

MISS JOYCE, MISS BINGHAM, MRS. PIERCE, MRS. JOYCE

Jessie Bingham Honored Prior To Her Marriage

Mrs. H.H. Pierce entertained a reception Thursday afternoon at her beautiful home on the North River Road in honor of the Miss Jessie Bingham, one of the season's bride elects. Mrs. Thomas Joyce and Miss Vivienne Joyce who have arrived from Harrow, England, to attend the wedding of their son and brother, Mr. Malcolm Joyce and Miss Bingham. Malcolm Joyce was a war guest of Dr. and Mrs. Pierce. He remained in Canada to receive his formal education and now with his approaching marriage to a Prince Edward Island girl, he plans to make Canada his home. The spacious lawns, magnificent trees and the variety of flowers combine to make the setting for Dr. and Mrs. Pierce's home one of the beauty spots of this province. Adjoining the Pierce property is the equally beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Hogan, the latter a sister of Mrs. Pierce. The guests were enjoying strolling in the grounds of both places. Ideal weather held for the late summer party. The majority of frocks and hats worn were still in the colorful summer shades but there were also some pretty midseason or early autumn hats. Mrs. Pierce was wearing a silk print with an allover pattern of black and white. Miss Jessie Bingham, tall, dark and slender, was lovely in a pale pink chiffon dress, full skirted, low square neckline and short puffed sleeves. Mrs. Joyce was wearing an English afternoon dress in oak tan lace over satin and a short jacket. Miss Joyce wore a corresponding shade in fine linen with white trim. The various rooms were decorated with masses of seasonal flowers. In the dining-room the beautifully appointed table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a silver bowl of pink roses and small white mums. Tall pink tapers in silver candelabra were used. Pouring tea were Mrs. W. E. MacCallum, Mrs. Fred Bingham, Mrs. W.R. Jenkins and Mrs. Walter Wilson. Ushering guests to the dining-room was Mrs. George Tweedy. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Arthur Hogan, Mrs. Gay Judson, Mrs. George Johnson, Miss Helen Crosby and Mrs. Charles Smith. Serving in the dining-room were Miss Theresa MacLeod, Miss Joan Bowness, Miss Irene Mountain, Miss Jeanne Gillis, Miss Winifred Anne MacCallum and Miss Judy Brennan. Welcoming the guests at the front door was Miss Bess Hogan and in charge of the guest book were Miss Patricia Judson and Miss Jane Hogan.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Alex Disappeared, But Precious Pet Soon Found

"It's not the best day of the week to commence it—Friday" one of the family offered with broad smile of the proposed wood-saving today. "We may never get a better or more convenient day for it for a long time" another reasoned. "And besides, it is in perfect condition to store." So it was to the storing of the winter-wood the farmers went to day with the blessing of the cooks, who of late, had been glimpsing odd ominous signs of fall along and above the green hills. On Island farms like these, fueled entirely by wood, an empty woodshed is no comforting sight to behold as the days begin to lose their summery charm. When rain beats against the windows and frosts nip and snows whiten, what matter to those who have wood-boxes full of sun-ripened sticks! All this sunny day then, the little truck, smartly supplanting the horse and cart of once, plied to and from the heap in the field and shed. At the same time, another machine made excursions in the opposite direction, to and from Rob's assuring another cook of the farms of a singing teakettle and rooms cozily warm. Passengers ours carried—often Alex "to have access to rove in while the truck was being loaded," and who later disappearing momentarily from sight about the yard, sent the family in haste to search for him. "He's not in the buildings," they said spreading further a field. "Alex, where are you?" we called desperately, not far from the door. "Alex!" we pleaded. And listened. Were ever sweeter sounds heard than that baby-voice which answered ours as the twilight lay in purple on the hills! Where was he? Enjoying himself quietly and immensely among the nails and tools of carpentry, behind a closed door in the workshop that is Mack's. Like these days, a toddler can vanish in no time. We heard with a chuckle the farmers' conversation turn today to the ripening fields of the harvest. "It won't be too long now before we'll have to get the binder out" James observed. "Not too long" the younger farmer nodded. "With combines continuing to gro in favor" James offered, "a farmer soon won't be able

Summerside Is Setting For Wedding Of Interest

The marriage of Phyllis Edith Joan, daughter of the Venerable Doctor and Mrs. George Russell Harrison of Summerside, to Mr. John Louis Stephenson Dunlop, son of Mrs. John Gillespie Dunlop of Maccan, Nova Scotia, took place Saturday afternoon, August 2, at two o'clock in Saint Mary's Church, Summerside. The bride's father, Dr. Harrison, performed the ceremony. Mr. Everett Penwarden played the wedding music and Miss Dawn Davis, cousin of the bride, sang "Pans Angelica" during the signing of the register. The bride, who was given away to buy a new binder. They won't be making them. And ours... oh it's still fairly new, but it's not going to last forever. "They'll be giving them away as premiums to get rid of them—the old and the newer by the time we'll want another" the younger farmer smiled. "They won't be making them" his father insisted. "They may not be making combines then either! It will be a faster machine and more complete—one that puts the grain in the granary. Run by remote control. You and I" he chuckled "will sit in an office on the farm, feet up on the desk, smoking long cigars. We'll reach out now and then to turn this or that switch to control the harvester working away off in those fields at the other farm, as we talk about how silly folks were to grow grain when it meant a certain amount of manual labor for them!" "Yes" James smiled, "and one of these years the binder may quit right in mid-harvest, you'll see!" "Quit, as the day now—" All at once and nothing first, just as bubbles when they burst." "Until tomorrow — Dairy Good-night."

low and green silk organza over yellow taffeta, having a scooped neckline and a drop shoulder and caught at the waist with a green silk cummerbund with a large bow at the back. She wore a large yellow picture hat and carried a bouquet of white Shasta daisies. Little Miss Helen Harrison, as flower girl for her aunt, wore a bouffant frock of white Swiss nylon over white silk, caught at the waist with a yellow silk sash. She wore a garland of daisies in her hair and carried a basket of yellow Shasta daisies. Mr. Roland Long of Maccan acted as best man for Mr. Dunlop. Mrs. George Harrison, the bride's mother, was in a gown of blue peau de soie. She wore a blue flowered hat and white accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. The reception was held for members of the immediate family at the bride's home which was decorated with summer flowers. Mrs. James Davis, aunt of the bride, poured tea. Later Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop left for Cape Cod, the bride travelling in a beige frock and wearing a green flowered hat and a corsage bouquet of yellow sweet-heart roses. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Davis Moncton, N.B.; Miss Dawn Davis, Moncton, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Long, Maccan, N.S.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Dunlop, Maccan, N.S.; Miss Isabelle Dunlop, Maccan, N.S. Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop will make their home in Maccan where Mr. Dunlop is employed as an engineer with Canada Electric.
