THIRD CAR OF SEED GRAIN - The Department of Agriculture Saturday morning received the third car of seed grain. This makes slightly over 5,000 bushels imported by the Government since May 19 for distribution throughout the Province, a larger portion of which went to the eastern section of the Island. The last of the government will purchase for distribution, as it is believed the shortage will have been pretty well supplied.

ROAD SIGNS NEGLECTED - A number of Charlottetown motorists who planned on driving to York Point Sunday afternoon got stuck on White's Hill and had to huddle out by teams. No signs were erected at the approach to this road from North River Corner to notify the public that the road was impassable and motorists were loud in their criticism of the Highways Department for their neglect.

POLICE COURT - A motorist appeared in the Police Court Saturday charged with escaping from custody. It appears that the defendant was operating a car with last year's markers. A warrant for his arrest was issued and a week ago he was met by one of the members of the R. C. M. P. and told he was under arrest. The officer was asked to produce the warrant and the officer replied it was not in his possession. The motorist then broke away. The case was adjourned until next Saturday. A lad charged with 'speeding' on a bicycle was dismissed.

R.C.N.V.R.'S LEAVE FOR HALIFAX - Ten members of the local R. C. N. V. R. half-company left Saturday for Halifax where they will undergo a period of training. They will be away from two to six weeks. The men taking the leave include, Messrs. Carl Prowse, James Leightner, Robert MacMillan, Charles Burke, James Carragher, Ernest Crockett, William Connolly, Harold Gaudet, Richard LeClair and J. Gillan. Ernest Diamond and James Walker returned from Halifax Saturday. They had been in the Nova Scotia city taking a four-week naval course.

PAINFULLY INJURED - Myron Bell, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bell, Charlottetown, was in the Prince Edward Island Hospital last night suffering from a fractured leg received yesterday when the bicycle on which he was riding was in collision with a motor car. It was understood that the boy was crossing from his father's property on the Malpeque Road to a neighbors house when the accident occurred. A car was stopped at the gate picking up a passenger and the young lad shot-out from behind the parked vehicle into the road directly in front of an approaching car. The accident took place about 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. JAMES KIRK. Both services at St. James Presbyterian Church were largely attended yesterday. The Minister, the Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, D., preached on both occasions, D. based his morning sermon on the verses 12 and 13 of the first chapter of Titus, 'One of them said, The Crelians are always liars, evil beasts, slow-bellies' and 'For this cause I left thee in Crete, that thou shouldst set in order the things that are wanting.' The sermon appears elsewhere in this issue.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH. The Rev. H. L. Denton, B. D. at the Baptist Church yesterday morning delivered the first of a series of five sermons under the general theme of 'Strange Religion.' In the lesson of the morning we have read St. Paul's eloquent defense before Agrippa, not only a defense but a great testimony. He conscientiously persecuted the Christians 'many of the saints I shut up in prison; and when they were put to death I gave my voice against them. I punished them oft, I caused them to blaspheme, I persecuted them unto strange cities.'

During the Offertory the choir delivered the evening Anthem, with Mrs. Lemuel MacDougall as soloist. ST. DUNSTAN'S BASILICA. Yesterday, Pentecost Sunday, the High Mass at St. Dunstan's Basilica was celebrated by Rev. Dr. Elsworth of St. Dunstan's University, assisted by Rev. Fr. MacCardie as deacon and Rev. Father Cass as sub-deacon. The sermon was preached by Rev. Father Dougan, who took 'Pentecost' as the theme of his inspiring discourse. The 4th Charlottetown Company of Girl Guides attended this service in a body.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL. Yesterday being Whit Sunday the services throughout the day were festive. The Altar hangings and Vestments worn were red. There were celebrations of the Holy Eucharist at 7 and 8 a. m., the latter being very largely attended. The 11 o'clock service opened with the singing of the hymn 'Come, Thou Holy Spirit, Come' in procession, which was followed by a choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist. The Rev. Canon Banks was the preacher. There was a large congregation present. After the service the congregation assembled in the Cathedral Hall, when the presentation of a wellfilled purse was made to the Rev. Canon Banks, as a small token of the great appreciation of his services to the congregation. A presentation of silver was also made on behalf of the congregation to Major P. S. Fielding, the Cathedral Organist, who is, as already announced shortly to be married. At Evening service the Rev. Dr. Hunt took the service, and the Rev. Canon Banks preached. The hymn 'Come, Thou Holy Spirit, Come,' after which a solemn Te Deum was sung before the Altar. The Rev. Canon Banks left for Guelph this morning. Until the return of the Rev. Canon Malone, the Rev. Dr. Hunt will be in charge of St. Peter's.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

The Sons of England Society in their annual church parade attended service in Trinity Church yesterday morning and made a very creditable turnout. Seats were reserved for the members who were all adorned with a beautiful red rose. Provision was also made for an ample supply of roses for each member of the choir. These were greatly appreciated. There was a large congregation. Rev. Hugh Miller delivered a most appropriate sermon from the text 'And Moses took the bones of Joseph with him.' We cannot ignore the past. It is a spirit of force, an inspiration. We may profit by both the mistakes and successes, the weakness and the strength of the past. You have much to praise and emulate. All nations are proud of the 'stability of government' of Great Britain. There has never been anything like it in all history. Can you conceive of anything finer than the loyalty and devotion to the Crown and the dignity and strength of Parliament. We may well emulate our motherland in its respect for law and order. Honour and trust are the secrets of a well-governed country. Rev. Mr. Miller then referred to the part the Motherland has played and continues to play in maintaining the peace of the world. Its outcome has been disappointing but the part played by Great Britain is worthy of great praise. In the course of his praise added greatly to the beauty and grace of the worship including a solo finely rendered by Mr. A. R. Gillis and an inspiring chorus at the Offertory in which Mrs. Roy Cudmore was soloist. At the close of the service the National Anthem was sung with vim and enthusiasm. In the evening the guests, presided over by Mr. James Fowler of Sackville, whose singing was much appreciated. Rev. Mr. Miller was the preacher, and spoke on the subject of 'Broken Idols.' His text was 1 Kings, 17-7, 'And it came to pass after a while that the brook dried up.'

PEOPLES' CHURCH. The first Sabbath Service of the season was held in the Church of Scotland last evening with a good attendance. The Minister, the Rev. Ewen MacDougall, B.D., preached the sermon from the text, 'The sacrifices of God, are a broken spirit, a broken and a contrite heart, O God Thou wilt not despise.' Psalm 51: verse 17. The words, uttered under the weight of conviction, are a deep confession of sin, the Minister pointed out. In order to ascertain the power of sacrifice we may take the earliest records of the Word of God, the religious sacrifices offered by Cain and Abel. 'It is well to keep this record in view,' said Rev. Mr. MacDougall, and it is not well to do, as many are doing, to throw away the early chapters of Genesis as mythological for they are in true harmony with the teachings of Christ. Cain brought forth as a sacrifice the emblems of pride, of accomplishment on his part and it was not acceptable to God. Both Cain and Abel knew that God had warned Adam that he had said: 'In the day that thou eatest-thou shalt surely die.' Translated from the Hebrew more correctly, 'Dying, thou shalt die.' A power of death operating as a process. 'Thou shalt become a dying creature.' In this first sin, called by some theologians, original sin, all men come under the wages of sin, Death. Man cannot of himself do anything nor can he offer any sacrifice that will merit his salvation. God sent His son Christ Jesus into the world to die for us. We cannot add to the sacrifice he made. We can only bring unto God a broken spirit, a contrite heart. Right down to the present day, we find the same type of religion which Cain had. Man doing, and offering, for his soul's salvation carried so far away with formalities, rites, and ceremonies that they think there is virtue in these things. Yet all down through the ages there have been the true worshippers of Jehovah whose religion is a prayer a confession, a broken spirit. The conversion of the soul must be associated with death, the death of the old spirit of self-righteousness and pride, the institution of a new heart, a new life. The indwelling of the spirit of God, He who would bring unto God a sacrifice pleasing unto Him must come with that realization of his own sense of repentance, and his inability to do or accomplish anything on his own strength which will merit God's mercy. The services closed with the singing of Psalms and Benediction by the Minister.

Draegermen To Trinity United Church

Stellarton's Draeger corps, heroes of the Moose River mine rescue, will be in Charlottetown, Friday June 5th, to give Islanders an insight into the dangerous trade which they pursue. The Draegermen will give a demonstration at the Forum in the evening of the method employed at Moose River and illustrate the type of hazardous work they are called upon to perform in the dangerous gas-filled coal mines. The crew will enact the thrilling mine rescue that held the world spellbound for over a week when they liberated two entombed Toronto men through the dangerous Reynolds' shaft at a risk of their own lives. In addition they will give an exhibition of real Draeger work by staging a typical rescue as performed in a coal mine after a gas explosion. The show should be educational as well as edifying to those who followed breathlessly the work of those men at Moose River.

FOUR LIVES

One thousand rifles were captured today by French frontier guards on the Syrian border, it was reported here. Three cars had attempted to smuggle the arms into Palestine. Yesterday two British constables were caught in an ambush near Beersheba. One was wounded. One Arab was slain and many others were wounded when troops and police, searching Acraha, were fired upon and retaliated by driving off the insurgents. Police pursued and shot down an Arab near Herzlia after an attack on a cooperative farm in which a Jewish settler was wounded. Several thousand trees were uprooted at Tiberias and Hedera, and crops were burned at Balfouria, near Nazareth. Constables were fired upon while delivering supplies to Arab political exiles. A quarry near Qalqilia was wrecked during an attack. The burning of grain fields and citrus groves was widespread.
