

BRISTOL

The six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacKinnon died suddenly on Saturday, Jan. 2. This is the second time in one week the funeral coach has left the door of this home in the village. Just a week ago Mrs. MacKinnon's mother, Mrs. Matilda Eldershaw was buried from this home, bringing to three the number of funerals to the Church of the Little Flower since Christmas.

Last week we spoke of the two old-time fiddlers of 50 years ago who are still around. Since then we have been informed of two others who are still with us rearing to go and who were top fiddlers half a century ago. They are Roddie McAdam and Joe Roach. Here's hoping we can get the four of them into a battle of music this winter. Joe is also a noted step dancer despite his years.

Mrs. James A. O'Brien, "Addie" to everyone, who is very spry despite her years, now resides at the Sacred Heart Home. She plans to spend the summer in the village; she feels so young and smart. She is the last living soul of a large family.

How is your memory? It will be 50 years next month (Feb. 15th) since Gerald Barry and his brother, Ed, found James Angus MacDonald (Jimmy Angus), beaten and frozen on a back farm road here on a cold Sunday morning. What happened to him still remains a mystery. His daughter still resides in the U.S.A.

An old-time, back here for Christmas was no other than Mike Sinnott, to visit with his brother Joe and Mrs. Sinnott, on the old homestead. The younger class won't remember Mike Sinnott, as he left here years and years ago. His tales of boyhood days around Bristol, brought back many memories to the oldsters well along in life. With his family grown and gone, he tells us he resides alone in a lonely life such as he never knew before his wife died years ago.

Lenius Rossiter, Pete Clarkin, and Mrs. Margaret Bradley, have returned home from a trip to Boston, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Clarkin's sister's husband. His sister is well remembered here, she was Teresa Clarkin. A sister of the late Mrs. Ernest Rossiter, many will recall how she was, severely injured while at work many years ago while apprehending a no-paying customer in her place of business. Mrs. Bradley was Margaret Ranahan in single life and her old home is here. They all report a very nice trip with several stop-overs along the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb McDermott, have returned home from a Christmas trip to Boston, where they spent the holidays with Mrs. McDermott's several sisters and brothers. They spent most of the time with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hooper, as Mr. Hooper is not in good health at present. Some old trouble from a severe burning he received in an explosion in the old Morell rink here many years ago has flared up.

BURTON

Mr. and Mrs. Redmond Reilly, Cape Wolfe are spending some holidays in Toronto, Ont., with their son Basil.

Sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved wife and family of the late Mr. Chester Reid, Campbellton.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Inez Howard, Glengarry during the Yuletide holidays were members of her family, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Howard of Shawinigan, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gillis, their children, Michael, and Kelly and Beverly and Wayne Howard of Montreal, Elaine, student at S.D.U., Charlottetown; also her sister, Francis Butler of Toronto, Ont.

The beautiful Nativity scene which was erected on the grounds of St. Marks Church, Lot 7, was a project of the newly organized Youth Club of the parish. The figures of plywood were constructed by men of the parish. Painting was done by members of the Youth Club under the supervision of Leland Currie assisted by Frankie MacGregor. A flood light illuminated the scene at night.

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Ida Mae Dalton, Burton who celebrated her 82nd birthday on Jan. 6th. Despite this advanced age "Aunt Ida Mae" as she is known to many enjoys good health and is keenly interested in all community affairs. Her favourite pastime is knitting and watching T.V. All wish her many more happy returns of the day.
