

Big Four Football To Be Televised

OTTAWA (CP)—The Big Four Football Union and the CBC Wednesday reached a "mutually-satisfactory" agreement for the televising of league and playoff games next autumn.

A statement issued by Sam Berger, chairman of the Big Four TV committee and E. L. Bushnell, CBC vice-president, said: "A mutually-satisfactory agreement was reached today between the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union and the CBC whereby the 1959 Big Four league and playoff games will be televised, subject to local blackout restrictions."

Mr. Berger, who announced the agreement on behalf of the league and Mr. Bushnell, declined to disclose the financial terms.

Asked whether the Big Four had come down from its asking price of $350,000 for the television rights, Mr. Berger replied: "Some—also they came up."

RECORD RUN BRINGS SMILES

Donald Campbell, right, his wife, Mrs. Tonia Bern Campbell, and his boat manager, Leo Villa, are all smiles after Campbell set a new world water speed record of 260.35 miles an hour in his jet-powered Bluebird at Coniston, England. Campbell also gets a congratulatory handshake from Villa. Campbell's new mark—his sixth in just over three years—easily beat his old record of 248.62 miles per hour set on Lake Coniston last November. (AP Wirephoto)

Soccer Traditionalists Are Given A Real Boost

LONDON (CP) — Nottingham Forest's 10-man victory in the Football Association Cup Final has given a big boost to the soccer traditionalists who battle against permitting substitutes for injured players.

The argument is a hardy perennial which usually hits its peak around cup final time. The departure of Forest's Roy Dwight with a broken leg after 3 minutes of the Nottingham-Luton contest marks the sixth time since 1952 that Wembley Stadium has seen a player incapacitated. English soccer bars substitution in league and cup matches, permitting them only in exhibition games by prior agreement of the competing teams.

The pro-substitute faction argues that, apart from Forest's numerical disadvantage, Dwight's injury forced the winners on to defensive after they had built up a 2-0 lead with brilliant attacking football. As an exhibition of soccer skill, the final was ruined, they say.

The no-substitute group replies that Forest was so much stronger than Luton that the reduction made the two teams about equal. It made for a more dramatic game and kept everyone on edge, wondering if the Foresters could hold out to the end. They did, winning 2-1.

This was only the second time, in the six injury-marred finals, in which the crippled team won. In 1956, Manchester City's goalie Bert Trautman broke his neck 15 minutes from the end, but remained on the field to protect his team's 3-1 lead.

Manchester United was less fortunate in 1957 when goalkeeper Ray Wood broke a cheek bone in the sixth minute, with no score. He did not return and short handed United, with halfback playing in goal went down 2-1 to Aston Villa.

"This is not being soft, it is being reasonable."
