NEW TWIST
 MONCTON, N. B. —(CP)— Residents complained that a magazine salesman here was claiming a connection with the Moncton Flying Club, explaining that he was "working his way through flying school". The club said it had no hook-up with any magazine offering such a plan.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. T. W. DICKSON

Hundreds of citizens paid final tribute to Thomas W. Dickson as funeral services were held on Wednesday, Dec. 20th from his late residence in Sydney. The service was conducted by his Minister, Rev. J. D. Archibald of Sydney, assisted by Rev. J. H. MacCallum of Glace Bay, N.S., formerly of York, P. E. I., attending in a body were members of the Steel Company Traffic and Transportation Department where the deceased was employed for many years. During the war years he was well and favorably known in local shipping circles as he was the Shipping Master for the port of Sydney. Interment was in the family plot in Louisburg, N. S. The many floral tributes, cards, letters and telegrams testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held throughout the province. Death came with startling suddenness to Mr. Dickson from a heart attack. He had only been sick one week. He was in his seventieth (70th) year and his sudden passing was a great shock to a host of friends, acquaintances and associates throughout the Maritimes. A kindly amiable man, the late Mr. Dickson was beloved by all who knew him. He centered his entire love and affection on his home and family to whom sympathy is extended in their sad bereavement. He was a faithful member of Trinity United Church in Sydney and was active in the affairs of the congregation. Besides his widow he is survived by three daughters: (Ethel) Mrs. H. W. Dingwall of South Bar, N.S. and Ina and Elaine at home and one son, Rev. Warren G. Dickson of O'Leary, P.E.I. and one sister, Mrs. Emily Walsh of Bridgetown, N.S. One son Leroy died in infancy. "Well done, good and faithful servant."

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. J. M. GREENAN

Death came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Greenan for the first time on November 8, 1950, when Mrs. Greenan passed away after an illness of almost a month. Mrs. Greenan was formerly Catherine McQuaid and was born in Kelly's Cross 73 years ago. On November 19, 1912, she married James M. Greenan and came to Kinkora where she soon became a valued and esteemed member of the community. Seven children completed the happy group, and their home became a true Christian family where every joy and sorrow was sanctified by prayer with a spirit of cheerfulness and contentment. Although Mrs. Greenan's greatest devotedness centered in her home, she gladly shared her happiness with others, and in the community and parish activities, in sickness or in need, on occasions of gladness or of sorrow, she gave her time and efforts with a sincerity and whole heartedness that will long be remembered by those who associated with her. In 1949 she suffered a stroke but appeared to recover almost entirely by that time. However, while visiting her daughter Margaret, in October, she became ill again and a few weeks after another stroke she died peacefully and prayerfully on November 8. During her illness she was visited daily by her pastor, Rev. Francis McQuaid, who administered to her the last Sacraments of the church. Of her brothers and sisters, there are surviving one sister, Mrs. C. Bradley, St. Teresa's, and one brother Ephraim McQuaid, Regina. Bereaved of a devoted wife and awaiting eternal union in Heaven is her husband James M. Greenan, and mourning the loss of their mother's love are her six daughters: Mary, at home; Margaret, Mrs. George McMahon, Kinkora; Eileen, Mrs. Spencer Hughes, Emerald; Teresa, Mrs. John Murray, Kitchener, Ontario; Annie, Mrs. William Moyses, Montreal; and Josephine, R.N., Mrs. John B. McIntyre, Montreal, and one son, P. J. at home. Nine grandchildren, too, will miss affectionate attention and the devoted interest of "Grandma Greenan." The funeral was held on Friday, Nov. 10, to St. Malachy's Church, Kinkora, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Francis McQuaid, who also conducted the services at the grave. The pall bearers were John M. Murphy, Joseph Trainor, Clair Greenan, Leonard McCarville, Gerald MacCarville and Joseph L. Mulligan. Mass Cards, Flowers, Messages of Sympathy and the large concourse of friends who came to offer sympathy to the family and to accompany her to her last resting place gave ample testimony to the esteem in which Mrs. Greenan was held both at home and among a wide circle of friends.

Among The Farmers

Federation Of Agriculture News

Seasonable Hints
 The mild weather and freedom from snow presents a favorable opportunity for work in the wood lot. A woodsman can accomplish a great deal more with no snow to impede his work. Now is the time to provide next year's supply of fuel and lumber for building and repairs. Considerable activity in the cutting of pulp wood is evident and farmers should make sure they are getting top prices for this product. Caution should be exercised to see that good stands of lumber are not unnecessarily depleted in cutting.

Nuffield Foundation Scholarships
 Two young Canadian farmers — one from Alberta and one from Pictou County, Nova Scotia, are the lucky winners who will spend six months studying agriculture on farms in the United Kingdom. The Nova Scotian winner, John MacLean, of Eureka is partner with his father on the family farm near Stellarton, Nova Scotia. MacLean is a graduate of both the Nova Scotia Agriculture College and Macdonald College where he obtained the degree of B. S. A. and also served in the last war as lieutenant. Both he and his father are active in farm organizations. To the four applicants from P. E. I. we hold out hopes for better luck next year.

Egg Prices
 Recently egg prices to the producer dropped as much as .18c in two days with no apparent really good reason. The only explanation that we have heard and it doesn't seem to be a very good one is that wholesalers here were afraid that Ontario and Quebec eggs might move into the Maritimes and catch them with high priced eggs on their hands. Before this could happen, however, some one in the Maritimes would have to bring the eggs in and the question is who and why? We are producing sufficient eggs here for our own requirements and production in Canada is down 20% compared with a year ago.

American Hog Market
 At the recent Dominion Provincial Agricultural conference held in Ottawa, Mr. Gardiner stated that representation had been made from certain quarters to permit freer movement of Canadian pork products into the United States. The Minister stated that in his opinion this could result in lowering of returns to Canadian producers. Apparently it has been decided by the cabinet to permit freer movement of pork products between the two countries. What the result will be is hard to forecast, certainly, the movement of Canadian beef and cattle south of the border had a very beneficial effect on beef prices in this country. We feel that the Canadian market for fat American pork would be quite limited as our consumers have been used to high quality lean pork products.

A Better Pumpkin
 Another pumpkin grower tells us that a farmer mentioned last week had wasted a very valuable part of his large pumpkin and stated that in his own case he had dried the seeds from one and shopped the rest of his barn with them.

Leadership Training Course
 The leadership training course now in progress at the Vocational School is well attended and the young men and women present are availing themselves of a splendid opportunity to widen their horizons and fit themselves for active participation as leaders in their own communities.
