St. John Letter.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE—MISS SCOTT—THE CITY—ROM—SOME PICTURES.

In this city preparations are nearly completed for the celebration of the Queen's Jubilee on a magnificent scale. On Sunday, June 19, commemorative services will be held in all the churches of the city. On Monday there will be a grand regatta in the harbor; the children of the public schools will march through the streets in procession, and the bands will play on the public squares. In the evening Sir Leonard Tilley and other distinguished gentlemen will speak in the Exhibition Building; and on Wednesday there will be a grand Polymorphian parade, a memorial service in Trinity Church; a military display, and a display of fireworks in the evening. It was expected that Claire Scott would be here, but in this instance Charlottetown has got ahead of St. John. I don't wonder that Claire Scott loves Charlottetown and its surroundings. Many years ago, I loved to follow its streets away out into the country—to hear the birds singing, to see the trees blossoming and the fields growing verdant. I think Miss Scott will have a great ovation. I have seen almost every actor and actress of note that has ever played in America. I have seen them in Portland, and Boston, and New York, and Philadelphia, and Baltimore, and Washington, and Richmond, and Norfolk, and Raleigh, and Charlotte, and Mobile, and New Orleans, and Vicksburg, and St. Louis, and Chicago, and Pittsburg, and Albany,—and, without prejudice, I am free to own that Miss Scott promises (for she is young) to excel them all. I had read of Lucretia Borgia, but I never saw her till I saw Miss Scott; I had heard of Leah, but I knew nothing of her till Miss Scott came upon the stage. And best of all, Miss Scott, as Miss Scott, with her pure and noble soul, is more to be honored than in any of her impersonations.

They tell you that St. John is ruined by the sounderism of some aliens who have been plundering the city through the Maritime Bank. I tell you that St. John was never more hopeful, notwithstanding its multitudinous disasters, than it is to-day. As I look from my window I see that more buildings are in process of erection than have been at any time before since 1877-78, and about the wharves and wholesale houses there is a marvellous activity. I see, too, great plots of ground that have remained vacant since the terrible fire, and where the ashes of happy homes snouldered for many days, the grass grows green, and violets and dandelions and wild flowers of many kinds are abloom. Nature is very kind to hide her scars, and I sometimes think that in the grave, that is intended except by God, there is the sweetest rest.

In Portland rum is rampant, though the Scott Act should have gone into effect on the first of May, and the City government has to acknowledge itself the most sounderly or weakly that the Creator ever allowed to exist.

In my mention of the Jubilee celebration, I omitted to say that J. G. Miles, A. R. C. A. is to give an exhibition of his paintings, including those shown at London and Antwerp, as well as those of several of his pupils and a number of pictures loaned for the occasion by his friends. St. John has some liberal patrons of the fine arts, among whom are W. P. Dole, Comd. De-Bury, Miss Wilson, Morris Robinson and G. Ludlow Robinson. Thomas Furlong has the largest private collection of paintings in St. John, and he has an extensive library that contains many rare and valuable books. He came to this city about fifty years ago and established himself in a wine and spirit business, and now, through his connections in Spain, Portugal, France and Germany, stands at the head of the best and most favorably known house in his line in the Dominion.

St. John, June 8.

A Minister's Advice.

It is said that Bishop Fowler, of the Methodist Church, once gave some advice to a conference congregation in this fashion:—"Don't say anything against the man who is to come after you. A minister who didn't bear this in mind was asked by his parishioners what kind of a man his successor was. 'Oh, brother— is a good man, but—' 'But what? If there is anything wrong that is just what we want to know. Now tell us what's the matter.' 'Well, brother— is a good man, but the fact is, brethren, he parts his hair in the middle.' 'We won't have him. We don't want a dude. Conference mustn't send him.' The appointed Sunday arrived, and with it the dude minister. As he walked up the aisle a broad grin overspread the faces in the rear seats. By the time he reached the pulpit the congregation broke out into a roar of laughter. The minister was bald."

Mimicgash Notes.

Lobster fishing is rather on the slack side so far this season, but I think we can claim to be ahead of anything that has appeared in any Island paper up to date.

Georgetown and Murray Harbor may take a back seat, as several of the fishermen of this place landed lobsters from their traps on the 14th of May.

As stated in the last WEEKLY EXAMINER, Messrs. Clarke & Robblee may have shipped one hundred and fifty cases of lobsters, but I rather doubt if they were all of their own packing, for I do not think that any factory around here had packed that number at that time.

The fishermen around Mimicgash Run are very anxious to know when the lights are to be started here, and are rather surprised that the energetic agent of Marine and Fisheries has not attended to the matter before now. They are very much needed, as it is dangerous for our hardy fishermen to make their harbor of a dark night with no friendly light to guide them.

The herring fishing has been very good here, both in quantity and quality.

Quite a number are making preparations for the mackerel fishing, they are looking forward to a good summer in that line, and I hope they will not be disappointed.

Farming is very backward here, owing to the cold and wet weather. The soil is of a heavy nature, and a spring like this retards farming operations very much.

Napoleon III. and His Family.

The following curious letter from the late Emperor of the French to his uncle, Joseph Bonaparte, was sold the other day at the Hotel Drouot, in Paris, for the trifling sum of £2—

LORENT, Nov. 15, 1836.

MY DEAR UNCLE.—You will no doubt have learned with surprise of my attempt at Strasburg. When one does not succeed one's intentions are always misrepresented; one is sure to be blamed and calumniated even by one's own relatives. Therefore I shall endeavor to-day to expiate myself in your eyes. I leave to-morrow for America, and shall be greatly obliged if you will send me some letters of recommendation for Philadelphia and New York. In quitting Europe, perhaps forever, I feel the deepest sorrow when I think that even in my own family I shall find nobody to pity my fate. Good-bye, my dear uncle, and never doubt my sentiments toward yourself.

Your tender nephew,
NAPOLEON LOUIS BONAPARTE.

It would be interesting to know how this letter found its way to the public auction mart.—Fall Mail Gazette.

Conclusions About Potatoes.

After many years of practical experience Edmund Hersey, a well-known Massachusetts cultivator, has arrived at the following conclusions:

1. Whole potatoes will produce a crop a week or ten days earlier than those which are divided.
2. Small, whole potatoes will produce results as good, if not better, than large ones.
3. The seed end is the better one to plant, because it starts with more vigor and produces more and larger potatoes.
4. A large piece is better, on ordinary soil, than small pieces or eyes.
5. Potatoes with sprouts long enough to break off in planting are not so good as those with eyes advanced just enough to indicate vigor.
6. The form cannot, as a rule, be changed by planting any particular form.
7. Two distinct varieties won't mix in the same hill.
8. The more we investigate the scab the less we know about it.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Samples bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada.

Lime Juice.

A large quantity of lime juice comes from Trinidad. A tree yields on an average about ten gallons of juice. The limes are allowed to drop off and then passed first through the cutter, which rips them open, and next through rollers and a press to separate the juice. The juice is then exported either as it is or condensed by boiling. A barrel of limes yields seven gallons of juice. The cost of producing lime juice, including packages, should not exceed sixpence per gallon. The essential oil of limes is extracted from the rind before crushing by grating on rasps with the hands. The oil thus extracted is called hand-made oil. A hundred gallons of juice will yield by distillation about three quarts of the essential oil.

WASHING MADE EASY.—I have on exhibition in my shop window a washing machine that does away with the old and laborious way of washing clothes; you can sit in your easy chair and rest while your washing is going on. It has been tried and proved genuine. Please call and examine this great Washer and Bleacher. Purchase one and thereby save labor and expense. They are sold for $2.00 each. G. G.
