

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

SEPTEMBER 5, 1884.

Federation of the British Empire.

ONE of the papers read before the British Association on Tuesday last was on this subject. The argument of the reader (Mr. Stephen Bourne) was substantially an argument for free trade between the different portions of the Empire and for a federation which shall draw the different members of the Empire more closely together.

The Fisheries of Canada.

IN a paper read before the British Association by Mr. Thomas White (for Mr. Jones who was absent), statistics were given of the fisheries of Canada, showing the extent of our fishing waters, which in the east include 2,500 miles of sea coast.

The National Debts.

MR. MICHAEL MULHALL, F. R. S., has, after research and thought, come to the conclusion: 1st, That national debts are not to be viewed with such horror as our grandfathers and grandmothers entertained about them.

Editorial Notes.

—The Montreal Gazette says: "The export trade in live stock is destined to expand into even greater proportions than it has hitherto reached."

—Rev. Joseph Cook thinks it possible that there may be an alliance of Great Britain, Canada, the United States, India and Australia—in two hundred years!

—Mr. Jones says, "The open boat system employed in Quebec and Prince Edward Island places our codfishermen at a disadvantage." He also says that the system of making advances in food and clothing to the fishermen at the commencement of the season, leaving the fishermen constantly in debt, should be abolished.

—The Customs returns at the principal ports for the past month, except in the case of Montreal, where there is an increase of $3,363, show a slight falling off, compared with those of August, 1883:

Table with 2 columns: Port and Amount. Montreal—Customs, $763,662; Toronto—Customs, 400,420; Halifax—Customs, 134,585; St. John, N. B.—Customs, 69,523; Ottawa—Inland Revenue, 12,900; Kingston—Customs, 15,217.

—Mr. Van Horne thinks the Canadian Pacific Railway will obtain in British Columbia a very large traffic from the outlet. Lumber alone will, he says, "provide a trade sufficient to employ our facilities, and besides the product of the fisheries and the mines will supply an important freight."

Gladstone and the Lords.

ENEMIES OF THE CONSTITUTION—TREASON TO BRITISH LIBERTY.

THE Town Council of Edinburgh and the liberal association of that city presented addresses of welcome to Mr. Gladstone, on the 30th ult., while he was en route to the Corn Exchange, where a meeting was held. The Exchange was thronged with people, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

Horses Flying Through the Air.

SOME OF THE PECULIARITIES OF THE RECENT TORNADO IN DAKOTA.

Peculiarities of the recent tornado in Dakota on the 27th ult., are coming in. Twelve miles northeast of Huron a man named Briggs had thirty-two head of cattle killed by being blown into the James River and drowned, or thrown on the ground and crushed.

Germany intends to raise a corps of veteran soldiers for colonial service, as the Prussian military system will not allow troops to be sent abroad. The funds required will be furnished by mercantile firms desiring promotion.

LONDON HOUSE.

Long-Lived Authors.

The activity and vigor of Dr. Holmes, who recently celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday, suggest that literary pursuits are favorable to longevity. There is an idea that literary genius is too wearing to stand the test of a protracted existence, and the death of Keats at twenty-six and of Byron at thirty-six are cited to show that poetic sentiment and passion shorten the lives they brighten.

at 79. The great scientists have also had a long hold on life, as was shown by Newton at 85 and Faraday at 87. Of female authors, Mrs. Barbauld and Miss Edgeworth lived till 82; M-dame d'Arbly and Hannah More reached 82; Horace Walpole's friend, Miss Berry, attained the age of 90; Mrs. Somerville survived till 92, and Mrs. Caroline Herschel till 98. Thus the brain-workers of literature have their share of human longevity, and, as authors are less exposed than formerly to the privations and trials incident to an uncultivated state of society, there seems to be no reason why they should not be benefited by the improvements which tend to increase the average length of human life.—Advertiser.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.]

Cricket—Charlottetown Team Heard From.

PICTOU, Sept. 4.

In the cricket match to-day between the Charlottetown and Pictou teams, the Charlottetown boy went first to the wicket and piled up a score of ninety. The Pictou team then went to the wicket and up to the present scored twenty-nine—nineteen of which were made with a loss of eight wickets.

Time to Reflect.

PARIS, Sept. 4.

More vessels are being sent to reinforce Admiral Courbet. It is reported that Courbet has been ordered to suspend operations in Chinese waters, Premier Ferry being desirous of giving Peking time to reflect upon the situation.

An Unorganized Horde.

LONDON, Sept. 4.

An English official who has been connected for many years with the Consular service in China, and has just returned to Europe to-day, says the Chinese army is without discipline or drill and that they are merely a horde of coolies in army uniform.

Cholera Victims.

PARIS, Sept. 4.

The total number of deaths from cholera in the department of the Pyrenees since the outbreak is 300.
