A TEST!

The political corruption in Prince Edward Island is, just now, a by-word all over Canada. Everyone has heard of the trick played by the Government upon Mr. Wise; everyone knows about the Pineau scandal; and everyone wants to know whether or not the people of this Province are in agreement with the politicians who have made this Province so widely notorious—whether or not a majority can be found to approve of the Farquharson trick and the Pineau treason? The first question we hear on the cars and on the steamers is concerning the political corruption reported to be rampant here. What is the Island going to do about it? And the answer of every resident who is anxious for his country's good character, is "Wait until the next election."

The question is forthwith to be brought home to the electors of West River, Rustico, North River, Milton, etc. If the government candidate should be elected, it will at once be said that the people of the Island are as bad as the politicians guilty of the offences which have made their Province notorious throughout the length and breadth of Canada. The character of the people of the Province is thus in the hands of the electors of the Second District of Queen's. We feel sure they will rise to the occasion.

INFORMATION FOR P. E. ISLAND ELECTORS.

We have again to thank Mr. Alexander Martin, whose timely thoughtfulness has secured amendments to the bill for consolidating and amending the law relating to the election of members of the House of Commons, which will render the law more applicable to Prince Edward Island and more intelligible to electors. Mr. Martin's amendments were all accepted by the House of Commons. It is now provided that the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery shall, immediately after the issue of the writ of election, transmit to the returning officers in this province, besides a sufficient number of voters' lists and a copy of the elections law, "one copy of the Franchise Act, 1898." Besides this, the instructions to returning officers are to include, for Prince Edward Island, "such sections of the Provincial law as relate to the qualification of voters, and shall also contain the oaths required to be taken by sections 65, 66 and 67 of this Act, having made them applicable to the elections being held." Electors in Prince Edward Island are also to be notified "regarding the qualification of voters as required to be posted under the Provincial law." It will readily be seen that these amendments, secured by Mr. Martin, are practically important to the election officers and the electors of this province.

PROHIBITION AGAIN

The Christian Guardian, of Toronto, speaks of the Pineau-Farquharson-Club prohibitory law as a measure "absolutely prohibiting" the sale of liquor, and adds that "great praise is given Premier Farquharson by the temperance people of the province." The Toronto Guardian has evidently taken its cue from its Charlottetown namesake, and is therefore not so well informed upon this point as it ought to be. The Toronto publication has apparently not read the letter of Mr. John Anderson, President of the Temperance Alliance, wherein it is pointed out that so far from the prohibition being absolute the very object of the bill has been defeated by the Government. The Toronto publication is also wrong when it says the bill goes into effect at the expiration of the half-year's license. The half-year's license expires next December, and the bill does not become law until June. The Alliance wished the prohibitory law they submitted to go into effect in December, but the Government wanted "blood money" for another six months and refused the request. The Charlottetown Guardian, which is familiar with the facts, we have set forth, republishes the Toronto Guardian's statement without a word of explanation or correction!

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—Hon Mr Bernier, lately appointed Minister of Inland Revenue, rejoices in a constituency that is "solidly liberal," so that his reelection seems to be assured.

PLAN OF ESCAPE.

Formed by British Prisoners at Pretoria.

A Mr. Geo. Lynch, who has recently returned to England from South Africa, has given to a London paper the following remarkable details of an elaborate plan of escape formed by the British prisoners in Pretoria: When I left Pretoria, said Mr. Lynch, there were more than 2,000 of our soldiers confined as prisoners on the race-course. They had been considering a plan of escape, which comprised not only their own freedom, but the forcible seizure of President Kruger. That such a scheme was feasible you will understand when I tell you that there were only 70 guards left in charge of the prisoners. One of the first things that our men did was to extract the pins from the two Maxim guns, thus rendering them useless. A number of men were told off to be ready when the opportunity presented itself of overpowering the guards, for which purpose stolen lengths of rope were hidden away in the tents. Our men discovered that there were 350 Mauser rifles and plenty of ammunition stored in a house in Church Street, and these it was intended to seize the moment there were tidings of the approach from the north of an expected force under Colonel Nicholson. The men thus armed were to surround the president's house and having captured his honor and cut the telegraph wire were to escape by rail across the Portuguese frontier. However, all the prisoners were unexpectedly removed to Waterval, and as the burghers commenced to return from the laagers at the front the elaborate and boldly-conceived plan had to be abandoned.

Bananas Cure Drink Habit.

(Self-Culture Magazine.)

For some reason as yet unknown, or at least to many unexplained or defectively diagnosed, a regular diet of bananas will take away and destroy all desire for intoxicating liquors, and this, to such a degree that it may be called "the temperance plant."

There seems to be a natural antipathy antagonism between the banana and the alcoholic liquors or drinking as a vice. One cannot use both, and the banana is so much the stronger that in nine cases out of ten (personally I have never known a single exception) it soon drives out the drink habit.

It is not that drinking gives a man a distaste for eating bananas, he eats them readily and with a relish, but that under ordinary circumstances eating bananas brings a distaste for the liquor as a craving beverage. Physicians find it necessary to warn all new comers not to take them together, since fatal results ever promptly follow an over-indulgence in the two at the same time.

This Clock is a Wonder.

Joseph Jenson, a clockmaker, of Richmond, Utah, has just completed an interesting clock, which, besides striking the hours, halves and quarters and showing the phases of the moon, tells what time it is in every city in the world. This is done by means of a globe which revolves within a transparent globular glass. On this globe is marked a line representing 12 o'clock noon, and as the globe revolves this line is always directly over that part of the world where it is noon at that time. There are other lines representing the different hours, and in this way it is a very simple matter to get the exact time at any given place.

Success Commandments.

Before your son is fitted for business he should be able to—
Write a good, legible hand.
Speak and write good English.
Draw an ordinary bank check.
Take it to the proper place in the bank to get it cashed.
Add a column of figures rapidly and accurately.
Make out an ordinary account.
Write an ordinary promissory note.
Spell all the words he knows how to use.
Make neat and correct entries in day-book and ledger.—New York World.

No Tax Collectors There.

One of the happiest places in the world is said to be located at Orsa, in Sweden. The community has, in course of a generation, sold nearly $5,000,000 worth of trees, and by means of judicious replanting has provided for a similar income every thirty or forty years. In consequence of this commercial wealth there are no taxes. Railways, telephones, etc., are all free, and so are the school houses, teaching and many other things.—Chicago News.
