P.E.I. Dairy Princess To Be Chosen Today

Seven girls are trying for the title of Prince Edward Island Dairy Princess for the coming year, and the chance to represent their province at the Canadian Dairy Princess competition held annually at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

The competition begins at 11 o'clock this morning in Birch Court where the girls will be interviewed by a panel of three judges. They will then be taken to dinner as guests of the Dairymen's Association, co-sponsors of the event with the P.E.I. Junior Farmers, who conduct the competition.

Back at Birch Court the girls will each deliver two-minute speeches on any subject relative to the Island Dairy Industry.

Dressed in white slacks, blouse and shoes they then go to the Experimental Farm barn to assemble milking machinery and milk a cow, after which they have to clean their utensils.

Present for the competition will be four junior farmers from Ontario and four senior 4-H Club members with a leader from Maine.

All junior farmers, 4-H Club members, parents and friends are invited to bring a picnic lunch and enjoy a day at the farm.
