New Poultry Experiment Under Way At Gov't Farm

A new poultry experiment at the Dominion Experimental Station designed for the selection and breeding of high quality laying hens will get under way next week. It was learned yesterday from Mr. B. Frank Tinney, Assistant to the Superintendent in Poultry. The first batch of about 250 hens will be put into the new round hen house next Tuesday. Similar sized batches will be placed in the house at weekly intervals until about 1200 layers have been placed in the quarters. The hens will be put into the house at 180 days of age and will be taken out at 600 days. This gives them 340 laying days and leaves 26 days in each year for cleaning up purposes in preparation for the following year's experiments. Construction of the round hen house is practically completed. It is equipped with automatic waterers and automatic feeders. As far as it is known these will be the first automatic feeders in use in the Province.

The automatic feeders carry the feed to every pen in the building and make a complete round in about 15 minutes. The hens will be fed an all-mash ration. Steel trap nests have been installed in the building. The trap nests are made for record purposes. As soon as the hen enters the next a latch falls behind her so that she cannot get out until the egg is collected and marked. The birds will have at least 13 hours of light each day. Lights will be used from seven in the morning until eight in the evening with the minimum light intensity being 60 watts per 100 square feet. This practise is relatively new here. There are no roosts in the building. This practise has been used by commercial houses in the United States. The new building, 72 feet in diameter, has approximately 4,000 feet of useful pen space. Groups of visitors have been viewing the building during the past month and after the experiment gets into operation it is expected that many more will visit the building. The entire laying flock will consist of White Leghorns but different strains will be used. No culling will be permitted so that during the laying season the weak unsatisfactory strains may be located and eliminated.

Island Guernsey Breeders Ass'n Annual Meeting

Mr. Willard Proude of Kingston was elected President of the Prince Edward Island Guernsey Breeders Association at the annual meeting of the association held on Monday night. Mr. Harry Currie of Winsloe was elected vice-president and M. J. R. Carr of Central Royalty was re-elected secretary. Following are the directors: Messrs. Ernest Gyles, Milton; Harold Leard, Kelyin Grove; and Guy Rodd, Brackley. The purchase of a second high class sire was discussed by the members. The association recently bought Kingfield Nimbus, a nine months old bull but turned down another sire they were thinking about purchasing. They decided another sire would have to be obtained and it was decided to contact some of the foremost Ontario Guernsey men about buying the animal. The Association will donate prizes for the best Guernsey females shown at the Provincial Exhibition this year. These prizes will be $5.00 for the best, $3.00 for the second and $2.00 for the third.

As the Swedish cutter approached, six Poles left the minesweeper, H.G. 11—fitted out for an ocean survey—headed for port in a lifeboat, Skotte said. He motioned them back to the ship.

The crew told him the officers had all been locked below, later he caught a glimpse through a porthole of "an unhappy man" in a captain's uniform.

Stormed Quarter-Deck Police mounted guard over the H.G. 11, allowing no one to board her, but a Polish officer was heard to say in broken German that the crew stormed the quarter-deck early this morning.

They had locked up the officers before they could reach their weapons, the officer said.

The Swedish Foreign Ministry later announced "The mutiny does not concern us until the Polish Government requests the extradition of the men."

Two weeks ago, three Lithuanian fishermen on a Russian trawler over-powered their officers and brought the ship to Sweden. They were allowed to stay, though the trawler and officers went back to Lithuania.

Valley's Apple Output Down

KENTVILLE, N.S., Aug. 2 — (CP) — Annapolis Valley apple orchards will produce only about 500,000 barrels of fruit this season even if weather conditions remain favorable, a survey indicated today. That figure is a decline of more than 1,000,000 barrels from the 1936-1941 average, and about 700,000 barrels short of the 1941-50 average. Growers and horticulture experts said the predicted yield

Plans For Filming Sea Trout Fishing

Plans for making a film of sea trout fishing and catching mackerel with a fly in Prince Edward Island have been set ahead another two weeks when it should result in a better idea, it was disclosed here last night by Mr. George V. Fraser, director of the Provincial Government's tourist and information branch. Mr. F. R. Sayer of the Canadian National Railways public relations branch in Moncton contacted Mr. Fraser some time ago about plans for making the color film of the Island's fishing. Arrangements were made to send a camera man to Charlottetown to make the picture at the expense of the Canadian National Railways.

Mr. H. B. Read of Moncton arrived in the Province Tuesday with equipment to do the job. Accompanied by M. Fraser he met today with P. D. Murnaghan, deputy minister, J. A. Nodd, fish and game inspector, and Spurgeon Jenkins, game officer of the Department of Industry and National Resources. After the matter was fully discussed it was felt the taking of the film should be postponed until about August 18 when conditions would be more favourable. The film will be used by the C. N. R. in its future publicity program.

Quebec House To Meet Nov. 7

QUEBEC, Aug. 2 — (CP) — The Quebec Legislature will start Nov. 7 what probably will be its last session before general elections expected in 1962. The date of the session was announced today by Premier Duplessis who said its first business will be legislation for pensions for Quebecers, aged 65 to 69. The Premier added that a law to improve the province's new rent control organization may also come before the two Houses of the Provincial Parliament. Such rent control amendments will depend on the experience of government personnel now deciding rental disagreements between landlord and tenants.

Premier Duplessis did not mention elections at the special press conference at which he gave out news of the session — fourth of the 23rd Legislature. Recently, he declared publicly there will be no Quebec general elections this year, third year of the government's official five-year term. In the past, he has said that administrations that wait the full five years before going before the people are afraid of elections.

Despite some losses of working time on the Victoria Day holiday, change in the industrial distribution of employees and reduced working hours in some industries, weekly earnings were generally higher.

They amounted to $49.24 at June 1, compared with $49.17 at May 1, and $44.51 at June 1, 1950. The average weekly earnings in manufacturing were $50.83 at June 1, $50.84 at May 1 and $45.82 at June 1, 1950.

would be the lowest in more than 40 years. Reasons for the small crop were uncertain market conditions and the fact that some 700,000 old trees and trees bearing unprofitable varieties have been destroyed. New plantings made 10 years ago are beginning to bear but it will be some time before the orchards reach full strength.

Meanwhile, shippers are considering organization of a new sales agency to stabilize marketing.

Fish Landings And Value Down During June

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 — (CP) — Landings and landed value of sea fish in Canada, excluding Newfoundland, both declined more than 10 per cent during June from the corresponding month a year ago. The Bureau of Statistics reported today that landings dropped 10.8 per cent amounting to 119,524,000 pounds, compared with 130,651,000 in June, 1950, and the landed value decreased 10.2 per cent at $7,337,000 against $8,168,000.

Cumulative landings for the first six months of this year totalled $23,214,000 pounds valued at $24,764,000, compared with $31,583,000 pounds at $24,272,000 in the corresponding period of 1950.

On the Atlantic coast both the catch and landed value were lower, the former amounting to 101,517,000 pounds against 111,924,000, and the latter $9,903,000 against $4,971,000.

There were declines both in volume and value in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and in value in Prince Edward Island. Compared with June, 1950, the catch in Quebec was greater, the mackerel, cod, salmon and lobster fisheries showing the largest increases in value.

Pacific Coast landings of all species aggregated 15,007,000 pounds with a value of $2,434,000 compared with 18,727,000 pounds at $3,197,000 in June, 1950.

Evidence Heard As Belle River Inquest Opens

The inquest into the death of Edward McEachern, New Glasgow, N. S., who was killed in a fatal accident at Belle River, Tuesday evening, July 31, was postponed last night to a date when the evidence of those involved and at present in hospital may be heard. The hearing last night was held at Belle River before D. J. Riley, Justice of the Peace, with Mr. J. P. Nicholson as crown prosecutor.

The first witness was Lloyd Murdoch, New Haven Connecticut, the driver of the Connecticut car. He stated that he had come to the island on July 22. On the day of the accident he took his mother and cousin, Miss Jean Nicholson, to Orwell, and later in the evening was driving Miss Nicholson to her grandfather's home in Wood Islands. He was proceeding slowly along the main highway when he arrived at the intersection at Alex Beaton's house. He saw the car coming towards him and turned his wheels to the right in an attempt to avoid the accident. The Nova Scotia car struck his car on the left front wheel and his car crossed the ditch into the field. He awakened lying on the ground and in a dazed condition. Miss Nicholson was lying on the ground, and he learned later that someone had removed her from the car. He went over to the other car, which was also in the field, and saw two men lying about the ground and one walking about. He did not know who had treated him and Miss Nicholson, and informed him that the man lying on the road was dead. Miss Nicholson and Mr. Fennell were taken to an adjacent farm house, where they were treated. The ambulance and police arrived, and Miss Nicholson and the other injured were taken to the hospital.

He had no idea how fast the Nova Scotia car was travelling, and could not recall any traffic on the road preceding the car. He said that the road was fairly rough, but not unusual. Donald Mills, Charlottetown, was the next witness. He said he had been in Stellarton that day and had returned on the last crossing. He was a passenger in a car driven by Mr. Arnold MacNamara of Summerside. He stated that they had taken the detour road which had been designated, since the main road was under construction. A Nova Scotia car was in front of them and remained in front until they arrived at the scene of the accident. Another Nova Scotia car, containing three men, passed the car in which he was driving and also the first Nova Scotia car. Shortly after it had passed both cars, he heard the crash, and realized there was an accident. The Nova Scotia car and his car stopped at the scene and rendered all possible assistance, but the Nova Scotia car had not remained long.

He stated that on the right side of the road a house was located which prevented a clear view of the road for some distance. He also said that there was no indication that the car was approaching an intersection, since there were no signs present. He found Mr. Murdoch stumbling around in a dazed condition, and rendered assistance. He also helped to remove the canvas roof of the Nova Scotia car to remove the two injured men who were inside, and also Miss Nicholson from the Connecticut car. He was present when the ambulance and the police arrived about dusk. He re-emphasized the fact that he saw nothing which indicated the approach of an intersection.

Saw Accident

Betty Bell, Belle River, stated that she was employed at the store owned by Mr. Alex Beaton. She was standing at the window at the time the accident occurred. She saw the car coming from the main road, and suddenly another car shot out from the detour road, and crashed into the first car. She said that there were no signs indicating an intersection at that point. She had no idea how fast the Nova Scotia car was travelling. She said the moment of collision, and the Nova Scotia car had rolled to its side after the collision. She went to call the police, but the line was busy, and returned to the store. A lady entered, and placed the phone call for the doctor. She stated that the Connecticut car was proceeding along the main road slowly, but was unable to see the Nova Scotia car until the time of the collision.

Dr. H. P. Stewart, Eldon, stated that he had received a call about 7 P.M., and had gone to the scene of the accident. He found two men lying on the road, and treated them for injuries and shock. He also treated the two others were in a nearby farm house, and he also treated the children of the ambulance when they were removed to the hospital.

He also read the report of the autopsy on the body of Edward MacEachern which showed that the third vertebra had been fractured, and that the spinal cord had been injured. Donald Mills was then recalled, and he stated that he did not know the occupant of the first Nova Scotia car but that it contained five girls, and was of a dark color. He did not know the number of the car, and was unable to provide any further description. Const. Dave Gutteridge, R.C.M.P., Montague Detachment, stated that he had received a call about Belle River, and proceeded to the scene. The two cars were in the field adjacent to the road, one on four wheels, the other lying on its side. Two men were lying on the ground near the Nova Scotia car, one was dead, the other was James MacEachern, the driver. He later learned that the other were at the home of D. J. Riley. One ambulance arrived, and they sent for another, and had the hearse stand by.

Skid Marks Obliterated

He said that the skid marks had been obliterated by the foot prints of those who assembled, and actual measurements could not be taken. Consts. Johnston and Walker, Charlottetown, arrived, and photos and measurements were taken. The two cars were later examined. The tires of the Nova Scotia car were all inflated, and the brakes were locked in position, braking the two rear wheels. The rods to the two front wheels were not present. The tires of the Connecticut car were all inflated, except the left front which was struck in the accident. The axle was broken, and the frame was out of line. The impact had occurred on the left front wheel and engine section. He said that there were no signs at the intersection at the time of the accident.

He had been unable to acquire the number or description of the Nova Scotia car which had arrived first on the scene of the accident. He further stated that visibility at the intersection was somewhat impaired because of the presence of a house at the corner, and only the last 75 feet were clear.

Const. Gordon Humphrey said that he had examined the brakes on the Connecticut car, and found the brakes in perfect condition. The inquest was then adjourned until further evidence could be obtained from those injured in the accident.

consciences tricked two Summerside youths to giving themselves away yesterday when they saw the police patrol approaching. The boys carrying bundles were walking along a street and when they saw the patrol they dropped the bundles and ran. Sgt. Schurman and Cst. Matheson who were on a routine patrol became interested at this action and investigated. It developed that the bundles contained tin bags which had been stolen from a warehouse. Apparently second hand jobs bring good prices and police estimate that about $25 worth of bags were taken, some of which had been sold. One of the youths will appear in police court. The other is younger and will come up in juvenile court. — S

Construction Contracts In Canada Up

TORONTO, Aug. 2 — (CP) — Construction contracts in Canada in July totalled $326,822,900, an increase of $175,783,100 over the figures for July last year. The total for seven months, says MacLean Building Reports Ltd., now is $1,553,128,700, compared with $768,005,300 for the same period of 1950.

July's gain was accounted for by increases in the west and the Maritimes, with British Columbia's aluminum project accounting for $160,000,000 and steel-plant expansion at Sydney, N. S., for $16,000,000. The Maritimes had small gains also in residential and commercial construction. Quebec and Ontario had over-all losses. Contracts for residential construction in the whole country were down $30,579,500 from last July at $43,802,800; commercial was up $5,742,700 at $47,572,500; industrial up $45,107,300 at $52,116,400; and engineering up $153,312,400 at $162,531,500. By regions the two July compared as follows, with July last year in brackets: Maritime (including Newfoundland) $33,139,800 ($7,420,700); Quebec $34,523,400 ($53,477,400); Ontario $60,075,100 ($66,396,300); West 209,084,600 (23,745,400). Big July jobs in addition to the aluminum and steel expansions, including a $16,000,000 warehouse and dock for a lumber plant at Northumberland Channel, B. C., an extension to Polymer Corporation's synthetic rubber plant at Sarnia, Ont., $9,000,000; a bridge at Valleyfield, Que., $4,000,000; runway at Regina, Airport $1,000,000; and an army warehouse at Edmonton, more than $1,000,000.
