A Hard Time.—Two men named Amos Gallant and Andre Gaudet had a very rough time and almost lost their lives during the storm of last Friday. The Farmer says they were out from Mr. Chas. Gallant's factory at Egmont Bay, and about 4 or 5 o'clock, when the blow came up, they were about three miles off from the New Brunswick shore. Their boat capsized and they nearly perished before they were taken off. Andre Gaudet was exhausted and had to be held up by Mr. Gallant. Luckily the brother of the latter, Mr. Daniel Gallant, was coming behind in another boat and he was able to pick them up and take them ashore. Mr. Amos Gallant came back late Saturday night, but is badly bruised. Mr. Gallant was so far gone that they had considerable difficulty, after the shore was reached, in bringing him too. So ill has he been since that he is unable to come home.

PERSONAL.

The Rev. C. H. Stewart, of Cheshire, Eng., is visiting Charlottetown. He is the guest of H. P. Welsh, Esq.

Mr. J. N. Robertson, of the Post Office Department, who has been ill for some time, is, we are glad to hear, much better and gradually improving.

Mr. John Stirling, the well known commercial traveller, is registered at the Hotel Dieu. He has been doing the Province during the past four or five days.

Mr. Charles Higgins, counsellor-at law, and wife, of Franklin, Mass., who have been on a short visit to Mr. Higgins' father and friends in this city, will leave for home by steamer Halifax to-morrow.

Mr. Charles Kennedy, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Campbellton, N. B., who has been visiting relatives and friends in this province during the past week or two, left for home this morning. Mrs. Kennedy and child will remain here ten days longer.

The esteemed pastor of Zion Church is the Rev. David Sutherland, not the Rev. Alexander Sutherland. The latter, if we mistake not, resides in Ontario, and is a very old man, not up in the issues of the day. Many persons are doing the former an injustice, under the supposition that he is the writer of the incubration published in the Guardian of this morning.

MR. WATERMAN'S DEATH.

An inquest in view of the body of Mr. W. R. Waterman, whose sudden death near Mount Stewart was referred to in yesterday's issue, was held before Dr. Toombs, coroner, when the following verdict was returned:—

"We, the jurors appointed to inquire into the cause of Mr. W. R. Waterman's death, after hearing the evidence of a number of witnesses, do unanimously agree that his death came from natural causes, occasioned by falling over the front of the wagon while travelling on St. Peter's Road near St. Andrew's."

It seems that Mr. Waterman was on his way to Charlottetown when he died, and he evidently fell from the wagon while suffering from a fainting spell, one of which he had at his home on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Waterman's body was found about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. His horse was grazing along the road, having turned off the track sufficiently to allow a carriage to pass. The position of the body indicated that Mr. Waterman had fallen forward from the seat. The head was resting partially on one shaft and between it and the wheel. The shoulders were upon the cross bar, and the body upon the foot-rest in the front part of the wagon, with the feet in the wagon. The body was warm. The side of the head was considerably bruised from having come in contact with the iron on the shaft. Directly under the head on the ground was a quantity of vomited matter. His hat was found about 200 yards away.

The body was brought to Charlottetown last evening and will be interred in the People's Cemetery to-morrow afternoon. The funeral will leave the house at two o'clock.

Mr. Waterman was deservedly esteemed by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and two sons to mourn.

Better Baking Powder

cannot be made than the kind we make.

To begin with, it is chemically pure; it is economical (only two teaspoonfuls to a quart of flour.) It makes light biscuits, &c., on account of the large amount of carbonic acid gas it produces, and above all it is the cheapest in price of any Baking Powder on the market. The price is 25 cents for a pound tin. It is made fresh every few days. Prepared only by

"IN OLD KENTUCKY."

Mr. W. S. Harkins' Fifth Avenue Company opened their season at the Opera House last evening, presenting "In Old Kentucky." The attendance was large. Nearly all the high-priced seats were filled, and a great many persons were obliged to stand in the rear portion of the Hall. "In Old Kentucky" is decidedly the greatest scenic production that has ever been presented at the Opera House, and in its presentation last evening every detail was attended to. The race-track scene in which "Queen Bess" wins, the rescue of "Queen Bess" from the burning stable, and the scene in the mountains showing a bridged chasm, were certainly most realistic.

The different characters in the play were well sustained, and everyone present was delighted with the performance. Miss Lulu Tabor, as "Madge Brierly," the mountain phenomenon, soon won the hearts of the audience, and her acting was keenly enjoyed. The applause which followed her jump over the mountain chasm to save the life of the man she loved, was more than repeated when she rescued "Queen Bess" from the burning stable, and reached a climax when, later on, she rode "Queen Bess" to victory. All the tableaux were enthusiastically encored, and after the racing scene Miss Tabor, Miss Whitty and Mr. Wise were given a curtain call. Miss Gertrude Whitty, who, it will be remembered, was here with "The Crust of Society" Company, added to the good impression she made on that occasion by her clever impersonation of "Alathea Layson"; and Miss Gertrude Magill as "Barbara Holton" made an excellent impression The part of "Joe Lorey" a young moonshiner whose love for "Madge" was no returned, received the fullest justice at the hands of Mr. Devo; and Mr. Harkins, as "Frank Layson," the young Kentuckian who won "Madge's" hear', by his clever work added to his long list of admirers. Mr. Wise, as "Colonel Sandusky Doolittle" a speculator and admirer of horse flesh, was excellent. His love-making with "Alathea," and his subsequent eagerness to see the horse-race after he had promised his affianced wife to eschew racing, were most amusing. "Horace Holton," the man with a secret who finally met his death at the hands of "Joe Lorey" whose father he had murdered, was well taken by Mr. Bradley; and Mr. French, as "Neb," the colored servant, was true to life.

During the second act the famous pickaninny band gave several selections in a splendid manner, and the pickaninnies danced. Between the acts excellent music was furnished by the company's orchestra

The company was late in arriving and the proper placing of the scenery took considerable time, so that it was about half past eight when the curtain went up. Some thoughtless persons in the rear of the hall filled in the spare time stamping with their feet and sticks and otherwise making themselves obnoxious to the audience. It is sincerely to be hoped that this conduct will not be repeated.

To-night "The War of Wealth," another splendid play, will be put upon the boards. In the opinion of many "The War of Wealth" is superior to "In Old Kentucky," and those who were at the Opera House last night will know what that means A crowded house is expected to-night.

NEWS NOTES.

Princess Helene, the Duchess of Sparta' baby, is Queen Victoria's twenty-second great-grand-child.

The Spanish generals in Cuba have decided to limit their operations to defensive movements during the wet season.

It is said that the Prince of Wales spent three hundred pounds in replying to the telegrams which he received congratulating him upon winning the Derby.

At the dinner at the Imperial Institute in London to raise funds for Guy's hospital, the Prince of Wales announced that one hundred and sixty thousand pounds had been subscribed.

Quite a large number of cycles have gone north with Queen Victoria, who is now in Scotland, and her Majesty views the development of the new locomotion with the utmost interest. Princess Christian has adopted a tricycle. Sir Arthur Bigge, the Queen's private secretary, has his bicycle, which is now an indispensible element in the daily routine of his labors.

THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

KING'S.

A very large meeting of the electors of Eastern King's was held at Souris last evening Several hundreds of electors, Liberals as well as Liberal Conservatives, and a number of ladies were present. James McQuaid, Esq., occupied the chair, and Mr. Timothy Macdonald acted as secretary. The meeting was ably addressed by Hon. Senator Macdonald, Hon. Senator Wood and John McLean, Esq., and was brought to a close shortly after 11 o'clock.

EAST QUEEN'S.

One of the largest meetings held at Mt. Stewart for a long time took place last night. Wm. J. Logan, Esq, occupied the chair; and introduced the speaker of the evening, the Hon. D. Ferguson, who held the undivided attention of the meeting for over two hours. The Senator denounced the mendacious character of the campaign as conducted by the Grits, dealing with the Globe's fabrication of $12,000,000 being appropriated by order in Council for railway subsidies, Mr. Davies' bouncing fabrication of the Government committing the country to an expenditure of $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 for the Hudson Bay Railway, and the mean falsehood about Dr. Montague's resignation. He then defended the National Policy, and denounced the sleights and evasions of the Laurier party. The Senator's explanation of the Manitoba school question was particularly clear and evidently convinced the meeting of the fairness of the Government's policy. The meeting was most enthusiastic and the demonstrations of approval were of the warmest kind.

The hall at Stanhope was well filled last night by the electors of the northern end of Lots 33 and 34 to hear a discussion of the public questions of the day. Mr. Welsh, the Opposition candidate, failed to appear.

Mr. Peters began the discussion on behalf of Mr. Welsh, and disposed of the time allotted to him by coarse and uncalled for abuse of Sir Charles Tupper. He never touched upon the trade question and his remarks fell very flat.

Mr. Martin followed him taking up and carefully discussing the branch railway question, the Manitoba School Question and trade policy of the Government. He was attentively listened to, and made a good impression on the meeting.

Hon. D. Laird spoke next. His treatment of the questions at issue was in marked contrast to that of Premier Peters. He made the best of a very bad case, but completely failed to give one solid reason why the electors should go on repeating the folly of 14 years in sending representatives to Ottawa to oppose the best interests of our Province.

Mr. W. S. Stewart brought the discussion to a close in a vigorous and well reasoned speech on the various questions of the day. He was frequently applauded, and his remarks evidently made a deep impression on the large number of thinking men present. A few small boys outside tried to interrupt the speaker by singing, but the attempt was a complete failure. Covehead stands all right for Mr. Martin.

EAST PRINCE.

The meeting at Kelly's Cross on Thursday, the 11th inst, was a decided Liberal-Conservative success. The hall was packed, and the best of order prevailed. Mr. Hunt was enthusiastically received and made a telling practical speech on the questions of the day, dealing fully with the trade and school questions, branch railway, and the other issues before the country. Mr. Hunt made a great impression on the audience and resumed his seat amid prolonged applause.

Mr. D. B. McLeod followed in a splendid speech, dealing with the questions of the day in an able and masterly manner, making point after point against the Opposition and severely scoring them for their incapacity, want of policy, trickery and deception. Mr. McLeod's speech was frequently applauded and at the conclusion the audience showed their appreciation of it by bursting into loud and long applause.

The meeting was also addressed by J. J. Bradley, Wm. Patrick, Esq, and John Bradley, Kelly's Cross, in support of the Liberal-Conservative party.

The meeting came to a close with three cheers for the Queen and three ringing ones for Mr. Hunt and the Liberal-Conservative party. Kelly's Cross is sure to give a good account of itself on the 23rd.

NOT TO BE DECEIVED.

Sir,—We learn that our Grit friends in the West part of the County, taking advantage of what transpired at the Cardigan convention, are endeavoring to play off one end of the county against the other, by circulating a rumor to the effect that the Liberal-Conservatives in the eastern end will not support McDonald.

There is no truth whatever in such a rumor. Eastern people would certainly prefer an eastern candidate, but then both ends of the county cannot be suited at once. Consequently we shall stand by "the same old flag and the same old policy," trusting to a spirit of fair play next general election to permit of a Souris man taking the field.

A FALSE AND SLANDEROUS REPORT

Sir,—In reply to the report in the daily and weekly Patriot of the 10th inst., of the Grandview political meeting at which I was appointed chairman, I have to say that the report is misleading and false from beginning to end, and shows what reliance can be placed on reports of other meetings published in the columns of the Patriot. The true facts are: Mr. A. Martin, the Liberal-Conservative candidate, spoke for one hour and a half without a single interruption, which goes to show how he is held in the estimation of the intelligent people of Grandview. No doubt Mr. Martin's being alone at that meeting and getting the best of his opponents stirred up the scribbler of the false report to anger and he tried to ease himself by abusing the chairman with insults made up of falsehoods. Mr. Welsh got a fair hearing, excepting occasionally a roar from the audience, which Mr. Welsh in his usual manner of addressing public meetings causes. Now, I say that the report is as contradictory as it is false as the venemous impudent writer of the misleading and false report hurls insulting insinuations at me as chairman of the meeting in regard to bad order kept. The true facts are that the meeting was as orderly as could be expected considering the large audience present, until H. C. McDonald began to speak. I admit the order of the meeting was not good while he spoke, and the interruption was beyond the control of the chairman. The cause of this I will let the intelligent people of the meeting judge for themselves. Now I ask is a chairman of any meeting to be under the slanderous falsehoods of the scribblers of the Grandview meeting report, if one man did not command the hearing of an intelligent audience. Now I challenge the impudent writer to come out over his signature and testify to the truth of his statements, and I will meet him in the press or any other place to prove to him that his statements are false concerning the Grandview meeting. I say that he has shown his littleness as clear as glass by stating untruths and trying to falsify a chairman of any meeting. In no better way, I say, he could show his littleness than not being capable of stating facts.
