

Founder Of New Political Group In France Is Fading

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON (CP)—Pierre Poujade, the brash bookseller from south central France who injected a "ism" into French politics—Poujadism—appears to be on the way out.

A year ago "le petit Pierre" created a political sensation by heading a group that won 52 seats in the French national elections. Today, crushed by defeat in a Paris by-election, he is being counted out.

Both the right-wing Evening Standard and the Manchester Guardian, independent Liberal, toll the bell for Poujade. Commenting on the by-election result, the Guardian says:

"This marks a swing to the Conservatives (the right wing in French politics) and, for M. Poujade, a swing back toward the reactionary counter."

The by-election was held in an extremely mixed Paris constituency, including all of the left bank. It was won on the second ballot by Julien Tardieu, a Conservative, who obtained nearly 171,000 votes, 55 per cent of those cast.

Poujade, who had vowed he would never run for Parliament, and then changed his mind at the last moment, received fewer than 20,000 votes, or 6.4 per cent of the total vote. This was a drop of almost 50 per cent in the Poujadist vote at the previous test in that area.

It was a startling swing of the political pendulum for the 37-year-old bookseller from the village of St. Cere, in the backward lot area of France. Completely unknown 3½ years ago, he rose to prominence as the figurehead of an anti-tax crusade which found particular favor among small shopkeepers and businessmen.

His campaign was considered negative and irrelevant by a wide section of French society but he won surprising support in parts of central and southwestern France, areas which have lagged behind the rest of the country in general prosperity. In the national elections of Jan. 2, 1956, his group confounded commentators by drawing 12 per cent of the total vote, despite almost universal condemnation in the French and British press.

Political commentators will shed few tears over the apparent downfall of the Poujadist party, but other inferences from the Paris by-election result won't be altogether cheerful. The victory for the French right, observers in London conclude, is a victory for a tough policy in Algeria, and the prevailing view here is that such a policy may lead to disaster.

A typical thought is expressed by Darste Gilie in the right-wing Spectator: "Few (in France) have asked themselves whether a quarrel with most of the Moslem world about Algeria is compatible with the political alliances essential to France's security or whether the indefinite struggle in Algeria is compatible in the long run with the smooth working of a parliamentary republic."

Bank Manager And His Family Honored

On Monday evening, Feb. 11th, a social evening was held in Craupud Hall, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hart and family, previous to their departure for Bath, N.B., where Mr. Hart, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, has been transferred. Mr. Robert Dawson acted as chairman, and, after a few opening remarks, the guests of honor were escorted to seats prepared for them.

Mrs. Thomas Best was called upon to read an address, and Mrs. Melville Bell, on behalf of the people of Craupud, Hampton and vicinity, presented them with a purse of money and other gifts. Mr. Hart thanked the people for remembering them, after which brief remarks were made by Mr. Frank Myers and Rev. Geo. E. F. Ebbury. A hearty sing-song, under the direction of Dr. Peter MacDonalld followed, after which lunch was served by the ladies.

Following is the address:—
Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hart and family — Dear Friends,
A short time ago rumors were abroad that you were about to be transferred to another province and tonight, we find that these reports have been verified. While this is quite a surprise for us, we realize that your ability has been recognized, and, while we regret the loss of one of our most respected citizens, at the same time we take a certain amount of pride in the fact that one so esteemed by us should be so recognized by his superiors.

For some time past you have been Bank Manager in this vicinity, and have become acquainted with a great many people in this and the surrounding communities, and the surrounding communities, and people who have found you courteous and obliging in dealings of all kinds. We want you to know how much we value your friendship, and how much we appreciate the advice and assistance given us when we had occasion to discuss our affairs with you.

Charter member of the Victoria-Craupud Board of Trade, you have held the office of President, and also that of Secretary, and have always been willing to draw upon your wide experience for the benefit of this and of the surrounding communities.

MUSIC FESTIVAL AND MUSICIANS

Already music teachers and prospective Festival entrants are looking forward to their 1957 Festival. It is not too early because all entries must be in by March 1st. Please read the rules in your syllabus carefully, also note the new and interesting classes which have been added. I would urge you to send your entries in on regulation entry forms rather than on note paper etc. Entry forms may be had where you obtain your syllabus, or by writing the Secretary.

The decision of our Kings County members to hold sessions in Montague this year has been most encouraging. The holding of sessions in Summerside has done much for the furtherance of Musical Education in Prince County, and we look forward confidently to a similar success in Kings County.

The members of the record committee are ready to provide recordings of test pieces for rural school choruses at your request, this service can be most helpful where music teachers are not available.

The beginning of Music Festivals as we see them today consisted of Adult Choral groups only. Although we on P.E.I. have a greater percentage of adult entries than any other province in Canada the number of out entries is still very low. Adult participation is a real incentive to our boys and girls to carry on, as well as a source of enjoyment to those participating. Let us boost the number of adult entries this year!

Remember the closing date for entries is March 1st.
Ella J. Wood,
Secretary P.E.I. Music Festival.
