A Chapter on Potato-Planting and Culture.

At this season of the year we offer the following suggestions and experiments in potato culture:

Jesse L. Delano, of Massachussetts, U. S. by planting 18 lbs. of seed, one eye to the hill, had 16 bushels of potatoes; by planting 30 lbs. of seed, two eyes to the hill, 25 bushels.; 46 lbs. four eyes to the hill, 30½ bushels; 60 lbs., half of a potato to the hill, 24 bushels. It will thus be seen that the best results were obtained from planting one eye to the hill, and besides there being a greater yield of potatoes to a given weight of seed, there were fewer potatoes in the one hill plot, than in the others.

S. E. Smith, Vermont, writes:—"My first purchase of early rose was four quarts. I was advised, in order to get the largest yield from the seed, to cut up and leave but one eye to a piece and drop one piece in each hill. The advice was followed, and I will now say that the crop has never been excelled in size of tuber or in weight from the same number of hills. Others have testified to the same truth, but still persist in using more seed than is needful. My rule now is, two eyes in each hill, hills not over fifteen inches apart, and I do not see any reason to change the practice."

A. T. Lane, Ontario County, N. Y. writes:—"I give my experience for the past four years in reference to size of potato seed. First year, large potatoes cut to two eyes in a piece, and one piece in a hill, result, a yield of 160 bushels good-sized market potatoes to the acre, with but view small ones. Second year, the same kind of seeding, with similar return. I was not satisfied with this yield, so the third year selected all medium sized potatoes cut off and discarded the seed end, cut the remainder once in two, and planted one piece in a hill. Result, 150 bushels of fine market potatoes, with but six bushels of small ones per acre. Last season I planted the same as in 1881, and the yield was fully equal to that year.

Words of Encouragement.

FROM A SERMON BY THE REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE.

Encourage newspaper men. If you knew how many annoyances they have; if you understood that their most elaborate article is sometimes flung out because there is such great pressure on the columns, and that an accurate utterance be so indistinct the discourse is one long stenographic guess; and that the midnight which finds you asleep demands that they be awake, and that they are sometimes ground between the wheels of our great brain manufactures, sickened at the often approach of men who want complimentary newspaper notices, or who want a retraction; one day sent to report a puglistic encounter; shifted from place to place by sudden revolution, which is liable to take place any in our great journalistic establishments, percarious life becoming more and more percarious—if you understood it, you would be more and more sympathetic. Affable when you have not an axe to be sharpened on their grindstone. Discuss in your mind what the nineteenth century would be without the newspaper, and give encouraging words to all who are engaged in this interest, from the chief of the editorial department down to the boy that throws the morning or evening newspaper into your basement window.

London Advertiser: We observe that Mr. Macoun says that sheltered places in the Northwest are subject to early frosts. The whole secret of early frosts is presence of moisture at no great distance from the surface. Land with watery sub-soil is always frosty. On this continent summer frosts have been known to extend as far south as the Gulf States. Where the land is thoroughly drained there can be no summer frosts. But where the land is a cold springy sub-soil the heat of the sun makes no impression beyond the surface, and the little heat that is accumulated during the day will on a clear night be given off by radiation long before the night is wholly gone, and the temperature of the surface rapidly falls to the freezing point. It is no uncommon thing to see fields of grain in which all the wet places have been cut off by frost, while the drier portions of the field are unharmed. We know of districts which were at one time anually subject to summer frosts where summer frosts are now wholly unknown.

The Boston Globe has a word to say for Newfoundland. The island, it says, has a great future before it, in the opinion of an English traveller. Contrary to the general opinion, the climate is salubrious. Its fisheries yield $4,500,000 a year, and its mines produce 45,000 tons of copper annually. Including the inhabitants of the coast of Labrador, its present population is now 190,000, of which 50,000 are engaged in the fisheries. In the interior of the island are large tracts of farming lands to the extent of 2,800,000 acres, which can be purchased by settlers at 30 cents an acre. Its distance from Valentia, in Ireland, is only 1,640 miles, and he believes it will before many years become thickly populated by settlers from the British Isles.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.
HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRAGDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

GAS COOKING STOVES.

WE have made arrangements with the best makers of Gas Stoves in the United States, which we will be able to supply the public, at the lowest possible price.

We have also agreed with the Gas Company (for the purpose of introducing these Stoves), to sell the first fifteen (15) for which we may receive orders,

At their Net Cost,
LANDED HERE.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following are a few testimonials from a list of several hundred:—

The capacity of the Stove is surprising. With a No. 8 Stove we cooked for a party of seven, giving them broiled oysters, steak, lamb chops, and baked biscuit, in 45 minutes, at a cost for gas of 4½ cents. On another occasion we gave a dinner in courses of twenty men, the bill of fare as follows: Broiled shad, beef steak, roast quarter of lamb, baked biscuit and coffee; heating the water for washing the dishes four times, re-setting the table three times. All was accomplished in one hour and forty minutes, at an expense for gas of eleven cents. This work was all done on one No. 8 Stove. All were enthusiastic over the manner in which the oysters, fish and meats were cooked; none had experienced any so tender, juicy, and of such full flavor before. We consider the stove a great success, and most complete in all its parts and arrangements
A. C. WOOD, Supt.

I bought one of your No. 12 Gas Cooking Stoves last September, for use in my restaurant, and have used it ever since for baking, broiling and stewing.

I can say for it that it is always ready and does its work rapidly; that there is no dust, no dirt, no surplus heat, as we are using only that portion that we need, and as soon as the article is cooked the gas is extinguished and there is no waste. I think it will do the same amount of work at less cost than coal, even at the high price of gas. It takes much less room than a coal range that would do the same work. I am perfectly satisfied with it and would not be without one for double the price.
J. T. HARKER.

The Gas Stove you sent me, I am glad to say has proved an entire success.

If my testimony is of any value to you, you are at liberty to use it. The decrease in the coal bill more than offsets the increase in the gas ditto. The cooking is excellent and uniform in its operation.

No dirt or dust irritates the careful housewife, and Mrs. S. describes it as a "real treasure."

In my humble opinion, any man who really wants to add to the number of allotted days of his better-half, had better invest in a Gas Stove and save her worry, and himself expense.
W. H. SEYMOUR.

We are perfectly delighted with our Gas Stove. It gives entire satisfaction in every respect.
MRS. M. PENNINGTON, 2103 Vine St.

Your favor of the 1st inst. was duly received asking my opinion of the Gas Cooking Stove bought last May, and in reply, would state that the satisfaction rendered by the stove was far beyond my expectations, and the work it will accomplish is marvelous, together with the small expense and comfort attending the same.
EDWIN A. GARETT.

Having used one of your No. 7 Gas Cooking Stoves for a considerable time past, it is with pleasure that I bear testimony to its genuine merits.

It boils, bakes, broils, roasts, and in fact, does everything that a first class stove or range can do, and with a saving of time and labor, that can only be appreciated by those who use them.

It has given us the most entire satisfaction, and to use my wife's words, "I would not be without it for ten times the cost."

From statements of our gas meter taken, we find it more economical than coal.
