

On the day of Pentecost when the apostles were gathered together in one place, the Holy Spirit gave them the gift of speaking in foreign tongues. Some observers, not understanding, said they were drunk—Acts 2:1-13.

Peter spoke out and said this was untrue. In the first sermon of the Christian church, he explained that the Holy Spirit had descended, according to prophecy, and that the crucified Christ was resurrected—Acts 2:14-33.

Peter reminded those assembled in Jerusalem that it was they who were responsible for killing the Son of God. The people were "cut to the heart," and asked Peter and the other apostles what they should do—Acts 2:36-47.

"Repent and be baptized for the forgiveness of your sins," answered Peter. So that day about three thousand faithful members were added to the newly formed Christian church—Acts 2:38-47.

CHRIST'S RESURRECTION

Holy Spirit Inspired Sermon

By N. SPEER JONES
The setting of the first part of today's lesson is Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost, Pentecost was a Jewish harvest festival observed on the 50th day from the second day of the Passover. The word "Pentecost" comes from the Greek pentekoste, meaning fiftieth.

As the apostles were all together "in one place," the Holy Spirit gave them the gift of speaking in other tongues. This attracted a multitude, many of whom were foreigners who recognized their native languages being used by the apostles. When so moved, saying they were drunk, Peter gave rebuttal, beginning his great Pentecost sermon assigned for today's lesson.

The words spoken by Joel, the prophet, which Peter refers to, do not appear to be his initial reference to continuing worship at the temple (verse 46) is quite natural, for the spirit being poured out on all people came gradually and many years later.

We come now to the portion of Paul's letter to the Corinthians which inspired the inclusion of the portion of Acts assigned. It concerns the "speaking with tongues." As we saw, in Acts the tongues (or languages) used by the apostles were understood by various foreigners in the assembly.

In 1 Corinthians, however, it would seem that the tongues spoken of were not understood by others, except a chosen few with the gift called interpretation.

Paul's major point is that while this gift of speaking with tongues is spectacular, it is not nearly so important as the gift of prophecy, which in the early Church meant revealing God's meaning, or inspired teaching and exhorting.

WHICH HAND will you choose?

This is the Hand of Justice. It reproveth those people who have strayed from the path of truth and good living. Honest men and righteous men have chosen another hand; one which is not pictured here, for they never need the reproof of Justice, for they have chosen the Hand of God.

Each man is free to decide which hand will lead him. Some never see the Hand of God, and their way through life is barren and pointless.

But with the help of the Church, you can find the right path. By attending its services and joining in its work, your way through life can be made straight and happy. Take the Hand of God, and you need never fear stern Justice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH. The Church is the greatest force on earth for it is a fellowship of believers and good citizenship. It is the only source of spiritual life. Without it, man cannot survive. There are many who are lost and need the Church. There are many who are lost and need the Church. There are many who are lost and need the Church.

Holiness James And Inspires Us

By CARDINAL MCGIGAN... far beyond what we might think. It is not a matter of the end one discovers that the difference between the holy and the secular is not the latter aren't sufficiently serious but that they aren't sufficiently holy.

Who are so good too, so dedicated, so full of zeal? And yet somehow they do strike one as being holy. There is some essential quality lacking, some divine spark missing.

One does come across this difference and I think it is worth trying to discover what the mysterious thing is that makes the difference and I think it is worth trying to discover what the mysterious thing is that makes the difference.

BLACK SHEEP... In other words we are foreigners. But in another sense we cannot be because these people will not let us be. These are our brothers and sisters; we make the black sheep of the family and these others, the strong and holy ones, will help us.
