

Modern Dancing

If you don't like contact sports but would like to get in shape and feel good, we have found just what you need. In downtown Charlottetown a new dance studio has opened, offering modern ballet, jazz, dance fitness and creative movement, classes are offered for children to adult.

The person heading this new dance studio is Charlottetown native Don Burnett. Upon interviewing Don i realized his experience in dance is most impressive. He has been working in the theatre business for over 20 years. He has danced all over Canada, in New York City, and in London England at the London Dance Centre. For the past 11 years Don has been Artistic Director of the Montage Dance Theatre in Charlottetown. The Montage is best known for the variety and quality of it's dance productions.

The new facility for dance is called Off Centre Theatre for Dance and is located at 85 Water St. Anyone interested should call 368-4417 for further information. If there is enough interest for a Jazz dance class on campus, Mr. Burnett would be happy to look into finding a space to hold a class for students.

Modern dance has a lot to offer, especially to students who has little time to exercise. It can improve your flexibility and stamina, correct posture and stance, tone muscles, improve balance and timing, and help develop creative expression. In short, you can look and feel better, and have fun doing it. Sign up - I did!
