

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 31, 1896.

OUR TRADE WITH GREAT BRITAIN.

We hope that the visit of Mr. Campbell of the Beaver line of steamers, and the action of the Board of Trade last evening are the first steps towards success in a movement which is evidently of great importance to this Province. A line of Atlantic steamers ought to be induced to make this a port of call. If only we could forward freight as cheaply from Charlottetown as from Montreal, the boom would be great. We now pay half as much again, and lose all the time occupied in conveyance to Montreal, Halifax and Boston, and transshipment at those ports. We are now in an absolutely ridiculous position as to trade with the Mother Country. The seat and centre of agricultural and fishery production in these Maritime Provinces, we are now compelled to send our products nearly a thousand miles back to Montreal, or else coastwise to Halifax or the foreign port of Boston, before they can be shipped to the free markets of the Motherland. White highly subsidized lines of steamers go out of Montreal, Halifax and St. John, Charlottetown is passed by and ignored—side-tracked, as it were, on the line of traffic. As it is, unfairly handicapped as we are, we ship considerable quantities of lobsters, eggs, pork, cheese and other freight to British markets. But there are many other articles which we cannot at all send to the home market, simply because no Atlantic steamer calls here. There are cattle, horses, sheep, lambs, poultry, apples, oysters, hay, oats, canned fruits and canned meats, all of which, and more, we could and would send to meet the demands of the markets of Great Britain if only a steamer were to call at Charlottetown. Indeed it is safe to say that our trade with the old country would, in the course of a few years, be increased from five to ten fold. A steamer leaving here for Great Britain would attract freight, not only from all parts of this Province, but from all northern parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, as well as from Cape Breton and the Magdalen. Not this alone. It is easy to see by a glance at the map that Charlottetown is, during the season of open navigation, one of the best distributing centres in the Maritime Provinces, and there can be no doubt that a steamer from England calling here would bring goods for the people who live on the mainland bordering upon the Straits of Northumberland as well as for all who reside on this Island. The Charlottetown Board of Trade propose to afford the Minister of Marine and Fisheries and the Minister of Agriculture an opportunity to promote a movement of great and lasting benefit to this Province, to this port, and to the northern section of the mainland. We sincerely hope that these ministers will take this matter into their serious consideration and urge their colleagues in the Government to recognize the right of Prince Edward Island to a subsidy sufficient to charter a line of ocean steamers to make Charlottetown a port of call.

OUR FARMING INTERESTS.

The Minister of Agriculture and Professor Saunders at Montague—A Crowded Meeting—Interesting Addresses. [Special by Telephone.] A large and appreciative audience crowded the Montague Hall last evening to hear the questions of practical farming discussed by the Minister of Agriculture and Professor Saunders of the Experimental Farm. Dr. Robertson occupied the chair and opened the meeting with a few appropriate remarks. He concluded by calling on Mr. A. C. Macdonald, M. P., who responded in a brief and spirited address. Hon. Mr. Fisher, on coming forward, was warmly received and proceeded to discuss the subject of farming in its relation to Dairy and Stock raising. His practical experience of twenty-five years as a farmer in the Eastern Townships lent more than ordinary interest to his address, and was shown in the ease and ability with which he handled the subject. He urged the farmers to be more businesslike in their methods, and showed how by dairy farming exhaustion of the soil could be prevented, and the raw products of the farm be thus converted into cheese and butter, the latter of which draws from the soil less of its fertility than any other product of the farm. While the farmer's calling is one which requires the exercise of the greatest amount of intelligence and the profoundest thought, it has been the time honored custom to send the brightest boys into the learned professions, while the dull and stupid ones are thought to be good enough for the farm. He believed that the conditions in Canada are as favorable to successful farming as in any other country under the sun, and he dwelt on the necessity of co-operation, especially in the matter of dairying, in the conduct of which confidence with each other is required, and the best business ability was necessary. He next proceeded to discuss the subject of cold storage, by means of which the perishable products of the farm can only be preserved for any definite length of time. By this means Australian competition was crowding upon the British markets, and in his position as Minister of Agriculture he considered it his duty to the farmers of Canada to try and provide them with equal facilities. Cold storage was required at every creamery and every commercial centre. He proposed that refrigerator cars should be arranged for on every railway system of Canada, and negotiations were now pending for the introduction of such cars on ocean transportation. He would ask the farmers to do as much for themselves as possible, with the assurance that God helps those who help themselves. The cost in any case must come out of their own pockets. After expressing his satisfaction at the hospitality with which he had been received, and the close attention of the large and appreciative audience, he concluded his address amid the heartiest applause. Prof. Saunders followed and reviewed the work of the Experimental Farms. He showed that a great improvement had taken place by the number of practical inquiries received from the farmers of P. E. Island. He was pleased to note that their old seven years' rotation was being replaced by a better system by means of which not only the fertility of the farms was maintained, but the export of the dairy had increased from relatively nothing a few years ago—when doubts were expressed at some of the meetings as to the suitability of the soil and climate—to a sum total, last year, of $77,000.00. Our space will not permit us to give in detail an address which was replete with most interesting scientific facts. After a number of questions had been put and satisfactorily answered, and a brief history of the Dairy Industry in this Province had been given by Cyrus Shaw, Esq., M. L. A., a vote of thanks to the Minister of Agriculture and Professor Saunders brought the meeting to a close.

HEALTHY DIGESTION.

A BOON AND BLESSING TO MANKIND. The Life of a Dyspeptic one of Constant Misery—Who Has Suffered From Its Pangs Finds the Way to Renewed Health. (From the Cornwall Freeholder.) The life of the dyspeptic is proverbially a miserable one, eliciting universal commiseration. Not so much because of the actual painfulness of the ailment, but largely because it projects its pessimistic shadows upon all the concerns of life, and here they sit like a deadly incubus upon every enterprise. An impaired digestion gives rise to an irritability that exposes the person to annoyances, besides being extremely trying on others. We are all aware of the value of cheerfulness in life. It is a flower of the rarest worth and strongest attractions. It is a tonic to the sick and a disinfectant to the healthy. Those things that destroy the habitual cheerfulness, lessen his usefulness, and ought therefore to be resisted by some drastic and efficient remedy. The duties that devolve upon the average man and woman are involved in so much difficulty as to put a premium on hope or less disagreeable consequent to the functional disturbance of the stomach, such as impaired taste and appetite, unwanted languor, increasing paucity, and falling ambition. Such an aggregation of the symptoms produced a trying state of affairs, and relief was eagerly sought. One of the best physicians of the neighborhood was consulted. He prescribed. His medicine was not only ineffectual, but it unfortunately brought no substantial relief. When Mrs. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People was introduced, she decided she could not afford to leave untried such a well recommended remedy as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Hence she took a course of this medicine, which after a fair trial proved successful. From being only able to take stale bread and milk or soda biscuits, she became able to take a hearty meal of any variety, without the painful effects that once assailed themselves after every meal. It only remains to be said that Mrs. McCrimmon, improved in flesh and general comfort from the first taking of the pills, and almost anything good she could eat with impunity. Dyspepsia became a thing less dreaded, and indeed being long to the past. It is little wonder however that she urges the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon others similarly afflicted. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines had failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

POWERLESS TO COMBAT SIN.

Education and Culture Have but Multiplied Man's Devices for Evil. "Men seek to make ex use for sin," writes Dwight L. Moody in the initial discourse to "Mr. Moody's Bible Class," in the November Ladies' Home Journal. The call is by other names and try to explain away its power to cover its hideousness. They tell us that it is merely ignorance, which culture will eradicate; that in each and every man there is good, and that with culture and education the evil will be developed. Antiquity has proved that education and culture are powerless to combat natural sin. They seem to have but multiplied the ingenuities and devices of man's evil passions. The corrupt and degenerate days of cultured Rome, even during the proud "Golden Age" of wealth, of literature, of beauty and philosophy, have left us monuments of her blisss and vice. The wisdom of Greece and the learning of Egypt never saved their subjects from the corruption of sin. The Epistles of Saint Paul to the churches of Asia Minor are a sufficient commentary upon the efficacy of their boasted refinement in the development of noble and pure lives. Nor have we to go into ancient history for a vindication of the awful truth of a fallen nature. Do our own times offer no illustration of inherent sin? Does not the presence of sin, often the most vile and dark its offices, reveal itself in lives which from earliest infancy have been surrounded by only that which was pure and good? Are our convicts made solely from those who have not had advantages?

SCARCITY OF BRITISH SEAMEN.

It is somewhat surprising to learn that genuine alarm is felt in England over the fact that great difficulty is being experienced in securing men for the navy. Sir Charles Dilke, in a recent speech, took occasion to refer to the steady diminution in the number of British seamen and the growing number of foreign seamen employed on British ships, and he pointed out the dangers sure to arise therefrom in time of war. He declared that the time has arrived for the government to spend money in making the naval reserve attractive to British mercantile seamen and for devising legislative means to prevent British seamen being replaced in British ships by foreigners. A London correspondent, describing the situation in the navy, says, "The merchant seaman has been a reserve, unofficial, but none the less real, upon which the navy was able to draw in times of emergency, and it jars the nerves of Englishmen to be told that this reserve is now altogether inadequate."

NEWS NOTES.

The well known St. Lawrence Hall, one of the finest hotels in Montreal, is to be torn down and a modern hotel, 14 stories high, is to be erected in its place. Mr. Tarte has just created a new office. It is to be known as "Supervisor of Public Works." In order that the civil service may be rid of "offensive partizan-ship" a griot who has taken an active part in elections has been appointed to this office. Spain, so far, has been unable to float in London a proposed new loan to put down her colonial rebellions. In Paris the French investors are holding off. In this connection it is interesting to note that the debts of Spain and Cuba funded and sinking exist for $1,200,000,000. The Spanish Premier has issued a note, stating that he relies upon the patriotism of Spaniards to supply funds to crush the rebels. Prevent sickness and save doctors' bills at this season by keeping your blood rich and pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Granby rubbers in men's, women's and children's at B. K. Jost's. A lady from the United States does dressmaking on Queen street, between Kent and Fitzroy streets. A perfect fit guaranteed. Prices to suit the times. oc31 2i

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

As Hon. Mr. Farquhar says, "We have been led to expect a great deal from the present Government." Hope he will not be disappointed. Moncton Times: Mr. Tarte's declaration at Winnipeg that that more millions will be spent, if necessary, to build up and populate the prairie, should have some attention from New Brunswick liberals. Those who attended the liberal meeting in the Moncton opera house in the fall of 1895 will remember that the conservatives were denounced in unmeasured terms for paying too much attention to the west. The liberal canvass here has always been that the west got too many millions. The redoubtable Mr. Tarte is in Winnipeg—the guest of Governor Patterson. The Pioneer was very much worked up last June when Governor Howland extended the hospitality of Government House to the Premier of Canada, Sir Charles Tupper, Baronet. This self-constituted authority on etiquette for high personages will have to revise some of its canons now, if he did not do so on receiving the rather demoralizing fire of an admirer of the Governor in the West at the time. A PLAIN CHARGE.

We take the following from last L.T.M. partial of Tighish: "Friday last Inspector Broderick sent Tom Lynch to jail in default of payment of a Scott Act fine. There is nobody but will approve the Inspector, when he attempts to have the law respected; but he would be much more appreciated if he served out the same measure of justice to others who are just as culpable, if not much more so, than Lynch. It is said that the Inspector complains that he has not public sympathy behind him. There is nothing strange in this. Public opinion is generally a good judge, and when it discovers that the law is scandalously operated, it quickly destroys confidence in the official responsible. Surely the Inspector cannot ignore more than others the fact that in this village there is another hole where day and night, from Sunday morning till Sunday morning, liquor is sold with impunity. Why are those people let go free. This is a question nobody can understand. At all events let the Inspector rest assured that the moment he declares war without exception on this pest he will have the active sympathy of every lover of good order."

It is certainly too bad to have the Sunday violated in the manner implied in our contemporary's remarks. Whatever may be said of failure to convict because of week day sales, that inspector is certainly a plague to be quickly and vigorously dealt with who co-operates at desecration and intolerance on the Lord's Day. It is too bad if a man can openly and flagrantly demoralize a village because he happens to be near to those who rule in matters political. In the name of common decency, let such as are guilty of the hypocrisy complained of by L.M.P. apply his given their walking tickets. Were any honor left, notice would be unnecessary.
