Courses In Small Business Management Are Scheduled

Courses in small business management are being planned for the province this winter as part of the resources development program. Industry and Natural Resources Minister Leo Rosster said yesterday that he will meet here today with Stewart Conger, Ottawa, of the small business division of the department of trade and commerce, to discuss the establishment of the course. Mr. Rosster said that such a program which has been under study for a year will involve "practical and important training for operators of small busi-

Air Search To Continue For Druggist

HALIFAX (CP)—RACF search and rescue headquarters here said Thursday night no trace of missing druggist Cyril Johnston of Montague, P.E.I. was found in a day-long air search. Johnston, described by his wife as an experienced sailor, left his home Sunday for an overnight cruise in his 18-foot sailboat. There has been no trace of the 46-year-old man or his boat since he sailed. Two planes searched the area off eastern Prince Edward Island Thursday. The search is to resume today.

Deputy-Treasurer Leaves For Meet Resources Council Meets Slated Tues.

The provincial resources development council will hold its September meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Experimental Farm in Charlottetown. Council chairman and farm superintendent Robert Parent has invited the council to hold its meeting at the farm and tour the facilities there. The agenda calls for a number of new development projects to be considered, a summary of resources development in relation to ARDA, and a review of film strips on community and area development.
