Water Supply Progress Outlined For Council

GEORGETOWN — Town council at this week's meeting was briefed by Laurie A. Coles of Laurie A. Coles and Associates, on progress to date on the boring of a series of wells to obtain a water supply for industrial development, also the piping of this water to industrial sites and its use in the disposal of plant sewage and waste.

The survey is being conducted by Mr. Coles for the Atlantic Development Board. It is being done with the view of not only servicing industry, but with the possibility that the Town of Georgetown will itself install water and sewerage services and eventually join the industrial system.

The survey is being based on the projected estimate of a population of 4,000 in the area.

It was disclosed by Mr. Coles that there is no doubt of sufficient water available for industrial and town requirements, should the town proceed with installation of a town water system.

Reports were then presented by the various committees, finance, public property, fire hall and equipment, sanitation, police and light and streets and sidewalks.

Applications were received by the council from a number of residents desirious of moving home, doing alterations to dwellings and starting various businesses. The requests will be forwarded to provincial town planning authorities, along with the council's comments on each, either for or against.

The question of heating the new fire hall was discussed and will be finalized at an early date. It was decided that, on the recommendation of the police officer, certain traffic control signs would be obtained and erected at certain intersections in the town. It was also decided to place four special constables on duty on Halloween night, to assist the town police officer.

G'town To Be Site Of Royal Bank

The Royal Bank of Canada will be opening a branch in Georgetown within four weeks, it has been announced by W. Earle McLaughlin, president and chairman of the Royal Bank of Canada.

The new branch, initially, will operate as a sub-agency to the Charlottetown branch.

The announcement was made at a press conference held in connection with the meeting of the bank's Board of Directors.

Speaking of the economy of the Atlantic region Mr. McLaughlin said that there was "a resurgence of optimism in the Maritimes."

The bank president continued, "ways and means are being found to overcome the natural geographic fact you (the Maritimes) are so far away from the main marked area."

Mr. McLaughlin reported that he liked the report of the Royal Commission on Banking and Currency, and that he was expecting a revised Bank Act within a few weeks. He hoped that the revision of the Bank Act will include a provision for the banks to accept mortgage security and eliminate the six per cent ceiling on loans.

If this comes to pass, he stated, the big benefactors will be the savers, as there are four times as many savers as there are borrowers.
