

BUSINESS NEWS

by Holly MacDonald
 Ahoy mates! Yes, the Business Society did sponsor a voyage on the high seas and yes, the fishermen did catch a haul (A few notable exceptions came home empty handed, but we won't mention names S.T.) The deep sea fishing trip Saturday was a fun time. Special prizes for the day included "PRIZE FOR THE FIRST CATCH" Nancy MacDonald and "PRIZE FOR TOP JIGGER" Nancy Bulman. Undoubtedly the ladies brought home supper, right guys!! Many thanks to Anson MacLauchlan for organizing the event. Moving on to sports, no one was surprised when the seniors swamped the juniors at the softball Friday afternoon. Ha! Actually, my sources tell me the seniors came from behind aided by late arriver "Satch" Banks to nudge by those keen juniors 6-5. Rumour is the juniors are desperate to regain credibility and are contemplating a challenge in flag football since they are grossly outmatched in softball. Keep your ear to the ground (oops!) for details. Sophomores, your class

Rep. Hugh Johnstone is requesting your attendance in a softball challenge this Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. Your challenge... none other than the freshmen. This softball game may solve a mystery at the Business Department... "The Case of Where Are The Freshmen Business Students?" They meekly steal in and out of Kelley for the intro class and no one seems to know what happens to them after the high points of their week. Freshmen, please establish your existence and come to this softball game. Remember, the emphasis is on fun, so

Don't Be Shy!!
 Okay all you Arnold Palmers..The golf tournament we promised you is now in the capable hands of Terry "Neuf" Palmer and two "pros" (no names mentioned) within our department. Sit tight and once details are ironed out, we will be bringing you up to date!
 Memberships are still available and for all you avaricious types who want to hold on to your dollars as long as possible (right Greg!) buy now before it's too, too late. The course draw will be held at our next Pub, so keep your fingers crossed.

CHESS CLUB

Anyone interested in forming a chess club at UPEI, please contact Robbie Peters in Rm. 211 of the Robertson Library, or leave your name at the Information Desk in the Library.

Come to the Fair!

taken from Topics

Got any nicknacks, whatnots, thingamajigs, whatsits in your attic or cellar or closet? They may bring dollars for scholars that the University Women's Group hopes to raise for the UPEI Scholarship Fund, at a Fair planned for Saturday September 27 in the Gym. The potpourri will include books, records, crafts, dorm decorators, foodstuffs, plus anything you may add to the collection. The ladies are hoping for a large contribution of jewellery for the White Elephant table.

A country kitchen with shelves laden with honey, jams, jellies and other condiments is certain to be a crowd-pleaser. For youngsters, a fish pond, balloons, a doll lottery and a toy booth. For amusement the Fair-goers can try their hand at computer games.

Paintings by Island artists, Adrien Arsenault, Daphne Irving and Henry Purdy, a photograph by Michael Liu, as well as a dinner for two are among items which will come under the auctioneer's hammer, in the hands of Dean Ivan Dowling of the Science Faculty.

The Fair will open at 10a.m. and close with one hour-long auction between 1 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Women's Group hopes for Island-wide participation at the Fair. Island residents as well as the University community are asked to bring donations to the University's Utility Plant, Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 12 noon, and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. General Co-ordinator is Margaret Ellison. Further information is available from Betty Jean Griffith, 892-1451; Gay Hancock 964-2414; and Anne Love, 892-4479.

Hi! My name is Marvin Finklestein
 It is really great to be here.

Speak Easy

This short course is designed for University of P.E.I. students who wish to achieve more effective expression in various forms of speaking such as discussion, seminar participation and social interaction.

Method: Exercises in small groups. Stress will be on doing.

Length of course: Six weeks, beginning

Day and Time: October 9, 2:30-3:45 p.m.

Place: Audio Visual Studio, Robertson Library

Class Limit: 8 participants Fee $10.00

This is a non-credit course. No examinations will be held or marks recorded. Those wishing more information before registering are asked to contact the

Department of Student Services
 Early Registration is advised.