Hillsborough Tea

The ladies of Fort Augustus Parish, intend holding a grand Tea Party, on

MONDAY, JULY 18th

A charming site has been selected near the church, commanding a fair view of the Hillsborough River and the surrounding country. The committee in charge are determined to leave nothing undone to make the 18th a day of enjoyment to those who shall favor them with their patronage.

Besides saloons well stocked with confectionery, strawberries, ice cream, temperate drinks, etc.; there will be dancing booths, swings, foot races and other sports.

The steamer Hillsborough will leave Ferry Wharf, Charlottetown, at 10 a.m., arriving at the grounds at 11:30; returning at 7 o'clock, p.m.

The League of the Cross Band will be in attendance.

The beautiful new church will be open to the public.

Should the day prove unfavorable the tea will be held on Wednesday, the 20th.

By ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

WATCHES

THE watch trade has been rather fluctuating of late, first the price went up, after a long period of low prices, now the prices have dropped again, whether because of war or greater variety of production we cannot say, but the fact remains that you can buy from us a reliable timekeeper cheaper than ever before, in fact that there is no need to buy shoddy goods at all.

If you want a good and also the cheapest watch for the money, we recommend a good movement in a nickel case instead of a poor one in a fine looking colored case that will only wear a very short time.

Selecting a share of you patronage, we remain,
Yours respectfully,

Her Impressions of Angels.

The wife of a well known senator took her little daughter, a 4-year-old daisel, to a matinee once to see "Jack and the Beanstalk." A week or so afterward she was discovered pirouetting and lifting her petticoats before a cheval glass. Her father reproved her and told her it wasn't a pretty way to do.

"Why," said the child, "I saw the angels do it."

"The angels!" exclaimed her father. "Why, where?"

"When mamma and I went to heaven that day," said the child.

The father explained that the fancied heaven was only the theater. The little girl's face fell.

"And wasn't they angels?" she asked.

"No," said the father; "they were just girls."

The child put on an air of intense disgust.

"Well," she said, "I think they ought to be taken home and spanked, 'cause they wasn't dressed any more than angels."—Lewiston Journal.

Queen Victoria's Marked Poem.

Here is a funny story told of a happening at the English court: Sir Theodore Martin had been requested by Victoria to read aloud from "The Ring and the Book." Sir Theodore was content enough to make a cautious study beforehand of the poem, and he placed marginal notes as danger signals against passages of doubtful propriety.

The marked copy chanced to come into the hands of a rather thoughtless court lady. "I have so enjoyed this wonderful work," she said to a friend, "and it has been such an advantage to read it after the queen, for she has placed marks against the most beautiful parts, and, oh, what exquisite taste the dear queen has!" she added, pointing to the danger signals of Sir Theodore Martin.—Quiver.

That Troublesome Thirst.

Thirst is constant these warm days. It seems impossible to quench it. Ordinary drinks seem to aggravate rather than satisfy it, and too much liquid is bad for the stomach and general health.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

It makes a cooling, refreshing, healthful beverage. Take a teaspoonful in a tumbler of water two or three times a day and you will not be worried by thirst or heat. It is the most healthful and palatable beverage you can use during warm weather. Sold by druggists everywhere at 60 cents a large bottle. Trial size, 25 cents.

Repatee in Congress.

In the Fifty-first congress there was a tilt between General Spinola and Elijah Adams Morse that was entertaining. The general always wore an enormous standing collar. It was so large that it is said that Tim Campbell approached him one day and tapped the collar with the ferrule of his cane, apologetically asking, "Is General Spinola within?"

Mr. Morse was making a sort of a prohibition speech against the sale of intoxicating liquors in army canteens. General Spinola had interrupted him several times, and in reply the Massachusetts statesman finally twitted him upon the size of his collar. It struck the general to the quick. Taking the floor some minutes afterward, he called attention to Mr. Morse's language. "My collar," said he, "unlike the gentleman from Massachusetts, is immaculately clean, and if it was twice as high as it is and was placed around the neck of the gentleman from Massachusetts it would not serve to hide his ears."

The general was a political curio. He had a striking face and a martial air. In the Fifty-first congress he threw the house into convulsions by pointing to the painting representing a scene at the siege of Yorktown and gravely accusing Speaker Reed of counting the Hessians therein to make up a quorum.—Boston Herald.

Shot the Way the Dog Came at Him.

The other day Ole Hanson had trouble with a hellish dog that belonged to his neighbor, a Russian of the name of Havva Drenkovitsky. The Swede shot the dog as soon as he discovered that he was not friendly to him, and the sequel found lodging in a justice's court.

When Ole was propounded interrogatories by the attorney for the prosecution, he evidenced a sense of justice in framing replies that is rarely witnessed.

"What sort of a gun did you have, Mr. Hanson?" inquired the attorney.

"Es var two hole shotgun."

"Double barrel?"

"Yas, das et."

"Well, don't you think you could have scared him away?"

"Aye might of aye had not bane scare so lak deekers maesal."

"Why didn't you take the other end of the gun and scare him away?"

"Val, master lawyer, vy ec'dn't de dog com for maer older end first of has vant to de get vay?"

The lawyer is still wondering if there wasn't extenuating circumstances connected with the shooting.—Denver Times.

Slight of Hand at Church.

Many years ago, when Joseph Marsden lived in Hawaii, he attended church on Sunday morning in Honolulu. Mr. Marsden was then noted for his skill in legerdemain. When Dr. — passed around the contribution bag at a Sunday service, Mr. Marsden held up a $10 gold piece between his thumb and forefinger so that Dr. — could plainly see it.

He then placed his hand over the bag, palmed the gold piece and dropped it in a silver quarter. Dr. — returned to the table with his collection. After the service he emptied the bag on a table, but could not find the $10 goldpiece.

He shook the bag repeatedly, turned over the small pile of contributions, got down on the floor and looked under the table, walked down the aisle, looking closely at the cracks in the floor, felt in his own pockets, fearing that he had made some mistake, and then went home wondering at the strange loss of the goldpiece. Some time afterward the receiver quietly sent the goldpiece to the church.—Pacific Commercial Advertiser.
