

F. O. GORDON H. AND MRS. JENKINS

Young Couple Pledge Vows In A Beautiful Ceremony

Grace Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty fall wedding when Elaine Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Llewellyn, Halifax, was united in marriage to Flying Officer Gordon Hamilton Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkins, Millview, Prince Edward Island.

Rev. Ralph Hobson performed the ceremony. Mrs. Ralph Hobson was organist and Mrs. Jack Burgess, soloist. The church was decorated at each window with a basket of sprayed cherry red pine and white birches with lighting effect. Tall baskets of yellow, white and bronze mums decorated the front of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess style floor length white velvet dress trimmed with lace, with square lace yoke, long sleeves tapering over the wrist and also trimmed with lace. Her head-dress was a pearl and sequin tiara, which held her floor length scalloped veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of red and white roses.

Miss Elizabeth Croucher was maid of honor, and Miss Ruth MacSweeney, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Miss Edna Webb junior bridesmaid (also cousin of the bride). They wore floor length gowns of cherry red velvet, fashioned with short sleeves and a low neckline. They wore elbow length white gloves, white feathered hats, and carried nosegays of white carnations flecked with red.

Connie Isnor, flower girl, wore a red velvet dress with three tier full skirt worn over a hooded crinoline. The square neckline was trimmed with white baby lace which matched the lace trim on the short puffed sleeves. Her white nylon headpiece was trimmed with three rosettes of red velvet and she carried a basket of red and white roses.

Wendell Jenkins, brother of the groom was best man and the usherers were Wayne Rafuse and Patrick Foran.

The mother of the bride wore a peacock blue velvet dress with three quarter length sleeves and square neckline. She wore a white velour hat trimmed with white feathers and a corsage of pink roses. The mother of the groom wore a brown crepe dress with satin yoke and matching jacket, a pink hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

A reception was held in St. Mathias Church Hall for over 100 guests, a three tier wedding cake centered the bridal table, decorated with lighted candles. George Goodwin, announced the guests and Eric Llewellyn, Lloyd Jenkins were in charge of the guest book. Harris Webb, uncle of the bride proposed the toast to the bride, Wayne Rafuse proposed the toast to the bridesmaids. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mutch, Cherry Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mutch, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tweedy, Earncliffe; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sanderson, Millview; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jenkins, Frenchfort; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dalziel, Charlottetown.

The groom attended Prince of Wales College and Mount Allison University and is a 1957 graduate of the Nova Scotia Technical College in Civil Engineering. On their return from a motor trip to Boston the couple will reside in Greenwood.

For travelling the bride wore an emerald green jersey sheath dress trimmed with lapard skin, a white model hat, brown accessories and carried a brown muskrat jacket. Her corsage was white roses.

"Who's Who" Will Honor An Island Boy At B. U.

Friends of Don MacLeod will be interested to know that he is one of 56 senior students at Boston University recommended and accepted for recognition in the 1957-58 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Any senior or graduate student attending a four-year degree-granting college is eligible and is awarded a certificate at graduation.

The students recognized in this publication each year are nominated from approximately 700 colleges and universities. They are chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, campus activities, general service to their school and promise of future usefulness.

A Boston paper carries a very fine photograph of Don MacLeod and several other young men who are hailed as College Sports Stars. They were attending the Malden City Club annual baseball dinner at Hotel Lenox.

Don is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacLeod.

CURVIN - HERRING WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William Curvin were married recently at Murray Harbour. The bride is the former Corinne Lucille Herring, youngest daughter of Mr. and

And Now At Long Last, Has Winter Settled In?

"So God giveth the snow like wool Fair and white and beautiful..." That was this afternoon's gentle fall of it, as it drifted lightly down to the waiting fields and trees. Not in any quantity to be sure. But enough to turn the world about into an enchanting fairyland of white.

In the pools of light from windows and yards, the lawns and roofs and every twig and branch gleam clean and white in its spell. Mack, miniature snowplow working perfectly, and boy-powered, clears away the paths about. "But on this condition" he reminded the family "that everyone uses them. If not, if they as much as step off them, there'll be no more clearing done by me this winter!"

Beyond the rim of light, the valley lies white - spread in the starlight.

"The world looks like a Christmas card now" Granddaughter smiled with the delight of it when she came by in the twilight. "We have been forgetting just how pretty a snowfall could make it."

"It was pretty before" we said. "But not beautiful like this!" she offered.

And not so favorable for the woods' work, which this afternoon led these farmers off to join Rob and Jamie already at the wood-harvest in a growth of spruce up at "the other farm." Du sk

MARY HAWORTH

Variety Is Spice Of Life

Dear Mary Haworth—I am an unmarried woman in my early forties. I am well educated, earning fairly well and am considered not unattractive. So much for background. Now for the problem.

I want to make more social contacts and get into the swim of things and see if I can lead a more fruitful life. I would like very much to have a home and a husband that I could be proud of. As a move in this direction I joined a bowling club.

The first evening I played, I was teamed against the only man in the game. I did passably well and enjoyed it very much.

The second evening, I again played opposite a man — again the only man in the game. He seemed very nice but we had no conversation; he may be married or engaged, I don't know.

HUNTER RIVER W.M.S.

The annual meeting of the auxiliary of the W.M.S. was held on Thursday evening December 5th. at the home of Mrs. J. E. Andrews.

The president, Mrs. Orville Sellar, presided and led the Christmas service of worship taken from the M. M. She was assisted by Mrs. C. Whitlock, Mrs. Cyril Smith, Mrs. Ira Rackham and Mrs. E. MacMillan as leader.

Christmas carols were sung by different groups. Readings were given by Mrs. L.W. Ripley and Mrs. Seaman. Mrs. J. S. MacLeod offered prayer. Mrs. C. R. Moore presented the chapter of the study book, "Education in Japan". Roll call was responded to by 21 members, 3 visitors present, 50 home and 8 hospital calls reported 14 books read.

SCORE SHAMED HER

This is what happened: He got strike after strike, giving him top score. I could get nothing; my score was so low that I was ashamed. There were exclamations during the play: "You were robbed . . . Tough luck . . ." and so on.

Nothing serious in itself, I know, I didn't mind so much the low score; but it illustrates my life so perfectly. I work very hard at anything I go into; but someone else always gets the cake. Do you think I am being silly? Or is there any way I can help myself?

Perhaps you can imagine how it must be to play any game and always be the loser. I will be watching for your answer. P.Z.

FEELS INSECURITY

Dear P. Z. — Perhaps a first step towards a better life is to get rid of the notion that you have to win at games, or be a sensation in a situation, in order to be attractive and good company. Actually it isn't so important to win at games as it is to enjoy the activity for its own sake; and to contribute to making the game enjoyable to others.

This you do by zest, skill, unself-consciousness and unselfishness. Also by what's known as team spirit and a spirit of fun.

As of now, your emotional insecurity, your forlorn outsider feeling, bag-rides you in every social encounter; it seems.

You carry, unconsciously, a tense driving notion that you must prove yourself better or best, in comparison to others, just to get any notice at all.

SPICE OF LIFE

How overcome this, and arrive at comfortable poise? Well, the classic insurance against carrying too much in a given situation — thus registering steely desperation that drives folks off — is to have other resources to draw upon. Other situations that offer possibilities. Other avenues to fulfillment that you are exploring. In that sense variety is the spice of life; it helps you to be lighter, gayer, less emphatic, in trying for success. And "easy does it" in making a hit in social enterprises.

A second step towards a more fruitful experience is to acquire a contributive feeling towards life. Don't dwell on the sensation of needing, aching and seeking more life for yourself. Fulfillment for a woman is ministering to the needs of others — being vitally useful in personal ways. So, what opportunities does your environment offer on that score?

If you are a wage-earner, budget your leisure to include some civic helpfulness on a volunteer basis. You might help with the blood bank or do night driving for the Red Cross. Or serve as a hospital nurse's aide. Or give one afternoon a week to an orphanage — taking children for outings; or leading their games; or reading to them.

Tops on any list of rewarding activities is religious fellowship — joining a church, belonging to the congregation and really entering into its seasonal programs of lectures, educational projects, fund raising ventures, women's prayer-meetings and such.

A frustrated, discouraged, self-pitying woman is like a rusty disused fountain. To make the potentials of her personality come alive, she must become a conduit of the currents of life. She's got to give out. And in proportion as she gives, she will receive. This is a law of life, known as "the law of compensation," M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of this newspaper.

MUSICAL TALENT

Joseph Haydn, the great Austrian composer, was a chorister in Vienna at the age of 12.

BEAUTIFUL BASICS

With the fashion world ready for the new season, even the classics reflect the sartorial high points. And most of us are vitally interested in these basics, the simple but good clothes that make up our routine, day-by-day wardrobe. Here is the midday classic, so popular with career and college girls, smartly presented in cozy underfoot of beautiful colors. Worn underneath is another classic that goes on season after season, year after year — the long - sleeved, well-tailored shirt of fine, white, pima luster cotton.

The Use Of Herbs Is Both Taste And Tradition

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"The use of herbs is fast becoming popular here in the United States," observed the Chef. "At our personal appearances, the ladies always ask many questions about herbs, especially what ones to use with various foods."

"That's a question of both taste and tradition, Chef," I replied. "Specialty shops that sell herbs now have a very good guide for their use. It's an herb chart, made up by Ruth Orpha Harrison. It lists the major foods including fruits, salads, eggs, soups, vegetables, meat, poultry, fish and sea food and suggests the right herbs to use in seasoning them."

ATTRACTION GIFT

"The chart is very attractive, durable, and would decorate any kitchen. It would be a delightful Christmas gift."

"Does this chart give the amount of herbs to use, too, Madame?" asked the Chef.

"No, there's a matter for experimentation."

"Then I suggest starting with small amounts at first, such as a half-teaspoon of any powdered herb," continued the Chef.

"If a dried herb is cooked in the food, as in making a casserole, it should stand 5 minutes in a tablespoon of hot water and then be added with the liquid. This treatment releases the aromatic oils and brings out the full flavor."

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Each individually sealed suppository or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

WIFE PRESERVERS

A bridled rug usually comes apart at the seams first. To mend, use a large darning needle and double thread, insert needle, eye first, through the loops of the braids, alternating between the two braids that have come apart.
