgson.—McEachern might have been a supporter of McIntyre and Robertson. I have asked parties to support McIntyre and Robertson during the last campaign. I made no secret that I was supporting McIntyre and Robertson. I was under the impression that McIntyre knew I was supporting him. I have no doubt McEachern supported Dr. McIntyre. I mean that he voted for him. I was under that impression. I thought so because he was advocating McIntyre's policy. I don't know if he attended caucus meeting. I did not. I don't know what you mean by caucus meetings. I heard of a caucus often. It is a common word. I heard little boys using it, but I don't know that they understand its literal sense. McEachern was a clerk at Matthew McLean's. He left McLean's on account of politics. That was generally understood at least. I can't tell that John McEachern was a strong supporter of Muttart's, but I believe he was a supporter of Muttart's. McEachern nor McEachern never told me that McEachern left on account of politics. It was rumored round that that was the reason. Daniel Whelan told me that he was going with George B. McEachern. He did not tell me what the purpose was. He generally calls in and gets liquor when he goes to parties, and I thought it was something of that kind. Balls, geese, playing and such like. I don't mean to infer that it was geese playing at that time.

CURRENT NOTES.

Spain and Chili have resumed friendly relations.
The Ameer of Afghanistan is about to pay a friendly visit to India.
It is feared that the coming fruit crop of southern Illinois will be greatly lessened by the damage done to orchards by the recent storms.
Thirty thousand tons of new shipping has been ordered on the Coast during the last fortnight, including two steamers for the North German Lloyd's.
"Mister, I say, I don't suppose you don't know of nobody who don't want to hire nobody to do nothing don't you?" The answer was, "Yes, I don't."
An enterprising American is traveling through the country about Toronto buying up bleached ashes to ship to Rhode Island and Connecticut. They are to be used for fertilizing purposes, principally for the tobacco plant.
Two girls, of high fashion, coming into a reception room at Saratoga, met a fat citizen's wife quitting it. Oh! said one of them pretty loud, "there is beef-aria-mode going out." "Yes" answered the fat woman, and "there is game going in."
Mrs. Partington returns from the seaside. "Yes, I've been to a sea-side resort. I have had my summer extortion, and I must confess my anticipations surpassed my expectations. To people in indignant circumstances the recommendations might be satisfactory; but it is beyond my comprehension how people of effluence—people who have luxurious homes, surrounded by all that embellishes civilized life—can put up in such a cavern. They must have invested tastes."
The London Times says it is probable that T. M. Healy's scheme for local government in Ireland will form the basis of the chief Irish bill. On the address in reply to the speech from the throne there will be a debate on the general subject of the Irish policy of the government. Partell will demand an official account of the private inquiry held at Dublin Castle, and will point out the necessity of further measures for the relief of distress in Ireland. A bill to amend the land act has been already drafted.
The Lord Mayor of London has been waited on by a deputation asking him to start a fund for the relief of the distress in the west of Ireland. Owing, however, to the inflammatory character of the speeches delivered at the meeting at which the scheme originated, his lordship expressed the belief that the success of such a fund would be doubtful. But he intimated his willingness to receive subscriptions for the object named, and, if the amount received justified it, to open a fund later on.
The Chinese American, the first Chinese paper published in America, appeared in New York last Saturday. The name of the editor is Wong Chin Foo. The editing and printing differ materially from the processes common with other publications. The editor will dictate to a Chinese artist, who prints or paints the matter, with India ink and a short stick, on paper. From this it will be photo-lithographed, and impressions taken from the stone thus prepared. But for this process it is said the publication would be impossible, on account of the cost, as only a limited patronage is possible.
The "rising" properties of yeast are familiar to all housewives; but in their wildest imaginings they never supposed that barm was powerful enough to blow the roof off their domiciles. Yet if we are to believe the story of a German brewer in Nevada, dynamite is a harmless plaything compared to the savage yeast. The brewer experimented with some of this new explosive at half strength, and it blew one end out of his brewery and carried off one of his legs. We hope the brewer will not be discouraged or discontinue his interesting experiments. Let him try the yeast at its full power—he has one end of his barn and one leg still left.
The Americans are paying a great amount of attention to forestry just now, and all sorts of schemes for promoting the growth of trees are presented to their legislative bodies. The Dakota Forestry Bill, now before Congress, provides for setting apart 256,000 acres of public lands in that territory, specified portions of which are to be planted with trees. The New York Tribune denounces it as an ingenious land grab, and in urging its defect makes the statement that "trees cannot be cultivated with profit or success in 'Dakota west of the James River.'" This holds out a very poor prospect for immigrants who makes their home in that dry and thirsty land in preference to our fertile Northwest.
An investigation was commenced before Stipendiary Prynor this morning into the alleged case of assault by Mr. O. S. Weeks, whereby his wife was said to have been injured. The legal gentlemen engaged were Messrs. McCoy, Sedgewick, Meager and Pearson. Dr. T. R. Almon testified to having been called upon to attend Mrs. W., and found her suffering from bruises, but none of the wounds indicated in the process that had been taken out. The Dr. had come to that portion of his testimony in which he was about to state what his patient had told him at the time, when objections were raised, and in order to give the Magistrate an opportunity to consider the point, the investigation was adjourned until Friday at noon. The Stipendiary read a letter from Mrs. W., in which she stated that all matters appertaining having been amicably arranged, there was no need to proceed further in regard to it.—Halifax Recorder, Feb. 13.
