Record Crowd Reported At Lennox Island Sunday

A record crowd of nearly 6,000 people visited Lennox Island yesterday as the Mic Mac Indians on the reservation celebrated St. Anne's Sunday, an annual event dedicated to their patron saint.

A sunny day and placid waters added to the enjoyment of the event which annually attracts visitors from the mainland to points in the United States. Many families carried their own lunches but the canteens were busy at all times, especially the barbeque chicken pit which as always was a popular spot.

Solemn High Mass was celebrated at 11 a.m. by Deacon, Very Rev. Father Moreau, C. S. R., of Charlottetown, who preached the sermon. Rev. Leonard MacDonald, Wellington, who said Mass, and Rev. P. Murnaghan, Grand River, sub-deacon.

Of great interest to many visitors was the handicraft booth which displayed a wide variety of Indian made items, including baskets, bows and arrows and tomahawks.

Directing the preparation and conducting the program was Rev. E. W. MacInnis, resident priest, assisted by the Indian agent Mr. P. MacNeill and others.

A fleet of dories transported the huge crowd from the mainland and the crossing was thoroughly enjoyed by all as the three quarter mile stretch of water was very calm and many made the trip more than once.

Firemen Subdue Stubborn Fire In Montrose House

Alberton and Tignish Fire Departments were called out during the noon hour on Saturday to fight a stubborn house fire in Montrose. The house, owned by Fred C. Ramsay, M.L.A., and located across the road from his own residence, was occupied by Mr. Ramsay's hired man, Alme Cormier, his wife and two-year-old son.

The fire appeared to have started on the north side of the second story and spread between the walls. Its origin is not known.

The entire second floor is gutted and the roof badly damaged. Since the Cormier family occupy only the first floor, they were able to remove practically all their furnishings and clothing to safety. So their personal loss is negligible.

Damage to the house is estimated at approximately $1,500.00. It could not be learned whether or not the house was insured since the owner is absent from the Province.

'Wonderful Reception' Says U.S. Officer Of Visit Here

"We have met with a wonderful reception in Summerside," stated Capt. Paul Stadler of the U. S. S. McClelland Saturday morning while talking to reporters on board the destroyer escort.

"The citizens have been wonderful to us," added Capt. Stadler, who is in command of the ship which has a complement of 93 men and six officers and is primarily a U.S. naval training ship.

Capt. Stadler and his executive officer Lt. George Derby were very enthusiastic over the reception given the personnel of their ship, which included dances, outings to the National Park, sports and various activities for their weekend stay in Summerside.

Capt. Stadler revealed that the U. S. S. McClelland was commissioned in 1944 and named in memory of Ensign Thomas A. McClelland of Denver, Colo., a navy pilot who was killed in the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor.

The McClelland saw action at Iwo Jima, Okinawa and other Pacific battles as well as assisting in the destruction of many Japanese planes.

Funeral Held At Bloomfield

The funeral of Mrs. David Foster was held on Monday afternoon, July 21st., from the home of Mr. Andrew Dollar, Brookfield, and was largely attended. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. Canon J. T. Ibbot.

Pall bearers were: Gerald Hooper, Harry Moore, John Poole, Harry Younker, Reagh Coles and Russel Proud. The interment was in the Milton Cemetery.

Laughing Death Is Still Puzzle

(Reuters)—Kuru, the "laughing death" of the eastern highlands of Papua which the natives ascribe to sorcery, is still baffling medical experts there, an Australian doctor said Saturday.

The disease, which first appeared about 30 years ago, is invariably fatal. It kills its victim within a year. It has an incidence of at least one per cent among the 15,000 people of Kianantu sub-district.

Kuru produces disorders in walking and balance and tremors which spread to the limbs, trunk and neck. The tremors cause complete incapacity, followed by coma and death.

Dr. Alex Sinclair, a Melbourne psychiatrist who visited the Kianantu sub-district, said he had seen mothers "laughing at the pathetic efforts of their own children to stand erect when afflicted with the disease."

The native belief in sorcery as the cause produced intense fear and insecurity. Realiatory killing was among the victims' ways of attempting to counteract the sorcery, Dr. Sinclair said.

PYJAMA PANTS ARE SHOCKING

LONDON (AP)—A pair of blue and white striped pyjama pants fluttered irreverently Saturday from one of the ancient towers of Westminster Abbey.

Never in hundreds of years of history had anything like this ever happened.

Here was the place where William the Conqueror had been crowned, and nearly every monarch after him.

Scotland Yard concluded its investigation quickly.

Nearby Westminster boys school, one of the oldest in the world, shuts down for the summer on Monday.

Elementary, my dear Watson.

"I know who did it," said one of the schoolboys, "but wild horses wouldn't drag his name from me."

SEEK NURSING AID

OTTAWA CP — The federal government will consider ways of encouraging student nurses to remain in training, Health Minister Monteith said Friday in the Commons. He was replying to F.J. Bigg P.C. of Alberta who suggested that in view of the shortage of nurses the federal government should encourage the student nurses through the payment of $1 a day during training.

Veterans Meet After 40 Years

A re-union of two veterans of World War One took place recently at the home of Ernest Gaudet of St. Nicholas, when for the first time in forty years Ernest Gaudet met Al Forrest, now residing in New York, but originally from Jamaica.

For thirty eight years Mr. Forrest had been trying to locate his old pal and had enquired of every Islander he met. Finally, two years ago, he met a lady who knew him and communicated with him. This summer he decided to visit P. E. I. and called on Mr. Gaudet and it was the first time in forty years that Mr. Gaudet met any of the boys he had been on active duty with overseas.

Mr. Gaudet and Mr. Forrest served with the 60th Battalion and the 87th Montreal Grenadier Guards.
