WE regret to learn that Captain Hedge, and Mr. Ford, are to be transferred from the Str. "Worcester" to another of the Company's steamers on the Savannah route. Both gentlemen are well and favorably known to our citizens, as well as to the large number who annually travel on the popular steamer "Worcester." The kindness and attention shown by them to passengers, and the skillful management of the ships affairs, suggests that it will be difficult for the Colonial Steamship Line Co. to secure men who will give the travelling public so much satisfaction. Mr. Sawyer, the genial purser of the "Worcester" is also transferred to the steamer "Carroll" and Mr. Nickerson has been transferred to the Savannah route. While we are always pleased to meet the smiling face of friend Sawyer, we join with many in regretting the departure of Messrs. Hedge, Ford, and Nickerson, from this Eastern route.

INQUEST.—Yesterday evening Dr. McLeod, Coroner of Queen's County, held an inquest in view of the body of Mr. John McLean, found dead in his stable at Clyde River. The evidence taken was to the effect that the deceased arose at daybreak, dressed himself hurriedly, and left the house. He had been suffering, the witnesses believe, from diarrhoea, and in entering the stable he startled the horse, which kicked him. The belief is strengthened by the evidence of one of the deceased's daughters, who testified that the horse always kicked at anything that startled him, and by the fact that the deceased was found lying on the floor immediately behind the horse. The jury, after a short deliberation, returned the following verdict: "That the deceased came to his death either from a kick in the pit of the stomach from a horse at whose feet he was found lying, or from natural causes."

RECEPTION OF A P. E. ISLANDER IN YARMOUTH.—On the return of Rev. J. A. Gordon and family, from a visit to their numerous friends in this Province, a cordial and cheering reception was tendered them by the members of the Milton Church, over which Mr. Gordon has been pastor for two years. A coach awaited their arrival at the Railway Station, in which they were driven to the parsonage, where a large number of friends was assembled to welcome them. The tables were loaded with a varied assortment of delicacies. Donations of a costly and useful nature were presented; kind and cheering words were spoken; enjoyment ruled the hour. To the pastor and his partner, no doubt, the most encouraging feature in this social gathering was the respect and affection which it indicated on the part of the people among whom they labored. Such gleams of sunshine will brighten their lives and cheer them in the Master's work.—Com.
