Fine Variety Concert Given At Baptist Hall

It was called a Variety Concert and variety there was aplenty. And it was all very good. Very good indeed as the large audience applauded each performer heartily.

Under the auspices of the Men's Association of Charlottetown Baptist Men's Association the concert is an annual affair.

Over two hours in length, the audience packed into the basement of the hall were a little warm but they were entertained. A number of the winners and runners-up of the recent Musical Festival were on hand to contribute to their talent.

David MacDonald brought down the house with his two arias concerned with the provincial political situation and the Prince of Wales Male Quartette were peppy, funny and proved to be four talented young men.

The Central Royalty Double Quartette sang two numbers proving that the adjudicators knew their business when they awarded them 86 marks in their class.

President Wilson Ross welcomed the large crowd and expressed his thanks to the participating artists: Ralph Rupert as Master of Ceremonies kept the
