Union Commercial College Closing

Union Commercial College closed for the Christmas holidays on December 20, after a successful fall term. During the term Mr. J. M. MacDonald of the Post Office Department, Charlottetown, gave an illustrated address on the functions of that Department, and Mr. Charles F. Bentley gave two very helpful talks on what employers expect in stenographers and bookkeepers. Educational films on bookkeeping, typewriting, and stenographic duties were shown on several occasions. Largely attended Night Classes in bookkeeping, typewriting, and shorthand ended for the holidays on Friday evening, Dec. 15. Instruction was given too, by Correspondence, to some twenty-six students from various parts of the province, the majority of whom were sponsored by the Department of Health and Welfare, Rehabilitation Division.

wounds too much. So he lay still and dozed. When Mrs. Reddy returned she brought two Mice she had caught. Reddy opened his eyes as she laid the Mice right by his black nose. He grinned his thanks and ate the Mice. He needed them for he was hungry.

The next day he kept quiet. He had to for one hind leg was stiff, too stiff and painful for him to go hunting. It was so for several days Reddy made no complaint, just grinned whenever Mrs. Reddy appeared. He pretended that he felt all right, which of course he didn't. She never returned without bringing him something. She had to do the hunting for both and she did it without complaint. He would have done the same for her.
